Editor St. Tammany Farmer:

While we know that our community has been behind some time, and the people had almost forgotten that there was a work for us to do, we are pleased to know that the spirit of the people in this part of the country has been aroused once more, and it is a very small matter to see the effect. We are rejoicing to see our old community coming to the front once more.

Education is booming in every source and we do ask God to help us that it may be a final success, and may become unanimous the country over.

We have had a ten days' singing school here, taught by Prof. W. H. Bush. There was an attendance of about fifty students, and the Professor was very successful in training them to sing the beautiful hymns which will make their lights more bright and will add many jewels to their crowns in heaven. While we regretted to see him leave, we wish him success and trust that God may bless him to help train the minds of the rising generation which we deem him worthy of handling.

Crops are made, and the people are beginning to harvest. Cotton pickers are wanted almost everywhere, and if the weather will admit, the people will soon gather their cotton. Owing to the shortage of crop, and prices there will no doubt be several farmers disappointed and some merchants going with their heads hanging.

A Shocking Calamity

"Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellett, of Williford, Ark. "His foot was badly crushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for Burns, Boils, Piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world champion healer. Cures guaranteed. 25c. Sold by J. L. Watkins, City Drug Store."

FOR SALE.—A three-year-old Jersey bull, or will exchange for a young milk cow. Apply at this office.

In the District Court of the United States, for the eastern district of Louisiana.—In the matter of Oscar V. Richard, Bankrupt, No. 34, in Bankruptcy.

All creditors of Oscar V. Richard, of Covington, La., adjudged bankrupt on the 14th day of August, 1901, on his own petition, in the United States District Court, for the Eastern District of Louisiana, are hereby notified that the first meeting of the creditors of said bankrupt will be held before the undersigned referee, at his office, room 418 Hennen Building corner of Carondelet and Common streets, New Orleans, La., on the 9th day of September, 1901, at 10 o'clock A. M., whereat said creditors shall present and prove their claims, and shall elect a trustee and fix the amount of his bond; shall determine in what manner and at what time the property of said bankrupt's estate shall be sold, and shall take such other steps as may be pertinent and necessary for the promotion of the best interests of said estate, and shall do such other things as the law may require, and as may be brought before them.

A Good Word for Abita.

F. E. Love, who came to Abita Springs a physical wreck some years ago, with all the doctor's predictions of a nearby funeral, is at the Commercial Hotel looking as healthy as possible. He says that Abita has the largest crowds this year that it has ever had before. The hotels and all private residences are full and the spring is gaining reputation daily.

The old Indian legend that tells about the girl that was brought there and laid under the pine trees to die don't half begin to tell the truth. People have been brought there this year who had already made deposits with the undertaker, and now they are eating their fall rations and walking anywhere from three to five miles a day without the slightest inconvenience.

"We thought last year that Abita Springs was becoming popular, but we had no idea of the boom that has struck the place.

"I have always felt that a man might die or get well without medicine just as well as he could with it, and following my conclusion in that respect I went to Abita Springs. The result has proved my opinion to be correct. We get well without medicine.

"You can take the case of Max Sanders, of Houston, Tex., who went there three weeks ago. He was sick. His friends were beginning to figure on how he would divide the property. He went back tonight a well man and will certainly live to be 80 years old, provided he is not killed accidentally.—Picayune.

Oil Prospects at Leo's Landing.

Pontchartroula, La., Aug. 28.—Lloyd Poy, attorney for the Louisiana Sulphur and Oil Development Company at Leo's Landing, has just returned from St. Louis. W. D. Elliott, who will do the drilling for the company, has written Mr. Wren, the local manager, that the complete drilling outfit will be at Pass Manchac about the 1st of September and will be carried up the Tangipahoa river to Leo's Landing by Capt. Ward's steamer. Drilling is expected to begin about Sept. 15 or 20.

Speaking of the Hammond field Mr. Wren said: I visited the Hammond location yesterday and found they have a nice outfit and that drilling will commence about Wednesday next. I wish them all the success possible."

As neat and trim a yacht as ever slid off the ways into her native element was the new cabin sloop yacht Dudley Selpb, which was launched recently from the ways of John Sardy, at Madisonville, on the Tchoufou river, in St. Tammany Parish, La. The Dudley Selpb was built by Mr. Sardy, who in the framing of this beautiful little yacht proved himself to be a fine mechanic and ship builder, as well as an excellent designer. Mr. Sardy has built several vessels, but the Dudley Selpb is the first sloop yacht of that style and dimensions of which he has yet undertaken, but to judge from the graceful lines, the clean run aft, and the admirable symmetry of the hull, he has made a fine job of it, and one of which he has every reason to feel proud.

Preston & Stauffer and Smith Bros. & Co. vs. Cooper & Strain and W. N. Cooper.—Nos. 28 and 29.

Twenty-sixth Judicial District Court of Louisiana, in and for the Parish of St. Tammany

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias from the honorable the aforesaid court and to me directed, in the above entitled and numbered suit, bearing date August 9, 1901.

I will proceed to sell at public auction, at the door of the courthouse in the town of Covington, La., on SATURDAY, Sept. 21, 1901, between legal sale hours, the following described property to-wit:

Lot 115, of Claiborne, as property of Nellie O. Cooper, the interest of Alonzo Z. Strain and Nellie O. Cooper, heirs of Zachariah Strain, deceased; being one-sixth interest each in lots 132, 152, 153, 160, of Claiborne, with the improvements thereon, also one-sixth interest each of Alonzo Z. Strain and Nellie O. Cooper, in and to the suit, No. 56, of docket of the 26th Judicial District Court, for the Parish of St. Tammany, entitled Zachariah Strain vs. Ernest I. Moody, Louis J. Heitz and Jacob C. Lyons.

Seized in the above entitled suit. Terms of sale—cash, with the benefit of appraisement.

T. E. BREWSTER, Sheriff.
