

Purified Blood

Weak and Nervous But Hood's Made Him Healthy and Strong.

"I was feeling very dull and could not sleep at night. After I had taken two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I felt more like myself and my blood was healthy and strong. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my blood and did me much good." Roy M. Data, Hammond, Minn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
In America's Greatest Medicine. 50c. per bottle.
Hood's Pills cure indigestion, biliousness.

PLUGGING THE PIANO.

Mr. Connelly Finds Temporary Relief from the Heavy Pedal by Simple Means.

"It is a familiar fact," said Mr. Connelly, "that it is a fact that all of our parents, children, without exception, like to play the piano with the hard pedal on all the time. All children like to make the noise they can, in playing the piano in everything else. Playing upon the piano without the heavy pedal does not disturb me at all; but the minute the heavy pedal is put on I am greatly disturbed, and the continued sounding of the notes fairly racketing my ears. Of course, I can't be forever saying 'don't, don't,' and it's impossible to say 'I suppose, for why shouldn't the children have their fun?' And so I hit upon the desperate expedient of blocking the heavy pedal. I have whittled out a nice little piece of soft white pine into a plug that just fits into the space under the pedal to the opening in which it works, so that the pedal cannot be depressed.

"It has only been there two days now, but it has been two days of blessed relief. It can't last much longer, because the children are likely to ask me to make it make all matters—I wonder they haven't asked me long ago—and of course I'll have to tell 'em, but I am grateful for the relief which it has given me. It has given me strength the better to withstand, for a time at least, the uproar which will surely come when the children discover the plug."—N. Y. Sun.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease.

As powder to be shaken into the shoes. At this season your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired from walking and standing. Try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cures swollen and aching feet, blisters and calluses. Relieves corns and unions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores for 25c. Trial package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

SQUIRE JONES' ECONOMY.

He Raised His Own Tobacco and First Chewed and Then Smoked It.

"The most economical person I ever knew," remarked a West side barber as he trimmed a customer's hair, "is a man who had been torturing with his wife remarks for half an hour to stop his razor, 'was an old fellow who always declared that he hated to see anything wasted, even the affections.' 'Did you know old Squire Jones?' cried the barber, 'I know him. He was a full sitting posture. 'Must remember her name, old Squire Jones.' 'Can't say that I do. I remember the barber, who like all his craft, was a wise man and feared a trip of some sort.

"He was a fearful chewer and used to raise his own tobacco. After he'd got what he needed he'd smoke it in his pipe, and then he'd smoke it in a tin can. He'd get a tin can of his own manufacture when he got tired of his pipe.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN

And How Mrs. Pinkham Helps Overcome Them.

Mrs. MARY BOLLINGER, 1101 Marianna St., Chicago, Ill., to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I have been troubled for the past two years with falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, pain upon my body, nervousness, backache, nervousness and weakness. I tried doctors and various remedies without relief. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, the relief I obtained was truly wonderful. I have now taken several more bottles of your famous medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured."

Mrs. HENRY DORN, No. 805 Findlay St., Cincinnati, Ohio, to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For a long time I suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen, and bearing-down feeling. Was very nervous at times, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhoea. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply past belief. After taking four bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and using three packages of Sanative Wash I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable remedies have entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering. I have her alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am grateful. May heaven bless her for the good work she is doing for our sex."

MAKES CHILDREN FAT

A SERMON ON SPORTS.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Analyzes the Character of the Amusements.

Texts by Which the Good May be Selected From the Bad—Wholesale Denunciations a Mistake.

In the following Rev. Dr. DeWitt Talmage discusses amusements, and applies texts by which the good may be selected from the bad—Wholesale denunciations a mistake.

And it came to pass, when their hearts were merry, that they said, Call for Samson, that he may come out of the prison house; and he made them sport.—Judges xvi. 25.

