Elizabeth Cady Stanton, whose eightieth birthday was recently celebrated, is learning to play on the piano.

The Grand Jury in New Orleans, in their final report, recommended the repeal of the law against the carrying of concealed weapons.

Leap Year is coming; boys, beware! Let not the maidens woo you; Before the year is out, take care, Lest they decide to sue you.

Murphy J. Foster has made a good enough governor for the people of Tangipahoa parish, from resolutions passed at the Democratic mass meeting held in Amite last Saturday.

It is remarked by a statistician that the States which have the largest percentage of woman teachers have also the lowest per cent of illiteracy. The woman is still in the lead.

The New York World sensibly thinks that the negroes have a better opportunity to obtain employment in the south than in any other part of the country. It is doubtless true, as it always has been.

Judge Noise was indicted by the Grand Jury in New Orleans last week, for oppression in office and slander, in the case of District Attorney Butler. The Judge gave bond and is holding Court as usual.

When men of the world see no difference in business methods between church members and sinners, they conclude there is no difference between the men. Who will challenge that judgment.—Texas Baptist Standard.

The following advertisement is posted on a fence up the country. Notis. Wanted to trade a horse for a mule or a mule for a horse; don't make no difference which; the idee is this: I have got a mule and a horse and want two of a kind.—Morgan City Review.

New Orleans papers are advocating the abolition of the law prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons, on the ground that it cannot be fully enforced and therefore is useless. It disarms a law-abiding man, while the hoodlums disregard it, thereby placing the peaceable citizens at the mercy of the murderous class. There is much truth in these observations.

BALLOT REFORM CONFERENCE.

A conference of the friends of ballot reform has been called to meet at Shreveport on December 17, 1895, at 7 p. m. The object of this conference is to endeavor to have the Democratic convention pass a resolution in favor of the ratification of the proposed amendment of article 185 of the constitution, qualifying the suffrage, to which Governor Foster's administration is pledged, and instructing all Democratic committees to print tickets distributed by them, "For the amendment of article 185," and also to commit the party to a thorough revision of our laws for the registration of voters and the enactment of an Australian ballot law, so as to prevent false and fraudulent registration and to secure a free ballot and an honest count of the voters legally qualified under the amended constitution as actually cast.

HATCHED.

The probable combine between the republicans and populists so long anticipated has at last been hatched. The State ticket is to be made up of populists who are to be supported by the republican party. This much has leaked out from the meeting held behind closed doors at Alexandria on Tuesday. No one is surprised at the action of the populists, who are hungry for office, with no better chance of having their appetites gratified than that derived from a negro constituency, and our readers know exactly how much reliance there is to be placed in such voters. The populists are now only playing the roll of the carpet baggers of former days, and like the latter cannot reasonably look for any other fate than that of being overwhelmed by political disaster. We rejoice that this combine has been consummated, as we will now know who are to be depended upon in the coming fight. Better have a small, well disciplined army of democrats than a large one partly composed of malcontents who are likely to desert at a critical moment.—Baton Rouge Truth.

ONLY ONE SEAT SOLD.

Savannah, Nov. 28.—Ex-Congressman Bland arrived here today to lecture to-night on free silver. At 1 p. m. only one seat had been sold, and Mr. Bland called the lecture off.

The city of Rochester, N. Y., was probably the only city in the United States that did not use a ballot at the last election. The city had purchased a complete set of the Myers electric recording machines. The voter simply touched a button and his vote was cast. Fifteen minutes after the polls were closed, the cast part of the machine was taken out and the sheets containing candidates names and total vote opposite removed. No count is necessary.

The Louisiana State Public Teachers Association meets in Baton Rouge, Dec. 30, 31, and Jan. 1. The people of Baton Rouge are making elaborate preparations for the reception and entertainment of the teachers. This promises to be the largest and most important gathering of teachers ever held in the State. All teachers and friends of education are cordially invited to attend.

