

St. Tammany Farmer
June 15, 1907.

The Most Rev. Archbishop, J. H. Blenk, of New Orleans, will confer the Sacrament of Confirmation at St. Peter's Church to-day, June 15, to a large class of children and adults from Covington, Madisonville, Abita Springs and other points in the parish.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of St. Scholastica's Academy, Thursday, June 20, at 3 p. m., at St. Scholastica's Hall, with the compliments of Miss Blanche Badon, one of the fair young members of the Senior Class.

The Senior Class of Dixon Academy have our thanks for an invitation to attend the Commencement Exercises, Friday, June 14, at 8 p. m., in Gymnasium Hall. The members of the Senior Class are: May Burgoyne, Ada Cook, Jao. Humphreys, Jr., Andrew McCullam, Ruffin A. Paine, J. Addison Wadsworth and Rene P. Bernard.

The Twenty-ninth Annual Commencement of St. Aloysius' Academy, Meridian, Miss., will take place Tuesday, June 18, at 8 p. m. We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation, with the compliments of Miss Abita Strobel, who is one of the graduates, and will deliver the valedictory address. Her subject will be "The World's Watch Tower."

The Fourth Annual Commencement of St. Joseph's College will take place on Wednesday, June 19, at 1 p. m. Judge Frank McGinnis, of New Orleans, will be the orator of the day. A fine program has been prepared and choice music will be furnished by the College band and orchestra. Patrons and friends of the College are cordially invited. The graduating class numbers six.

We acknowledge the receipt of a handsomely illustrated catalog of Dixon Academy, Wm. A. Dixon, principal. This model boarding school for boys is steadily growing in public favor, and the list of students enrolled come not only from New Orleans and many towns throughout the State, but also from Mississippi, Tennessee and Missouri, besides a number of day pupils from Covington. This Academy has the privilege of awarding two scholarships annually to students desiring to attend Tulane University, and has recently been granted one from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va.

On Friday, June 21st, the amusement loving people of Covington and the surrounding towns will again be entertained by Mr. Jack Ryan and his company of imitable mirth provokers. Mr. Ryan will this time bring his entire troupe of minstrels. With them comes a complete set of costumes and scenery, both of which compare most favorably with the setting of any professional troupe on the road. Among those who will form this company we may mention a few who have already proven their merit: Mr. Jack Ryan and his mechanical doll, Mr. Fitzgerald, Al Verges, the famous rag-timer, and Mr. Chris. Schriever, the sweetest, most pleasing tenor ever heard on Covington's stage. The price of admission to this big minstrel show is 50 cents.

Revival of Proposed New Road.

H. Clay Riggs, of New Orleans, President of the St. Tammany and New Orleans Railroad and Ferry Company, is in Covington and will again launch a movement to build the road. Mr. Riggs will ask the Third Ward of this parish to vote his road a tax of $5,000 a year for ten years, and from present prospects the tax will be carried almost unanimously. Some of the persons who fought the tax recently voted this road in the courts and secured its defeat are now working for the success of the proposition. Many of the business men of Covington will support the tax. The road will insure a quick route for Covingtonians to and from New Orleans.

The new line will extend from Ramsay three miles north of Covington, through Covington to Madisonville, with a branch line to Abita Springs, and a boat running every hour from Mandeville to New Orleans.

The Right to Vote.

Editor ST. TAMMANY FARMER: I notice in the Frankinton New Era a communication dated June 4, signed "A Friend," in which Judge Thos. M. Burns is condemned for having voted the Regular Democratic ticket. It seems to me that in doing this he has shown the same wisdom that has characterized his conduct on the bench, won for him distinction, and made for him an enviable reputation as an able and impartial judge, who has done much toward extirpating lawlessness and maintaining peaceful conditions in his district. Judge Burns took no active part whatever in the election, and that he should be subject to criticism for having exercised the right that is given to every citizen to cast his vote free from restraint or coercive influences spreads a shadow over the intelligence and fairmindedness of the critic.

That high license would accomplish what is claimed for it by its advocates is a disputed proposition, and the result of the election shows that a very large majority of the people supported the Regular ticket, in the belief that in so doing they were acting for the best interests of the community.

Intolerance of thought and action of others; bigoted, unyielding, selfish egotism, that recognizes the utility of naught that does not accord with the set opinion of an individual or class, if given full power and sway, would cause those conditions to eventuate which it has taken us hundreds of years to override and suppress—a retrograde movement undesired by anyone of intelligence. Yet that is the tendency of the criticism of "A Friend," if his ideas were carried to a practical conclusion.

Judge Burns voted the Regular Democratic ticket, and it is to be presumed that in doing so he followed the dictates of his conscience. Both in his official capacity and as a citizen he commands the highest respect of the community, and it is not right that an attempt should be made to render him responsible for imaginary evils—evils that were magnified for political effect by the Covington News, during its mudslinging campaign.

A judge is not supposed to do police duty, but to enforce the laws when violations are brought to his notice in due course of legal procedure.

While I must congratulate "A Friend" upon his complete system for rapid transit of news, yet I am afraid that in this matter he is traveling that "9:50 gait" he speaks about in the commencement of his communication.

A VOTER.

Truth of the Matter.

Editor ST. TAMMANY FARMER: Noticing "Capt." Sanford's letter in this week's issue of the News, I thought it would be well to enlighten him on a few points. Although he signs himself the Secretary of the Citizens' League, and should know the active members of his organization, he seems to have forgotten that Article IV of the Charter of the Citizen's League reads as follows:

The annual fees for membership in this corporation shall be $12.00, payable quarterly in advance.

If my memory is correct, the parties mentioned in the letter to the News paid their first quarterly dues on the 8th of February; therefore, the second installment should have been due on the 8th of May; and as the said dues have not been paid, it is but reasonable to suppose that they did not desire to continue as members.

