

St. Tammany Farmer

February 16, 1907.

W. G. KENTZEL,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

The distillers are making a hot fight against the denatured alcohol bill pending in Congress.

A dispatch from the Weather Bureau stated that the crest of the Mississippi River would reach Baton Rouge and New Orleans Monday.

The Senate Committee on Military Affairs may be several months yet examining witnesses in the Brownville affair.

The House Judiciary Committee submitted a favorable report on the Littlefield bill prohibiting the shipment of c. o. d. packages of liquor into prohibition States.

California remains firm in her stand for separate schools for the Japanese, unless the Japanese Government agrees to keep coolies out of the United States.

The Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds have agreed to report favorably General Meyer's bill appropriating $70,000 for the erection of a new immigration station at New Orleans.

The New Orleans Great Northern Railroad has started the direct line from Slidell to Abita Springs via Mandeville that will give even better service than at present. The present schedule time will be very much shortened, and the journey from New Orleans will occupy very little over an hour's ride.

The insurance companies seem to be having a hot time of it. Bills to appoint commissioners to fix the rates for the companies are now pending in Connecticut, North and South Carolina and Texas, and the Tennessee Senate has instructed the Insurance Commissioner to inquire into the feasibility of the State undertaking to carry the life risks of its citizens.

New Orleans has again demonstrated its ability to keep pace with the up to date cities by the establishment of a night and day bank. It is known as the City Bank and Trust Company and is situated on Carondelet street, one door from Canal. M. J. Sanders is the President, and F. P. Breckenridge, Cashier. This gives people an opportunity to do business after banking hours and will be a great convenience.

It is a strange thing that a man should not adopt the same business methods in the conduct of public affairs that he finds successful in his own private concern. A capable man is retained in his position as long as his services are first class; but there are a very few in Covington who seem to think the more often an official is changed the better, regardless of the fact that the services rendered are of a high order, and that the thorough knowledge which gives ability for performance only comes with years of experience.

The Postmaster General of Canada has barred all newspapers from the use of the mails with accounts of the filthy portions of the testimony in the Thaw trial, and in Nashville, Tenn., a mass meeting was held by the women to protest against the publication of detailed testimony in the case.

President Roosevelt also has expressed his disapprobation in a note to the Postal Department, in which he advises that action be taken, if feasible.

We have not published the testimony of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in the Thaw murder trial, because it does not make proper reading to be introduced into the homes of our subscribers; but the effect of that testimony upon the jury will probably be greatly in favor of Thaw, for it shows White to have been a man of despicable character, who was dominated by his corrupt and unholy desires, and stopped at nothing; and under the ruling the testimony cannot be controverted.

ENDORSED BY THE COUNTY.

The most popular remedy in Osego County, and the best friend of my family," writes Wm. M. Deltz, editor and publisher of the Osego Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be a new, fail-safe cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the most of them. We always keep a bottle of it in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for Lung and Throat diseases. Guaranteed to never disappoint the taker, by J. L. Watkins' Dispensary, and C. C. Champagne & Co., Druggists.

Carnival in Covington.

Grand Industrial Display—Thousands of Visitors Here—Public Speaking at the Courthouse—Free Barbecue Dinner—Rope Walking and Balloon Ascension—Brilliant Ball at Night—Delightful Weather Prevailed, and Miscellaneous Maskers Thronged.

The Carnival celebration in Covington on Mardi Gras day was a grand success, especially when the short time allowed for its preparation is considered, and reflected credit upon the members of the Business League and citizens in general. The weather was ideal for the occasion, being a perfect day. The parade was an industrial display that reflected credit upon the business institutions of our growing and prosperous town, and thousands of spectators were here from all parts of the parish to witness the display and enjoy themselves. The crowd was orderly, and we learn that not a single arrest was made during the entire festivities.

The parade appeared on the streets about noon, and was composed as follows:

J. B. Kent, Grand Marshal, on horseback.

St. Joseph's College Brass Band.

Lieut. Gov. Jared Y. Sanders, District Attorney Jos. B. Lancaster, Assessor Warren Thomas, Mayor C. Z. Williams and members of the Town Council, in carriages.

Uniform Rank, Woodmen of the World.

Fourth Troop of Cavalry.

Cadets of St. Joseph's College.

The Covington Amusement Co., representing "King of Amusements."

Ozone Lumber Company, representing the "King of Oxone."

V. Planche, Retail Grocery.

E. Galmiche, Fruit and Vegetables.

Mullally & Henry, Grocery.

Preston Burns, "King of Fiddlers."

J. F. Scharfenstein, General Merchandise.

Consumers' Brewery.

Carl Kuby, Making Sausages from a Live Dog.

Porter's 5 and 10-Cent Store, Gaston Galmiche, Confectionery.

Mrs. R. Badon & Son, Livery.

Mutual Building and Supply Company.

Wm. Iban, Cabinetmaker.

D. M. Wadsworth & Bro., Representing Anchor Buggies.

W. R. Badon, Livery.

Heintz & Warren, Livery.

J. A. Domergue & Co., Retail Feed Dealers.

St. Tammany Banking Co.