The fact is that the material interests of the State will be best promoted by the re-nomination and reelection of Governor Foster. He has given Louisiana a clean and orderly administration under which the State prospered. Another bitter factional contest with all its demoralizing and disturbing efforts is dreaded by all good citizens, as its beneficial results would be far-reaching and lasting.—Tensas Gaz-ette.

Louisiana is largely a "terra incognita" to the remainder of the country, its history both political and natural being practically unknown or greatly misapprehended by even many usually well informed people. The lectures at the Catholic Winter School of America, by Prof. Alee Fortier, of Tulane University, and by Rev. Father Langlois, "the latter Audubon," will prove very instructive in this respect, and generally entertaining as well. The opening session of the Catholic Winter School, will begin at New Orleans, on Thursday following Mardi Gras in February next.

In Republican circles Governor-elect Bradley of Kentucky is favorably spoken of as a candidate for vice-president. The proposition is to yoke him and Tom Reed of Maine together. It is said that Bradley has been after making such a deal for he could, and his friends are making a strong pull for him.

The New Orleans Daily Item has not reached this office for two weeks. All the other city papers continue to arrive on time, so we don't feel lonesome.

LET THE CARRYING OF WEAPONS BE MADE GENERAL.

The following letter on the subject of carrying concealed weapons has been received: "Jackson, Miss., Nov. 28, 1895. Editor of The Times-Democrat: Reading your editorial on carrying concealed weapons leads me to write that, after an experience of nearly a half century, in active connection with the enforcement of laws, my judgment is that all laws against carrying weapons are wrong and should be repealed. They cannot be enforced, and for that reason should not exist. They operate unequally and harmfully, by being a restraint on those in whose hands the weapons would be harmless and often useful, and imposing no restraint on those in whose hands they are dangerous and often destructive.

"My view is that all should be free to carry arms, as they please, and that every girl especially should be taught to use them expertly. We would then hear less of rapes and burglaries, and such crimes as so often occur, and there would not be a crime more by reason of the unrestrained right to carry arms. "It would prevent rather than promote crime. The man disposed to commit crime is never restrained by the law against carrying concealed weapons, while the good citizen often is, and is thus placed at a disadvantage, being at the mercy of the villain who would kill and is emboldened to do it by the confidence that his victim is unarmed.

J. A. P. CAMPBELL.

It will be observed that Judge Campbell, who is one of the ablest and most distinguished Jurists in the South, not only adds the weight of his great authority to the view of this question enunciated recently by The Times-Democrat, but takes a wider and broader view of the question still. And, when we think over the matter we believe that Judge Campbell is right; and that, while nothing is gained by the top-sid-down restraint at present placed against the carrying of weapons, much would be gained by making the carrying of them as wide and general as possible. The hoodlum and originally-disposed person who habitually goes armed is almost certainly a coward to boot; and the knowledge that his would-be victim is likely to be as well armed as he and liable to give as good an account of himself with his weapon, would make his dastardly hoodlumship hesitate in gratuitously assuming the offensive. He would recognize that the person he runs up against and picks quarrels with is apt to be an expert at the game of handling firearms as himself; that the odds between himself and his would-be victim have been evened up; and, on the whole, that it will be safer for him not to take the chances implied in drawing a weapon.

The general carrying of weapons would almost to a certainty produce this desirable result among the hoodlum class who habitually carry them; and the lawless use of the weapons that would be otherwise by a general wearing of them would probably not amount to much—would not counteract one tithe of good produced among the myriads of our hoodlum class.

As to the other half of Judge Campbell's proposition that girls should be trained in the use of the revolver with a view of self-protection, the chances are that it will be received with a divided sentiment; some of the population holding it to be right and proper and almost necessary, under the circumstances of everyday assaults upon females, that women be ready and able to teach the assailant a salutary lesson, and the other moiety of the people holding that the practice of using and carrying pistols is unladylike, and dangerous and demoralizing to the wearers.