There were 3,000 persons assembled in the temple of Dagon. They had come to make sport of eyeless Samson. They were all ready for the entertainment. They began to clap and pound impatient for the amusement to begin. At last he came, and he came out of the temple. Yonder I see the blind old child coming, led by the hand of a child in the very midst of the temple. At his first appearance there goes up a shout of laughter and derision. The blind old child pretends he is tired and wants to rest himself against the pillars of the house, so he says to the lad who leads him: "Bring me where the main pillars are." The lad does so. Then the blind old child pretends he is tired and wants to rest himself against the pillars of the house, so he says to the lad who leads him: "Bring me where the main pillars are." The lad does so. Then the blind old child pretends he is tired and wants to rest himself against the pillars of the house, so he says to the lad who leads him: "Bring me where the main pillars are." The lad does so.

"It is a familiar fact," said Mr. Connelly, "that it is a fact that all of our parents, children, without exception, like to play the piano with the hard pedal on all the time. All children like to make the noise they can, in playing the piano in everything else. Playing upon the piano without the heavy pedal does not disturb me at all; but the minute the heavy pedal is put on I am greatly disturbed, and the continued sounding of the notes fairly racketing my ears. Of course, I can't be forever saying 'don't, don't,' and it's impossible to say 'I suppose, for why shouldn't the children have their fun?' And so I hit upon the desperate expedient of blocking the heavy pedal. I have whittled out a nice little piece of soft white pine into a plug that just fits into the space under the pedal to the opening in which it works, so that the pedal cannot be depressed.

"It has only been there two days now, but it has been two days of blessed relief. It can't last much longer, because the children are likely to ask me to make it make all matters—I wonder they haven't asked me long ago—and of course I'll have to tell 'em, but I am grateful for the relief which it has given me. It has given me strength the better to withstand, for a time at least, the uproar which will surely come when the children discover the plug."—N. Y. Sun.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease.

As powder to be shaken into the shoes. At this season your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired from walking and standing. Try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cures swollen and aching feet, blisters and calluses. Relieves corns and unions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores for 25c. Trial package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

SQUIRE JONES' ECONOMY.

He Raised His Own Tobacco and First Chewed and Then Smoked It.

"The most economical person I ever knew," remarked a West side barber as he trimmed a customer's hair, "is a man who had been torturing with his wife remarks for half an hour to stop his razor, 'was an old fellow who always declared that he hated to see anything wasted, even the affections.' 'Did you know old Squire Jones?' cried the barber, 'I know him. He was a full sitting posture. 'Must remember her name, old Squire Jones.' 'Can't say that I do. I remember the barber, who like all his craft, was a wise man and feared a trip of some sort.

"He was a fearful chewer and used to raise his own tobacco. After he'd got what he needed he'd smoke it in his pipe, and then he'd smoke it in a tin can. He'd get a tin can of his own manufacture when he got tired of his pipe.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN

And How Mrs. Pinkham Helps Overcome Them.

Mrs. MARY BOLLINGER, 1101 Marianna St., Chicago, Ill., to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I have been troubled for the past two years with falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, pain upon my body, nervousness, backache, nervousness and weakness. I tried doctors and various remedies without relief. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, the relief I obtained was truly wonderful. I have now taken several more bottles of your famous medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured."

Mrs. HENRY DORN, No. 805 Findlay St., Cincinnati, Ohio, to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For a long time I suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen, and bearing-down feeling. Was very nervous at times, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhoea. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply past belief. After taking four bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and using three packages of Sanative Wash I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable remedies have entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering. I have her alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am grateful. May heaven bless her for the good work she is doing for our sex."

MAKES CHILDREN FAT

PACKAGES FOR SOLDIERS.

All matter for officers and soldiers should be plainly and durably marked, showing the name, rank (if any), number of regiment, State, and Brigade, Division and Corps to which the recipient belongs. "Lieutenant John Smith, Co. B, 14th Division Inf., U. S. V., 2d Brigade, 3d Division, 3d Army Corps," giving the name of the place to which the package is to be forwarded by express.

All such matter should be prepaid through to destination.

All such matter should be labeled to show from what point of origin shipped.

It would be well to have the shipper's name on all packages of value, wherever it is probable that they may want such packages returned.

Similar rules must be observed on shipments destined to Naval Stations, Fleets or Squadrons.

