DIED.—In Covington, on Saturday, March 24, 1883, Dozen of Eggs—Age unknown.

A daughter of Mr. J. M. Abney has been dangerously ill this week. She is better this morning.

Some of our subscribers appear to have no variety in their composition—no originality. What we would like to see is "a little change."

Mr. Joyner sent us a fine bunch of celery this week, and Mr. Thos. Cook some beautiful radishes. We salted 'em down. 9,000,000 thanks.

Has the oysterman made a fortune and retired from business? If not, he should be here next week, by all means. The town will be full of lawyers.

The body of a colored man was found in a pond, about fourteen miles from Covington, one day this week. He is supposed to have committed suicide.

Marshal Davis paid us, this week, the sum of $145 95, on account of town licenses, taxes and fines. The corporation has over $200 in the treasury, and is free of debt.

Mr. J. J. Biery has our thanks for some delicious strawberries, the "first of the season" with us. They were firm and well flavored, and unusually large, some of them being three and a half inches in diameter.

Weather prophets are getting fashionable, so we propose to try our hand. We predict that there will be a storm to-morrow. Read the dispatches in the city papers next week, and see if we are not correct.

We learn that a difficulty occurred at Mr. Starling Crawford's store, on Pearl River, last Saturday, between two colored men, in which one received a blow on the head with a hammer, and it is believed he is fatally injured.

The spring fights have opened, and considerable activity has already been manifested. It is most too early in the season to make an estimate of the probable revenue from this source, although the receipts for the past week were $37 50, which is very encouraging.

"Excelsior" sends us two communications, without giving his proper name. There is nothing in either of special interest to the public, or we would publish them with pleasure. Try again, and send us some news items from your part of the parish. That's what we would like to have. The great public maw craves for news.

During Court week, Covington will be visited by citizens from all parts of the parish, and many legal gentlemen from abroad. Let us show them that Covington is the model town of the State. We should treat them well, and our hotels should give them "the best the market affords"—port and beans, codfish, mackerel and oysters. It should be remembered that they are away from home, and naturally expect, as our guests, to receive the best of everything. "No expensin'!