The chances are, however, that if female folks were accustomed in their youth to handle weapons of self-defense and were to become fairly expert in their use, the danger and demoralizing tendency would disappear and it might become the vogue; in which case it is almost superfluous to remark that the persons of women would be safer and more inviolate than they are now.

Judge Campbell's proposition is one that is certain to induce a large amount of reflection.—Times-Democrat. The Baton Rouge Truth has the following to say of the above subject: "The right of an American to carry arms in any method he wishes is a question now being energetically agitated in this State. It is held by many that as the constitution of the United States grants the right to bear arms without prescribing the method of so doing, one may carry them concealed or not at his own pleasure. We don't pretend that a man not fit to carry his gun concealed, but if the practice is carried on much longer the editor of the Truth will be compelled to carry a Winchester on his shoulder. A hidden pistol on our person makes us feel as if about to commit a murderous act, and for this reason we don't carry them, and as we do not we are at a disadvantage for nearly every one else does. For this we vote to carry arms openly, and when such becomes custom we will bet our heads that killings will very materially decrease while the plea of self-defense, on the ground that the dead man made a motion as if to draw a weapon, will be heard no more.

It has gotten so from carrying guns out of sight that one is afraid when meeting an enemy to draw his handkerchief from his pocket, for fear of being shot for making a threatening motion. Let us all carry Winchesters, and the quick shooter won't be so handy with their guns.

On October 8, Mrs. F. D. Hathorn, of Perry County, Miss., was shot down in her own house, while surrounded, by her children. Suspicion pointed to a negro, Thompson Wade, who was captured next day and made the startling statement that he was coerced into doing the dreadful deed by threats of the woman's husband. The infuriated neighbors were for lynching the two, but on assurance of the officers that they should have a speedy trial, desisted. Last Thursday Hathorn was tried, found guilty and sentenced to hang at Augusta Jan. 8. The negro will go on trial immediately.

THE SAME OLD TUNE.

The full-fledged candidate is now well ahead. He has thrown off the shackles of his native bashfulness, opened up the flood gates of his patriotism, and may be seen scurrying about the town and country hob-nobbing and shaking hands with the "bone and sinew of the land," as hungry for office as a roaring lion, go-g about seeking whom he may devour. He may be known by the peculiar pump-handle motion of his arm as he walks, caused from excessive hand-shaking, while he sweetly chants that good old refrain: "Howdy, howdy, howdy do! How's your wife, and how are you? It's my pal, as no other can, The horny hand of the working man."

The South is still going ahead with her manufactures. The Manufacturer's Record of Baltimore calls attention to the fact that a number of wealthy Northern capitalists are now in the South prospecting for a site for a cotton-print mill, which will have a capacity of 100 1-2 tons. This mill will turn out a high grade of calicoes and other prints and will be the first of the kind established below Mason and Dixon's line.

Every column in a newspaper contains from ten to twenty-two thousand distinct pieces of metal, the displacement of one of which would cause a blunder or typographical error, says Press and Printer. And yet some people think it strange when they can find an error in a newspaper. When they see a word with a wrong letter in it or a misplaced one they are sure they will have spelled that word right and they are happy for a whole day and go around telling how the editor made a mistake.

If it prove true that the great powers are all agreed upon the disposition to be made of the Turkish problem, then the dismemberment of the Ottoman empire is at hand, as the only thing which has protected it for the last half a century has been the jealousy existing among the European powers. Its extrication, root and branch, from Europe would be hailed with satisfaction by the whole civilized world.—New Orleans Picayune.

The democrats of Kentucky made the financial quest on an issue in their State campaign, and they lost. The democrats of Louisiana will profit by the example of Kentucky.—Democrat Journal. A high tariff, which shuts out competition and gives the home market over to the control of the manufacturer, causes an unhealthy stimulation, then overproduction and finally stagnation, shutdowns, lockouts, reductions in wages and strikes.—Kansas City Times, Ind. A. E. Kilpatrick, of Fillmore, Cal., had the misfortune to have his leg caught between a cart and a stone and badly bruised. Ordinarily he would have laid up for two or three weeks, but says: "After using one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Palm I began to feel better, and in three days was entirely well. The peculiar soothing qualities which Chamberlain's Pain Palm possesses I have never noticed in any other liniment. I take pleasure in recommending it." This liniment is also of great value for rheumatism and lame back.