The Southern Express Company reaches Tampa, Port Tampa, Port Tampa City, Lakeland and Jacksonville, Fla., Dunn Loring, Va., New Orleans, La., Mobile, Ala., Chickamauga, Ga., and Chattanooga, Tenn., the following cities:—

Particular to distinguish between Port Tampa, Port Tampa City, and Tampa, and bill to each place separately.

Lakeland, Fla., is thirty miles north of Tampa, on the Plant System. Bill all such matter to Tampa.

Camp Russell A. Alger is located about two miles interior from Dunn Loring, Va., a station on the Round Hill Branch of the Southern Railway, sixteen miles from Washington, D. C. Matter for the troops at Camp Russell A. Alger should be sent to Dunn Loring, Va. Deliveries are generally made through the Regimental Quartermaster from various regiments.

A great many packages have been addressed to Falls Church, East Falls Church, West Falls Church, and Woodburn Manor. All such matter is carried to our office at Dunn Loring, Va.

Chickamauga Park, Ga., are from five to thirteen miles from Chattanooga. The express service is performed via Battlefield Station, Ga., which is ten miles from Chattanooga, on the Chattanooga and Southern Railroad, south of Chattanooga.

Battlefield Station is on part of the ground covered by the armies in the battle of Chickamauga in September, 1863. The site of the battle is now a national park, owned by the United States government, dedicated and preserved as a memorial of the great battle in 1863.

The woman on the porch caught her agonized breath and was about to utter a prayer when she heard the sound of a door opening and a man's voice said: "Yes, I have a voice from above, 'I've been your through."

"The parent who uses only moral exhortation with his children never has to strike them except in case of self-defense.—Chicago Daily News.

The man who can extract oil from cotton seed and use it for fuel, provides for himself, and he will not be able to gather figs from thistles.—Chicago Daily News.

Real Modesty.—Dribbler—"In my opinion a man who writes an illegible hand does it because he thinks people are willing to read it, but with an illegible hand he is a man of conceit." Scribner—"Not at all. Sometimes a man writes illegibly, not because he is conceited, but because he is modest." Dribbler—"Modest? What? 'I'm a scribbler.'—Boston Herald.

"Many a man," said the Corneil Philosopher, "thinks he is working like a horse for his party, only to find later that he has merely been making an ass of himself."—Indianapolis Journal.

Inspiration.—"Sit," said the mate, touching his hat, "the bottoms of our ships are covered with grass." "He?" said the Spaniard, "I have never seen grass before." "Then we will run into the harbor of Santiago de Cuba and feed the mules." "Subsequently he sent a dispatch to Madrid to the effect that he had succeeded in reutilizing the island."—Chicago Tribune.

"That," exclaimed the Spanish general, as he mopped the perspiration from his brow, "is one of the most desperate things I have done for some time." "What is the matter?" inquired his aid. "This typewritten note," said the general, "is the only one that is legible; and the amanuensis got it 'seeing figs'."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Now, prisoner, this lady states that you tied her with hair. What was she saying to you?" "Yes, I was going to take her to the museum. I didn't want her."—Puck-Me-Up.

It is said the best way to rig up a nervous trotter that is afraid to go up in the bunch when the dirt is flying, and keeps throwing up his nose every time a piece of dust touches his face, is to fix him out with a face veil made of a piece of mosquito netting. This device has been tried and has success by general trainers, and they say that most of the breaks that horses make in races "without any cause whatever" when they are sailing along all right can be attributed to the sting caused by small particles of dirt and gravel thrown back by other horses in front.

The secretary of the Milk Shippers' Union in Chicago is reported as saying that there are 130,000 gallons of milk sent into that city daily, and 16,000 gallons of this milk are used for cream. It is also declared that 90 per cent. of the dealers make a practice of skimming the milk before delivering it to their customers, which seems like a very large percentage. We had not a very large number of them in Chicago, but think Mr. Secretary is marking them a little too low.—American Cultivator.

One difficult feature in raising turkeys is to keep the poulters free from lice. About the first thing we do to a turkey after we take her and the poulters from the nest is to give her a liberal dousing with insect powder. There are various ways of doing this. Our way is to have young birds in a box, and then take a pepper-box or something similar filled with insect powder and sift it thoroughly through her feathers on every part of her body. If your insect powder is all right this will make it very interesting for the carter.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

A FATALITY AVOIDED.

