Success in Life
The editor of the Courier-Journal, Hon. Henry Watterson, a man who is somewhat beyond the medium of life and in a position to look back over a brilliant career, has this to say of earthly happiness:
"Success in life is happiness, and the happy man, the successful man, is the man who believes his old wife the best woman in the world, and the vine-covered cottage he calls his home the dearest spot on earth, and who would not swap his ragged, freckle-faced, red-headed children for the best-dressed and best looking kids of the proudest and richest man on earth. The men in their place are the men who stand. Essential as are material things of life, under right conditions, they do not, of themselves, bring happiness. Millions of money will not save the sensitive man the tortures of a sore toe. Infinite fame will not save the proud man the torments of a debt he is unable to pay. Happiness is a creation of the mind and heart, and not of the stomach and body."

She Was Afraid.
In Henry county, this state, some years ago, a young woman who was suing her former sweetheart for breach of promise was put on the witness stand and lawyers, as usual, began making all sorts of inquisitive interrogatories.
"You say," remarked one, "that the defendant frequently sat very close to you?"
"Yes, sir," was the reply, with a hectic flush.
"How close?"
"Close enough so's one cheer was all the sittin' room we needed."
"And you say he put his arm around your waist?"
"No, I didn't."
"What did you say, then?"
"I said he put both arms around me."
"Then what?"
"He hugged me."
"Very hard?"
"Yep' he did. So hard that I came purty near hollerin' right out."
"Why didn't you holler?"
"Cause."
"That's no answer. Be explicit, please; because what?"
"Cause I was afeard he'd stop."
—Chicago Post

A FARMER STRAIGHTENED OUT.
A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Bayder, of Patuxent Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time, for it cured me." For sale by V. H. Frederick, Druggist.

It may be only a coincidence that New York hospitals should be increasing their capacity at the same time New York society girls are learning to make pie.

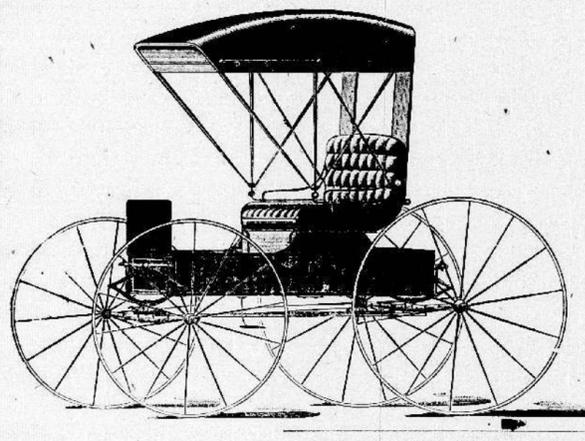

No Cause for Complaint: "I really shall have to leave this hotel," said the weary man to the proprietor. "There is a baby in the next room to mine, and he cried all night." "I don't see why you should complain," said the proprietor. "His father and mother have him in the same room with them and they haven't said a word." —Tid Bits.

Mr. Joseph Pominville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble without relief, was advised by his druggist Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box, by V. H. Frederick, druggist.

Maude—"Did you hear about Miss Antiquate's elopement?" Clara—"Elopement!" Maude—"Yes. A horse ran away with her." —Chicago Daily News.

The clothes press is a swell affair for garments nice and neat, the hay press is a good machine, and does its work complete; the cider press is lovely, with its juice so red and sweet, but the printing press controls the world and gets there on both feet.