For sale by W. C. Heintz, druggist, Covington, and Dr. R. B. Paine, Mandeville. The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the high esteem in which it is held leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving the experience of three prominent citizens of Redondo Beach, Cal., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudell says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory. For sale by W. C. Heintz, druggist, Covington, and Dr. R. B. Paine, Mandeville.

Pearl River.

Dec. 4, 1895. Editor St. Tammany Farmer: Pearl River was greatly edified by the visit and preaching of Rev. Dr. Sawyer, of New Orleans, last Saturday and Sunday. He administered the Lord's Sacrament, and baptized one member. Our Pastor, Rev. W. A. Clarke, was with us also, and received two probationers into full membership. He will preach his last sermon next Sunday. Our hearts are saddened that "we will see his face no more," unless the Bishop sends him back, which would please his little flock at this place. Mrs. W. Clarke spent an enjoyable week with us. She was delighted with our town, and thinks we ought to have a Parsonage, as it is the most central point.

Miss Conale Moore, of Nevada, Miss., was a guest of the Misses Willis. She is teaching school at Mr. George Gause's schoolhouse, near Hickory Grove. The ladies treated Mrs. M. Green to a surprise Thanksgiving dinner. She being an invalid, it was very enjoyable to her and the many participants also. Mrs. Stewart, of Nicholson, was the guest of Mrs. Griffin Seal last Sunday, city to spend the coming holidays. Mrs. J. H. Gutrie has gone to the Mrs. Sarah Miller, of Poplarville, to give our town a pop call, en route to Covington. Mrs. Sullivan is spending a few weeks with her son, Mr. Willie Sullivan. Miss Kate Willis left yesterday for a week's visit to her friends in Nicholson, Miss.

Little Nellie Green, daughter of our esteemed agent, is lying very ill with pneumonia, but we hope she is out of danger now. Mr. Jack Frost called and left a large white card for us last night. The Misses Chrysanthemum bowed their heads so low in acknowledgement that they were not able to lift them up this morning. BELDAN. Congress assembled last Tuesday. In organizing, the Northern Republicans got all the fat offices, and the Southern Republicans got left. The President sent in a lengthy message, principally devoted to foreign relations and finance. He takes a firm stand on the Venezuelan question, but gives little encouragement to Cuba. He also opposes the free coinage of silver.

If all reports are true, the Cuban insurgents met with a disastrous defeat last week. But as usual, it may have been a Cuban victory. Last—just as we expected, the battle resulted in a great victory for the Cubans. Robbers in New Orleans take along a wagon to carry off their plunder, at least burglars who robbed a house on Sunday night had a four wheel spring wagon in which they carted away a heavy load.

It is reported that England will send a warship through the Straits of Dardanelles and into the Bosphorus to-day, without permission of the Sultan of Turkey, and regardless of the action of the other European powers. If that is the case, John Bull will doubtless have Turkey for his Christmas dinner. Charles Hainbacher, of Algiers, who had been to the Wallace Circus, was practicing some circus tricks last Tuesday with a crowd of other boys. He was in the act of standing on his head, when he ruptured a blood vessel, causing inflammation of the brain, and he died in a few hours. He was a bright boy, only 14 years of age.

Boy thieves raided the residence on Judge Francis T. Nicholls, of New Orleans, on Monday, and after ransacking bureaus, armchairs and strewn their contents about the bedroom floors departed with nothing more valuable than an old rusty pistol.