From the Democrat, Cochen, Ind.

When malaria is accompanied by a dull, heavy pain in the head, frequently accompanied by a fever, it is generally fatal. My Nancy Flynn, who lives near Cochen, Indiana, survived such an attack and her doctor's advice was to take a sharp pain in my breast which was rapidly subsiding. The doctor was puzzled and under the influence of the malaria she died. These sharp attacks followed one another at intervals and I became weak and had a hard look. I was constantly in pain, and could not sleep and had no appetite.

"At the end of two years I was confined to my bed most of the time and the doctor agreed that my death was only a matter of a short time."

"One day I noticed in a newspaper a notice of a cure of malaria by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I decided to try them."

"I had finished one box I noticed an improvement in my condition, and when I had taken the second box I was completely cured. These pills have done for me what we could not do for me by any other means. I have saved my life."

"That was two years ago and my heart has been better ever since. I have been able to do my work and I have been able to take pleasure in my life."

"The Southern Express Company reaches Tampa, Port Tampa, Port Tampa City, Lakeland and Jacksonville, Fla., Dunn Loring, Va., New Orleans, La., Mobile, Ala., Chickamauga, Ga., and Chattanooga, Tenn., the following cities:—

Particular to distinguish between Port Tampa, Port Tampa City, and Tampa, and bill to each place separately.

Lakeland, Fla., is thirty miles north of Tampa, on the Plant System. Bill all such matter to Tampa.

Camp Russell A. Alger is located about two miles interior from Dunn Loring, Va., a station on the Round Hill Branch of the Southern Railway, sixteen miles from Washington, D. C. Matter for the troops at Camp Russell A. Alger should be sent to Dunn Loring, Va. Deliveries are generally made through the Regimental Quartermaster from various regiments.

A great many packages have been addressed to Falls Church, East Falls Church, West Falls Church, and Woodburn Manor. All such matter is carried to our office at Dunn Loring, Va.

Chickamauga Park, Ga., are from five to thirteen miles from Chattanooga. The express service is performed via Battlefield Station, Ga., which is ten miles from Chattanooga, on the Chattanooga and Southern Railroad, south of Chattanooga.

Battlefield Station is on part of the ground covered by the armies in the battle of Chickamauga in September, 1863. The site of the battle is now a national park, owned by the United States government, dedicated and preserved as a memorial of the great battle in 1863.

The woman on the porch caught her agonized breath and was about to utter a prayer when she heard the sound of a door opening and a man's voice said: "Yes, I have a voice from above, 'I've been your through."

"The parent who uses only moral exhortation with his children never has to strike them except in case of self-defense.—Chicago Daily News.

The man who can extract oil from cotton seed and use it for fuel, provides for himself, and he will not be able to gather figs from thistles.—Chicago Daily News.

Real Modesty.—Dribbler—"In my opinion a man who writes an illegible hand does it because he thinks people are willing to read it, but with an illegible hand he is a man of conceit." Scribner—"Not at all. Sometimes a man writes illegibly, not because he is conceited, but because he is modest." Dribbler—"Modest? What? 'I'm a scribbler.'—Boston Herald.

"Many a man," said the Corneil Philosopher, "thinks he is working like a horse for his party, only to find later that he has merely been making an ass of himself."—Indianapolis Journal.

Inspiration.—"Sit," said the mate, touching his hat, "the bottoms of our ships are covered with grass." "He?" said the Spaniard, "I have never seen grass before." "Then we will run into the harbor of Santiago de Cuba and feed the mules." "Subsequently he sent a dispatch to Madrid to the effect that he had succeeded in reutilizing the island."—Chicago Tribune.

"That," exclaimed the Spanish general, as he mopped the perspiration from his brow, "is one of the most desperate things I have done for some time." "What is the matter?" inquired his aid. "This typewritten note," said the general, "is the only one that is legible; and the amanuensis got it 'seeing figs'."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Now, prisoner, this lady states that you tied her with hair. What was she saying to you?" "Yes, I was going to take her to the museum. I didn't want her."—Puck-Me-Up.

