A teacher in one of our schools received the following from a complaining parent a few days ago: Sir Will you please for the future give my boy easier sums to do at nites. This is what he brought home two or three nites ago: If fore gallons of bere will fill thirty-to pint bottles, how many pint and half bottles will nine gallons fill. Well, we tried and could make nothing out of it at all, and my boy cried and said he wouldn't go back without doug it. So I had to go and buy a nine gallon keg of here, which I could ill-afford to do, and then we went and borrowed a lot of wine and brandy bottles besides a few we had by us. Well, we emptied the keg into the bottles and there were nineteen and my boy put that down for an anser. I don't know whether it is rite or not as we split some in doing it. P. M.—Please let the next one be water, as I am not able to buy any more bere.

Mr. William S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally obliged to try the famous Pain Balm which he did, and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by Jos. S. Claverie, Druggist.
