A German hygienic expert maintains that lying in the open air is much more beneficial than walking.

The Louisiana Knights of Pythias elected James T. Nix Grand Chancellor, and selected Hammond for next meeting.

A Yale professor has published a new genealogy of the horse, in which he traces the ancestry of the animal back 2,000,000 years.

Patience—What do they charge for a seat at the skating-rink? Practice—Why, I paid for the skates and I sat down for nothing.—Yonkers Statesman.

Engineer J. F. Stevens declares that the project for deep water from Chicago to the Gulf is of more importance to the United States than the Panama Canal.

Remember, it is looking downward that makes one dizzy. Look up, and your brain clears, your heart grows calm, and strength comes to you for every task and every emergency.—Selected.

The small boys of Trenton, Mo., were offered a bounty on all tin cans picked up on the streets and in alleys. In twenty-four hours they had collected 80,000 cans, for which they were paid $200.

Dr. Nicolas Senn, of Chicago, in an address before the Alabama Medical Association at Mobile, said the final triumph of scientific medicine will be the suppression of disease.

Uncle Willis Bankston was in town yesterday and he said there was only one mud hole between Hammond and his house, six miles, but that one extended the entire six miles and was more water than mud.—Hammond Sun.

Tiverton has the oldest water-works of any English town. They were made by Amicia, Countess of Devon, in 1240, and presented to the town. The water is brought from a distance of five miles.

Patronize home industries. Keep money circulating at home as much as possible. There is no better way of building up our town than giving to our home business men our entire and exclusive patronage. The more we help each other the more we help the town.

The date of the next State encampment has been set for Aug. 5, and all social features have been cut out of the program of the encampment. The National Guard will be confined to the regular routine of soldier life at future encampments.

Good country roads increase the value of adjacent property. Increased value of property means larger public revenues derivable from them. The money which may be expended on country roads now will come back into the public treasury in all the years to come in the shape of larger taxes paid by the property benefitted by this improvement.

Country Editors Disposed To Go Slow.

Although the three candidates who will make the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor have announced themselves, together with their platform, the State press is maintaining a neutrality entirely unlike former campaigns.

The last campaign, when the race was between Governor Blanchard and General Jastremski, there was not a paper in the State which did not clearly indicate its choice early in the game—even before the formal announcements were made.

Now, however, a perusal of the papers of the State develops that few have so far given editorial expressions to their choice. Lieutenant Governor Sanders seems to have the best of the situation with the few that have given expression. The big New Orleans dailies are mum, and have announced that they will maintain this position throughout the campaign.

All however are unanimous in demanding a clean campaign, free from mud-slinging.—St. Landry Clarion.

A Philadelphian while cleaning up his back yard discovered a can containing $600 in gold. This should be an inducement for everybody to clean up their back yards, not only for the money there may be in it, but for its beneficial effects from a sanitary point of view. Health is better than wealth.

The Police Jury of Washington Parish has given out a contract to build an addition to the Parish Jail, at a cost of $10,000, which will make room to accommodate 66 prisoners. We fail to see why a prohibition parish should find it necessary to build a larger jail, but there must be a demand for it owing to some cause or another.

BADLY MIXED UP. Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease, two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness, and all stomach liver and kidney complaints. 50c. For sale by C. C. Champagne & Co., druggists, and J. L. Watkins' City Drug Store.
