OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF ST. TAMMANY PARISH

W. G. KENTZEL, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

One of the mistakes of women-kind is in not knowing how to eat, writes a thoughtful observer of women. If a man is not to be fed when she is, she thinks a cup of tea or anything handy is good enough. If she needs to save money she does it at the butcher's cost. If she is busy she will not waste time in eating. If she is unhappy she goes without food. A man eats if the undertaker interrupts, and he is right. A woman will choose ice cream instead of beef-steak and a man will not. An other of her mistakes is in not knowing how to rest. If she is tired she may sit down, but she will darn stockings, crochet shawls, embroider doilies. She doesn't know that hard work tires. If she is exhausted she will write letters or figure her accounts. She would laugh at you if you hinted that reading or writing could fail to rest her. All over the country women's hospitals flourish because women do not know how to rest. Another mistake on the list is their constant worrying. Worry and hurry are their enemies, and yet they hug them to their bosoms.

No greater foe to human progress exists than ignorances. It has crushed genius, opposed advancement, kindled persecution, caused bloodshed, and in every way added to the sum of human misery. It is the parent of frankest prejudice, intolerance and fanaticism. Its lowest form is superstition. Wherever it prevails, no one appears happy. The more it is combated the better will it be for the state, the country and humanity in general.

Feminine Reasoning.

Postal Clerk—You'll have to put another stamp on that letter. Miss Pert—Why? Postal Clerk—Because its overweight. Miss Pert—But, gracious! Another stamp would make it still heavier.—Magazine of Humor.

Over 22 per cent of the men who enlisted in the war with Spain have applied for pensions, and this notwithstanding the fact that less than half of this number were ever under fire.

A baby gets all its bad traits from its father! If you don't believe it, ask the mother.—Washington Democrat.

Anxious Mother—That young man who calls on you twice a week stays too late. You will have to sit down on him. Pretty Daughter—Why I do mamma.—Chicago News.

Uncle Josh (in restaurant)—Say, hev yew got any fish? Waiter—Yeessah. We has black bass, striped bass, bluefish an, white fish, sah, Uncle Josh—I don't keer nuthin' erbout the color, jist so es they be fresh.—Chicago News.

"Don't you think that young Hunker wants to marry Miss Dollery for her money?" asked Ho-jack. "I think so," replied Tomdik. "I heard him say that he loved her for all she was worth."—Judge.

A maiden fair, with sun-kissed hair, came tripping down the street; her face serene, her age 16—gee whiz, but she was sweet! On the sidewalk slick, she came down quick, with a jolt that shook her curls; but the words used must be excused, for she's one of our nicest girls.—Ex.

A young wife who went with her husband to St. Louis for the World's Fair dedication writes home that they had to pay a dollar apiece for sandwiches, and that the water etole the ham from one and put it into another sandwich, getting the same flushtime price for that. Coffee—and such coffee—was 50 cents a cup. The only interesting things I saw were two men—the Governor of North Carolina and South Carolina. They were going into a saloon.

Slopay—"And, doctor, if you will, I wish you would give me something to help my memory. I forget so easily." Doctor—"Very well, I'll send you a bill every month."—Baltimore American.

A New York woman who died the other day left a will directing the payment of $50 a month for the support of her poodle, and $100 a month for the support of her father.

Milk! Cream Cheese! Butter!
