TRIAL, CONVICTION AND SENTENCE OF CZOLGOSZ.

The trial of Czolgosz for the assassination of William McKinley, President of the United States, at the Temple of Music, in the precincts of the Pan-American Exposition, at Buffalo, N. Y., by shooting, on Friday, the 6th inst., inflicting injuries from which the President died, on Saturday, the 14th, was commenced last Monday, the 23rd, and was concluded on Tuesday, the 24th, by a verdict of murder in the first degree. On Thursday the 26th, the prisoner was sentenced to death. He will be electrocuted during the week beginning Oct. 28.

The assassin had the benefit of a fair trial, under the forms of law, and the verdict will meet the hearty approval of all true-hearted Americans and the entire civilized world.

Oil Well Barbecue.

Lee's Landing, Sept. 15.—One of the most successful barbecues ever known in this parish was given by John Stanga, Geo. Koepf, Andrew Edwards, Andrew Stanga, E. Wren of Texas and others at Lee's landing, on the beautiful Tangipahoa river, Sunday. The object of the barbecue was to bring together all the owners of land in the district being developed by the Union Central Oil and Sulphur Company of New Orleans, and to that end the affair was a success. Among the visitors were W. W. Banker and sons and W. Smith of Hammond, Hon. Sam Cooper and friends from New Orleans, Messrs. Corbett, Koepf, Peters, Andrew Edwards, John Stanga, Morris and Prater of Madisonville, Wm. E. Wren of Texas and over 200 others from Louisiana and Texas.

Proud of his Confederate Relatives.

Atlanta, Sept. 21.—The Journal to-day prints a letter from President Roosevelt in reply to a communication sent him by J. R. Nutting of this city. The letter to Mr. Nutting is from Oyster Bay, and bears date of June 14. The then Vice President says in part: "I am extremely proud of the fact that one of my uncles was an Admiral in the Confederate navy, and that another fired the last gun fired aboard the Alabama. I think the time has now come when we can all of us be proud of the valor shown on both sides in the civil war. In my regiment I had more men whose fathers fought in the Confederacy than I had men whose fathers fought for the union. "I am anxious to visit Roswell, and if I get the chance I am going to stop at Atlanta some time next fall." Roswell is a Georgia town where Mr. Roosevelt's mother lived.

An Association meeting will be held at Lee's Creek on Sunday, Oct. 6. Mr. Parke, the picture man, will be on hand.

The Montreal Herald remarks: Daniel Webster twice missed being President by not accepting a nomination for Vice-President. Theodore Roosevelt becomes President today through having reluctantly accepted the nomination he wanted to refuse because he thought it would spoil his chances for the Presidency. Such are the tricks of fate.

According to the result of the autopsy held upon the body of the late President it seems as though the President's life could not have been saved by any amount of medical or surgical skill. The bullet passed through the stomach and back walls, penetrating the kidneys, and the course through which the bullet had sped became gangrenous.

"Let there be inculcated greater regard for the sacredness of authority based upon sound principles," writes President Whitney of Georgetown University. "In this connection I see no application of legislation against foreigners, as the three assassins of our President were native born. For the rest, the wisdom of Congress must be relied upon."

SLIDELL ITEMS.

Sept. 16, 1901. Editor St. Tammany Farmer. The rain has driven "Ye Scribe" into his quarters and as batching is a lonely piece of business, I will while away the few minutes I have in giving you a few notes from our busy little town. Our little town is growing very fast, and we need a newspaper very much, but we are not looking for a "Brick". They are too easily bursted. We need a solid stone or even a piece of steel. Mr. Fritz Salmen, of the Salmen Brick and Lumber Co., is having a very large man-on put up just across the street from the Salmen store. The house which Mr. A. Frost was having built in this little town is now complete and ready for occupants. Mr. Albert Salmen is having a gallery put around his residence, which will, when complete, add a great deal to its appearance. The brickyard and sawmill is running night and day, except Sundays. Miss Annie Johnson returned this week from Bayou LaCambre. She spent most of last week with Miss Eva Todd of that place. Miss Lena Frost visited friends and relatives here last week. It has been announced, by our Methodist minister, that the Rev. J. L. Morrill, of Cartersville, Ga., will be here on Wednesday, Oct. 2nd, to begin a revival at this place. Bro. Morrill was with us some six or seven months ago, and the people have not forgotten him. We are anxious for him to come, and hope that much good may be accomplished. "Ye Scribe" wants to attend every meeting, if possible, and hopes to see the other writers present. Our public school has opened. Misses Hughes and Schmidt are the teachers. Slidell can boast of two bands now; Covington has her brass band, but we have two bands, one wing band, or better known as the mosquito band. The vocal band is our second and a very fine band it is. The Old Goat beats a tattoo on the outhouse steps and says, "Let all the doggies sing." Then little Missie, as she has a soprano voice, leads off on some familiar tune. Old Watch sings first bass, while Rover sings second. The alto is sung by Fido. The old goat gives a quick beat and a loud snort, which says "d gs you must sing louder or you will let our policeman go sound to sleep."