The parishes of Acadia and Pointe Coupee held mass meetings last week and passed resolutions endorsing Governor Foster and opposing the suffrage amendment. Magnolia, Miss., claims the champion cotton handler. Wm D. Eckerson, warehouseman of the Illinois Central, recently loaded 100 bales of cotton on the cars in one hour without help.

The Chicago Times-Herald declares that it has inside and exclusive information to the effect that all the arrangements are perfected for the admission of Hawaii to the Union, and that Mr. Cleveland will give his consent.

Remember the white Democratic Mass meeting, at the Courthouse, next Thursday, Dec. 12. Czar Reid was elected Speaker of the House. Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria "Times" Cal., in speaking of the various ailments of children said: "When my children have cough there is only one potent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If this remedy is freely given as soon as the cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also an ideal remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains nothing in it.

For sale by W. C. Heintz, druggist, Covington, and Dr. R. B. Paine, Mandeville. Are You Going To have a birthday celebration, dinner or a wedding feast? Then you want a nice Turkey. That Turkey can be found at HAMBROTON BROS. & Co., North of the Railroad Depot. Wm BRENAN, Carpenter and Builder. COVINGTON, LA. Plans and estimates furnished, and first-class work guaranteed. TO SCHOOL TEACHERS Notice is hereby given to all Teachers of the Public Schools, that I will be in Covington on the second Saturday of each month, for the purpose of signing their warrants. J. A. SMITH, President School Board.

Lewisburg.

Dec. 2, 1895. Editor St. Tammany Farmer: As my first letter caused so much excitement here, I come again. We were happy to meet Messrs. Jos. A. Smith and Norman Fenderson, the President and Superintendent of the School Board, who visited our public school. We were glad to see the bustling little collector, Mr. Hermann Levy, of Mandeville, here last Monday, looking as handsome as ever. Mrs. F. H. Rose spent last Thursday in Covington on a visit to her sister, Mrs. G. De La Brotonne. Mrs. T. M. Giffney and Mrs. S. S. Barclay, of New Orleans, spent a week here with their father, Mr. Joseph Boyle, returning home Sunday evening.

A party of gentlemen from New Orleans spent Sunday here, the guests of Mr. E. Herndon. Mr. Charles Boyle returned last Saturday from a hunt near Covington. What he killed is unknown. Mr. Fred. H. Rose and his son Charles paid a flying trip to Covington last Monday. We have several lady politicians who are working hard for the one they think is the right man. Dr. C. S. Williams and the jovial shoe drummer, Mr. G. De La Brotonne, were here "drumming" last Thursday week. Come again, boys, the votes are all yours. THILBT.

QUEER COURT PROCEEDINGS. A rather crude citizen of Seguin, a small town in western Texas, says the Lancaster Law Review, as quoted by the New Orleans Picayune, was elected Justice of the peace, and the only book he had was Cushing's Manual. The first case before him was that of a cowboy for stealing a steer. When the case was called, the leading lawyer of the town, (the Hon. John Ireland by name), was there to defend the prisoner. "As there is no counsel for the other side," he said, "I make a motion that the case be dismissed." The Justice looked over his Manual. "A motion has to be seconded that the case be dismissed," he said. "I second the motion," promptly responded the prisoner. "The motion has been seconded that the case be dismissed," said the court. "All in favor will please say 'aye.'" The prisoner and his attorney voted "aye." "All of the opposed will say 'no.'" Nobody voted. "The motion is carried and the case is dismissed," then said the court. "A motion is now in order to adjourn." The prisoner made the motion and the court adjourned.

Once upon a time there was a ship in a storm. There was a preacher on board, and he got very uneasy and worried the captain by asking him many times if he thought the ship would go down. Finally the captain said, looking down at sailors on the lower deck: "You see those fellows a gasping down yonder?" "Ye." "Well, so long as they keep a-cussin' there's no danger; when there's no more to be said, they'll begin to pray." Finally the preacher, after unwearying around on board for a while, looked over the deck, and rising with a smile he said: "Thank God, they are a-cussin' yet."
