She Is Louisiana

The Farmerville Gazette thus apostrophizes Louisiana: "Louisiana, the queen of the American sisterhood, is growing in comeliness. She is beautiful now, has ever been, and the power of her regal sway is rapidly advancing. She is just at that age where she takes pride in the charms with which nature adorned her and feels that duty impels her to take the tenderest care of them. Her chivalrous sons are most jealous of her sovereignty, and daily strive for her supremacy. She has a varied industry, or to speak more to the fact, varied industries. A population whose national origin, though varied, is yet homogeneous, in fact they are all Louisianians with a common purpose—the advancement of the interests of their beloved sovereign state. She has her throne builded beneath the sunniest skies that light the globe, and her shores are laved by the waters of the great gulf. She lives perfumed by aroma of the world's choicest flowers, when bleak winter's chills has enshrouded her more northern sisters. Boreas, when most furious, stops in his madden career to pet and woo her. She is the heart of almost all the earth's mineral veins. She is rich in all and holds a generous, charitable hand to the children of her poorer sisters. Louisiana is now earth's Eden. She is the gateway to the whole world. She is Louisiana."

Although the consumption of cotton in this country is greater than that of any other country in the world, yet in addition to supplying the home market, the South exported last year over 3,500,000,000 pounds of cotton, worth $317,000,000.

To improve your appetite and strengthen the digestion, try a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. Seitz, of Detroit, Mich., says: "They restored my appetite when impaired, relieved me of a bloated feeling and caused a satisfactory movement of the bowels." There are people in this community who need just such a medicine. For sale by Jos. & Clavaria, druggist. Every box warranted.