This vocal band has its regular meeting most every night somewhere in Slidell, and the people wish our town officials to take steps to have this band show to wear a brass collar, each, which will show to who may pass by that the dog is marked. It is allowed to attend the meeting of vocal band in Slidell, and as for the goat, let him also have a nice collar which will distinguish him from all other animals. The mosquitoes will be looked after. Miss Ida Cowart, of Pearlport, Miss., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Sadler. Miss Carrie Daget is visiting old friends in Slidell. A welcome little visitor arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McDaniel last week. My visit is long and happy, and may be prove to be a great blessing to his parents. Mr. Howard, of New Orleans, spent Sunday here with friends. Mr. Mular was also over Sunday. I wish Ruben Haysed would take another trip to town and give us some more ideas on city life. Misses Ethel and Mabel Schroder are the guests of Miss Bulah Orr. Miss Jennie Maloon of the big store here is away for two weeks' vacation. Her smiling face is very much missed. Mr. C. D. Waite, of Bogotown, Miss., moved his barber-shop to our little town, near the postoffice. With best wishes, I am "YE SCRIBE."

ABITA ITEMS.

A grand entertainment and ball was given by Mr. Fred. W. Lover, of New Orleans, the world-famed magician and African traveler, assisted by Marlan Isabelle, for the benefit of Abita Fire Co. No. 2 last Saturday evening, at Courthouse Hall, Prof. C. Adams and furnished the latest music, opening the entertainment with an overture. Prof. Lover is pronounced by the press and the public to be the equal, if not the superior of the late Herman the Great. He has given his performances before all the high commissioners of Africa, governors, clergy, doctors, and laity, in all the West India Islands. He is a pupil of Herr Dobler, the celebrated German magician, and was for years with Messrs. Maskilyne and Cook London.

The refreshment booths, in charge of the ladies of Abita, did a lucrative business, and netted a large revenue for the good cause.

After the specialties dancing was enjoyed for several hours. The entertainment was a success, which was largely due to the work of the committees.

Donations were received from the ladies of Abita, Mrs. J. H. Bens, Mrs. V. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Vitter, Mr. T. Stire, Mrs. L. Hoffman and others.

The famous "Log Cabin" saloon has closed its doors for the season, and we surely miss our friend Mr. A. Beaucaudray. We hope to meet this popular young gentleman soon again.

This month one year ago Mr. Tom C. Love was brought from Texas to Abita Springs to die. Today this gentleman is in the finest health. Mr. Love and wife and Mr. A. Beaucaudray, of Covington, will leave soon for Houston, Texas. We wish them a pleasant trip. E. B. M.

The New Orleans Picayune has inaugurated a systematic series of "Winter Resort" advertisements for New Orleans and adjacent towns, in the development of whose business it is much interested. It is the aim of the Picayune to show the world that winter residence hereabouts is most delightful and productive of good health, and next Sunday it will print an illustrated large advertisement showing the advantage of a winter's sojourn at Covington. The merchants and business men should purchase a number of extra copies to send to their distant friends.

HORSE BRANCH ITEMS.

Your pencil shaver will try to give you a few more local happenings from this community, the royal vineyard of St. Tammany Parish.

We all have high heads and proud hearts at this time of the season, although there are some cases of fever here, and it is mostly among children, of tonsillitis, sore throat, but not serious. The farmers are rushing with their cotton picking, while the price is good, as every farmer needs every cent he can get on his cotton.