Truer words were never written than those in which "Capt." Sanford says: "Now, I wish to say, emphatically, that the Citizen's League has not been and will not be a political machine, under its present management."

There is not the slightest bit of danger of their managing anything of greater magnitude than their editor of the "War Cry," of whom they have succeeded in taking admirable care.

And, in finality, would like to state that, with the present powers behind the throne of the Citizen's League, there is no danger of their ever being a political machine made out of it. EX-MEMBER.

Baseball.

The game last Sunday between the Covingtons and Chalmettes, of New Orleans, resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 3 to 0. The Chalmettes made 3 runs in the first inning and 1 in the ninth, but for seven innings the Covingtons were a match for them. The only two-base hit was made by Stern, of the Covingtons, and the home team made two double plays, the only ones in the game. It was a clean and fast game, lasting one hour and five minutes.

The game Sunday will be between the Covingtons and the Blanches of New Orleans. Admission 25 cents; ladies free.

Postmaster Theriot.

Mr. P. E. Theriot received his commission last Monday as Postmaster of Covington, to succeed Mrs. L. Alvarez, who has held the position for a number of years, and before coming here was postmaster at Mandeville. Mr. Theriot came here a number of years ago from Houma, La., where he had been quite successful in business, and it was not long after his arrival before he had made a place for himself in local business circles, and at the time of the disastrous fire some years ago, which wiped out a large part of the town, he was classed as one of Covington's most substantial merchants. He lost almost everything in the fire, but he has steadily recouped his losses until he is to-day ranked as one of the town's most thrifty citizens. Mr. Theriot has for years been a staunch Republican, and when there was a prospect of a vacancy in the local post office his name was the first one mentioned, and he had the endorsement of many prominent citizens. He possesses all the necessary qualifications, and we have no doubt will make an efficient and accommodating official.

A Mandeville Elopement.

Quite an interesting and romantic wedding took place in New Orleans last Tuesday, the parties being from Mandeville. Frank Phillips, of that town, and Miss May Wise were sweethearts, but the mother of the young lady objected to the wedding, which was set for July 3. Mr. Phillips has been paying attention to the young lady for two years, and they determined to defy the opposition of the mother and become man and wife. Monday night Mr. Phillips took Miss Wise to his sister's house, and Tuesday morning they took the train at Buford Station. The mother was looking for them at Mandeville, but they escaped and went to the city, where they were married by Rev. Father Weldon, at St. Joseph's Church. Ernest Prieto and Mrs. A. Haurd stood up with the young people at the marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will remain several days in the city, after which they will be glad to receive their friends at Mandeville, where Mr. Phillips is a prominent livery stable man and undertaker.

The Barbecue.

The big barbecue dinner given by the victorious Regulars last Sunday, on the Tchoufouca River, was a time long to be remembered for the jovial good fellowship that prevailed and for the prominent citizenship that was represented. An abundance of good things for the inner man, and the good feeling evidenced by all made it a grand and successful demonstration.

Short addresses were made by N. G. Pearsall, Clay Riggs, E. Richard, District Attorney Lancaster, W. R. Badon and H. L. Garland, and A. Gabriel sang some songs.

St. Scholastica's Academy.

The pupils of St. Scholastica's Academy will hold their Fourth Annual Commencement, Thursday, June 20, at 3 p. m. in St. Scholastica's Amusement Hall.

The patrons and friends of the institution are cordially invited to attend. However, owing to lack of accommodation, babies and children cannot be admitted.

Quite an interesting program has been prepared for the occasion, and a large attendance is expected.

On Friday, May 31st, one of the best entertainments ever seen in this town was put on at Contrelle Rink under the auspices of the Uniform Rank W. O. W. The affair was under the management of Messrs. Landry, Pechon and Rousseau, and the success attending their efforts was unbounded.

The show from beginning to end was most satisfactory. Mr. Sid. Fuhrman's revelation was very amusing, and the audience heartily applauded. Rr. Ryan, with Fitzgerald as his mechanical doll, was great and the crowd was fooled for a minute or two.

Quite a surprise was experienced by the friends of our local boy, Freddie Vorhoff, when he rendered in faultless style, in a sweet, clear tenor, "And a little child shall lead them." For encore he sang "meet me at the church." With a little training Mr. Vorhoff would be a success as a ballad singer.

Chris. Schriever, as a tenor has no equal in the city of New Orleans. His rendition of "Won't you come over in my yard," and "Love me and the world is mine," proved beyond doubt he is New Orleans greatest tenor.

A. Gabriel in his character songs and work was better than most so called professionals, and Mr. Al. Verges is a pianist of the highest rank. His work was greatly appreciated and loudly applauded.

The comedy entitled "a midnight caller" was well rendered.

After the performance dancing was the order of entertainment until the early hours.

The Circuit Court of Appeals will convene here next Monday, June 17, to hear cases from St. Tammany and Washington Parishes, which have been accumulating for months past. There are about fifteen appealed cases from this parish and four from Washington parish. Judges Ellis, Mouton and Caillouet, will be on the bench.

Sheriff Brewster last Saturday sold several large tracts of land in conformity to a decree of Court, in the case of Delphine Cousin, tatrix, and others, versus Henry Lefrere and others, being a suit for partition of property. The property sold is mostly in the Seventh Ward and on the branch of the New Orleans Great Northern running from Slidell to Mandeville, and located on or near Bayou La-combe. There were five tracts aggregating about 280 acres. On one tract of seventy acres the bidding was quite lively, it was sold for $1,975. The proposition is that the two parties who wanted it worse than the rest of those present had in view a new town site in this delightful part of the parish. The sale price of all the lands was $4,606.