It is said the best way to rig up a nervous trotter that is afraid to go up in the bunch when the dirt is flying, and keeps throwing up his nose every time a piece of dust touches his face, is to fix him out with a face veil made of a piece of mosquito netting. This device has been tried and has success by general trainers, and they say that most of the breaks that horses make in races "without any cause whatever" when they are sailing along all right can be attributed to the sting caused by small particles of dirt and gravel thrown back by other horses in front.

The secretary of the Milk Shippers' Union in Chicago is reported as saying that there are 130,000 gallons of milk sent into that city daily, and 16,000 gallons of this milk are used for cream. It is also declared that 90 per cent. of the dealers make a practice of skimming the milk before delivering it to their customers, which seems like a very large percentage. We had not a very large number of them in Chicago, but think Mr. Secretary is marking them a little too low.—American Cultivator.

One difficult feature in raising turkeys is to keep the poulters free from lice. About the first thing we do to a turkey after we take her and the poulters from the nest is to give her a liberal dousing with insect powder. There are various ways of doing this. Our way is to have young birds in a box, and then take a pepper-box or something similar filled with insect powder and sift it thoroughly through her feathers on every part of her body. If your insect powder is all right this will make it very interesting for the carter.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

The hearts of those who compose society must be reached and changed. Only when men feel the moral obligation laid upon them by the cross and acknowledge the Christ as Redeemer King make the best members of society.

GLAD SHE DIDN'T YELL.

When the woman on the porch was girded by the woman of the house next door happened to come out on her back porch. There she casually looked over the fence into the yard of the woman of the house next door. What she saw scared her so that she couldn't move hand or foot. The lady man was lying on his back on the porch, and she was looking at him with a look of horror. She was looking at him with a look of horror. She was looking at him with a look of horror.

"The parent who uses only moral exhortation with his children never has to strike them except in case of self-defense.—Chicago Daily News.

The man who can extract oil from cotton seed and use it for fuel, provides for himself, and he will not be able to gather figs from thistles.—Chicago Daily News.

Real Modesty.—Dribbler—"In my opinion a man who writes an illegible hand does it because he thinks people are willing to read it, but with an illegible hand he is a man of conceit." Scribner—"Not at all. Sometimes a man writes illegibly, not because he is conceited, but because he is modest." Dribbler—"Modest? What? 'I'm a scribbler.'—Boston Herald.

"Many a man," said the Corneil Philosopher, "thinks he is working like a horse for his party, only to find later that he has merely been making an ass of himself."—Indianapolis Journal.

Inspiration.—"Sit," said the mate, touching his hat, "the bottoms of our ships are covered with grass." "He?" said the Spaniard, "I have never seen grass before." "Then we will run into the harbor of Santiago de Cuba and feed the mules." "Subsequently he sent a dispatch to Madrid to the effect that he had succeeded in reutilizing the island."—Chicago Tribune.

"That," exclaimed the Spanish general, as he mopped the perspiration from his brow, "is one of the most desperate things I have done for some time." "What is the matter?" inquired his aid. "This typewritten note," said the general, "is the only one that is legible; and the amanuensis got it 'seeing figs'."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Now, prisoner, this lady states that you tied her with hair. What was she saying to you?" "Yes, I was going to take her to the museum. I didn't want her."—Puck-Me-Up.

It is said the best way to rig up a nervous trotter that is afraid to go up in the bunch when the dirt is flying, and keeps throwing up his nose every time a piece of dust touches his face, is to fix him out with a face veil made of a piece of mosquito netting. This device has been tried and has success by general trainers, and they say that most of the breaks that horses make in races "without any cause whatever" when they are sailing along all right can be attributed to the sting caused by small particles of dirt and gravel thrown back by other horses in front.

The secretary of the Milk Shippers' Union in Chicago is reported as saying that there are 130,000 gallons of milk sent into that city daily, and 16,000 gallons of this milk are used for cream. It is also declared that 90 per cent. of the dealers make a practice of skimming the milk before delivering it to their customers, which seems like a very large percentage. We had not a very large number of them in Chicago, but think Mr. Secretary is marking them a little too low.—American Cultivator.

One difficult feature in raising