A Georgia fruit grower has been offered ninety thousand dollars for his peach crop and has refused the offer. He makes from three to five hundred dollars per acre growing peaches. The signs all point to the fact that it won't be long before the farmers will have all the cash money in the country.

Hotel Clerk—"That lawyer stopping with us is the most honest man I ever heard of." Landlord—"Why?" Clerk—"He sits up in a chair and sleeps at night." Landlord—"What's that got to do with it?" Clerk—"He says after his day's work is over he doesn't think he ought to be in bed."—Detroit Free Press.

A suit attacking the validity of the charter of the town of Sildell was heard by Judge Dittmar last Friday. It grew out of the refusal of K. F. Ferrellog & Co. to pay their tax assessed by the town, on the ground that the charter had never been ratified by the people, and was void. Named witnesses testified to the ratification, though the records of the town fail to show it. The case has been taken under advisement.

We think the Governor might find something better to do than appointing inspectors of weights and measures in the country parishes. They are absolutely useless and serve only to levy a tribute on honest merchants. Their functions, if they ever had any, are obsolete and we are glad to see that our intelligent police jury declined to have anything to do with equipping that office in this parish.—Monroe Bulletin.