There has been a heap said of a large cotton crop. There is going to be a heap shorter cotton crop than they imagine this season.

Wilson Willie, of the Fendason community, has a very sick son, of typhoid pneumonia. The fever has not cooled for twenty-two days.

Aunt Polly Allison was visiting the family of Mr. and Mrs. Bruhl Friday. Mr. John Cain is burning a tar kiln on Tchefuncta, which he says will run about 20 barrels.

We are having a few local showers, which are much needed to aid the good housewife in saving her young cabbage.

Mr. George Fendason is the happy recipient of a fine girl baby, on the 3rd instant.

There will soon be some fine fall gardens in this vicinity, and we would like to see our good editor come around and take a peep at them.

Mr. Luke Allison, of the 7th ward, was rustling all the onions he could get at Horse Branch Wednesday. I think Luke must love onions, as well as filling a rusty saw. He also reports having ears of corn as large as a half gallon fruit jar. Now Luke, come down a bear or two. That is mighty corn ain't it?

We are sorry to note the death of the infant son of Mr. B. A. Booth, of this community, on the 3rd instant, and was interred in the Allison cemetery on the 4th. The bereaved parents have sympathy of the entire community.

There is a singing school being made up in this community, to be taught by Prof. Bush, at Bogue Falls Church, which will commence about the last of this month. There already seventeen scholars subscribed to go to the school, and a number of others say they will go, which will make a school of about forty pupils. There is nothing more needed in this community than a good singing class. We wish the school success.

All the families that are interested in the Allison family cemetery met last week and cleaned it up nicely and re-filled all the graves, which added greatly to its appearance. I think it is one of the nicest little family cemeteries in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Thompson are putting on a nice coat of paint on the palings of the grave of their little son, Mr. Eddie Thompson, who bought the J. M. Allison farm. Consideration, $900.00.

Best wishes to the Farmer's force. I. C. T.

TERRA HILL ITEMS.

Everything is progressing finely out here.

Mr. T. A. Bohne enlivens the surrounding country by choicest gems of music on the phonograph.

Little Lea is quite an expert at anything he undertakes. He handles a pen with the greatest of ease, takes delight in practical knowledge, while he is quite a hamster on a farm. In picking cotton he is quite a nigger.

Little Theodore Bohne is not behind the times. He is the boy that never stands back when it comes to books or manual labor.

Mrs. Carl Schneider, of New Orleans, is visiting Mrs. T. A. Bohne. Little Stanley Schneider is a bright boy and possesses the art of knowing how to please all. Success to the Farmer. J. C.

Voice from the City

New Orleans, Sept. 23, 1901. The St. Tammany Farmer, "Old Reliable," is on hand today, as usual, with the latest news of the ozone district.

Your interesting Eighth Ward article, like the rest of us, is shocked over the cowardly assassination of our adored President, but he finds his ever ready wit'er he returns to the "Woodstock."

What has become of "Ruben Haysed" if he delayed paying us another visit until last week, he doubtless took his gentle hearted self into some quiet retreat and dissolved into tears, for New Orleans knows how to mourn as it knows how to rejoice. Everywhere could be seen elaborate draperies, and Thursday the tolling of so many bells was indeed doleful, to say nothing of the immense crowd that thronged Canal street to witness the solemn obsequies. A most appropriately draped window representing the Goddess of Liberty standing modestly draped in the United States flag, tied back with crepe, and over her slender body a sheer black veil. In her hand a faint gas jet, and her eyes resting gently on the calm, smiling features of Wm. McKinley. Directly under his features were his last sentences uttered, "Good bye; all good bye. It's God's will. Let His will be done, not ours."

This subscriber is well acquainted with St. Tammany and its people, and the Farmer is watched for, by the whole family. A few weeks ago it brought us the news that Mr. W. C. Pharis, whom we have often met, was ill, but we were glad when week before last it told us that an operation performed in our city had been successful, and he was on the road to recovery.

What has become of your suburb correspondent? Her items, with your personals, only give us more Covington news, which of course we are always anxiously waiting to read.

We hope Hedges, Wildwood, Ruben Haysed, and your other newey correspondents, will be on hand this week, but not with such lengthy items as to crush the shallow thoughts of a TENDERFOOT.