P. J. Lacroix, Merchant.

Also a number of mounter citizens and miscellaneous maskers.

After the parade the crowd repaired to the Courthouse grounds, where a speaker's stand had been erected.

The proceedings here were opened by a patriotic song, rendered by a number of little girls from the public school.

Mayor C. Z. Williams called the meeting to order and explained the objects of the Business League—organized for the purpose of advancing the best interests of the town. He referred to the fine parade as being but the work of a few days, and predicted a much larger and finer display next year.

He then introduced Hon. Jos. B. Lancaster, District Attorney, who delivered an interesting address, sounding the praises of Covington and urging all to unite and work together for the building up and improvement of our town. His remarks were greeted with frequent applause.

Mayor Williams then introduced Lieut. Governor Jared Y. Sanders, and incidentally remarked that he hoped he would be our next Governor. The hearty applause following this remark showed that the large audience sustained the same sentiment.

Lieutenant Governor Sanders then delivered an eloquent and forcible address, in his usual happy manner, praising Covington as the "Paradise of the South," and its people the peers of any on earth. He also urged harmony of action, and hoped all would work for the building up of Greater-Covington, and that some day we might annex the city of New Orleans and show them how to do things.

His remarks were listened to with wrapt attention, eliciting loud and frequent applause, and at the close it was plain to be seen that without doubt he is to-day the most popular man in the State—at least, that appears to be the opinion of the people of this section.

After the speaking Professor Eckert gave a very creditable exhibition of tight wire walking and acrobatic feats, and later a balloon ascension and parachute leap. The Professor seemed to be absolutely without fear and is possessed of wonderful coolness and nerve.

The Carnival was brought to a fitting close by a grand masquerade ball at the Covington Amusement Co. Rink, which had been elaborately decorated for the occasion, and a handsome throne erected.

Mr. Anatole Beaucaudray was the King of the Carnival, and he chose as his Queen Miss Linda Alpuente, who filled the position with charming grace.

Mr. Arthur DeLabretoune was the King's Attendant.

The little Misses Juanita and Evette Vatterre acted as pages to the King.

The hall was well filled with maskers in gay costumes. The King and Queen led the grand march and then dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, and all had a delightful time, the music being furnished by the Covington Orchestra.

During the day a fine barbecue dinner was served, which was freely indulged in by all who so desired.

Lieut. Gov. Sanders, in his speech last Tuesday, said: "Boom Covington at all times and in all places. Boom it up; boom it up; and tell your hearers, wherever you may be, that there is no place quite as good as Covington."

That is the St. Tammany Farmer's plan; always has been and always will be.

First Train From Franklinton

Franklinton, La., Feb. 12.—The first passenger train on the New Orleans and Great Northern railroad left this place at 12:10 p. m., to-day with four coaches loaded to the guards. This was the first passenger train in and out of Franklinton, and a large crowd was present to welcome the train.

The Goodyear Extension

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 8.—The New Orleans and Great Northern Road has a corps of surveyors at work mapping out the route for the extension of the Fernwood & Golf Road from Tyler town to Columbia, and thence to the harbor of Pascagoula, and the grading contract will be awarded as soon as the survey is finished. President Goodyear expects to push the work on this extension while the main line from Slidell, to the city is being completed, it being the desire of the syndicate to obtain a deep water outlet on the gulf coast by the time the mammoth lumber plant at Bogalusa, said to be the largest in the world, is completed, and the Goodyear export business will be handled through that harbor.

THE LIMIT OF LIFE.

The most eminent medical scientists are most unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by J. L. Watkins' City Drug Store and C. C. Champagne & Co., Druggists.

Thaw Trial
New York, Feb. 14.—Because of the serious illness of Mrs. Joseph B. Bolton, wife of a juror, there is some fear that there will be a mistrial in the Thaw case. Mrs. Bolton, who is 53 years of age, is suffering from double pneumonia and is now passing through the crisis of the disease. Her physician says he can not hold out any possible hope of recovery. Juror Bolton, a man well advanced in years, is anxious to finish his duty in the Thaw case, but with his wife's life in the balance, and he parted from her, the strain may result in his breakdown. Her death would certainly delay the trial, and may incapacitate him from further service.

The illness of Mrs. Bolton caused a postponement of the trial yesterday morning, and last night Juror Bolton, in company with another juror and a deputy, made a visit to his home and remained 45 minutes. Arrangements have been made to keep him informed by telephone of any decided change in the condition of his wife.

A lingering illness, and then the death of Mrs. Bolton, it was stated to-day, would mean such a long delay in the trial that Justice Fitzgerald might feel it necessary to order another panel for the tedious work of selecting a new jury.

Thaw was much cast down yesterday when he learned that Juror Bolton's wife was so ill that a long delay and the dismissal of the present jury might follow. Lawyer Pesbody, who has been a close personal adviser all during the trial, had a hard time calming him.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY A FAVORITE.
"We prefer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to any other for our children," says Mr. L. J. Woodberry of Twining, Mich. "It has also done the work for us in bad colds and croup, and we take pleasure in recommending it."
