

St. Tammany Farmer
June 22, 1907.

The Regular Democrats
WILL GIVE A GRAND
CELEBRATION
AND GENERAL GOOD TIME
JULY 4, 1907,
in COVINGTON

Program and full Announcement Will be Made Next Week.

Cottages for the Sick.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Anti-Tuberculosis League in the parlor of the Young Men's Christian Association building on St. Charles street, New Orleans, plans were considered for the building of cottages in St. Tammany, just off the depot. Dr. E. L. McGehee presided over this meeting, which was well attended. The reports of the various committees were read and matters of routine business came up for consideration. Several months ago it was proposed to build a sanitarium on the cottage plan, designs for which were drawn by Crosby and Henkel of this city. It was proposed to make a start with twenty-five cottages, which will be supplied with all modern improvements. The buildings will be in a circle so as to afford greater facilities of communication one with the other. There was read a letter from N. C. Cromwell, president of the Crescent Mattress Company, through the Times Democrat, offering a donation of one dozen of the sanitary mattresses manufactured by the company for the cottages. The offer was gladly accepted.

Circuit Court adjourned last Wednesday till Saturday afternoon, when judgments will be rendered.

In December, 1903, three years and six months ago, we published an editorial headed "J. Y. Sanders our Next Governor." Such was our opinion at that time, and from all appearances our prediction will come true. This is an evidence of the foresight and political sagacity of the St. Tammany Farmer.

Among the indictments found by the Grand Jury was one against Ed. Brown, charging him with enticing a young girl, with the purpose of corrupting her. He did not accomplish his purpose and was soon arrested and locked up. He has made a confession and will, no doubt, get the full benefit of the law.

Mr. W. A. Hood, Vice President of the Covington Naval Stores Co., last week closed a deal with the Genesee Lumber Company for 4000 acres of land, and also secured turpentine leases on 3000 acres of land in St. Tammany Parish, from ten to fifteen miles distant from Covington. The deal involves upwards of $86,000.

Representative James J. Bailey, of St. Landry Parish, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, spent last Monday in Covington. It was his first visit to our town, but during his short stay he created a very favorable impression, and many who made his acquaintance express themselves in a way that shows he is their choice for the high office to which he aspires. He is in every way qualified and would fill the position with ability and dignity.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the St. Tammany Ice and Manufacturing Company the following Board of Directors were elected: C. S. E. Babington, Emile Frederick, Paul Laborde, Robt. Lobdel, E. J. Frederick, L. A. Rose and Mose Hollander, and they elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: President, C. S. E. Babington; Vice President, Paul Laborde; Secretary - Treasurer, E. J. Frederick.

The quarterly muster of the Fourth Troop Cavalry, brought out 70 per cent of the men and revealed a fine spirit among the men. The mustering officer, Captain W. S. Hero, of the First Troop Cavalry, expressed himself as highly pleased with the condition of the Troop and the interest taken by the men. He paid Quartermaster Sergeant F. Boudousque a handsome compliment, stating that the army was in perfect condition and the best arranged of any he had inspected. After the muster the officers had supper at the Southern Hotel complimentary to Captain Hero.

Was It a Political Machine or a League?

In reply to an article published in the Covington News, entitled, "A Correction," signed "Wm. Sanford," I wish to state that myself and a number of my friends did join the Citizen's League. We were assured by the organizers of the League that no politics would be tolerated; therefore, we joined, with the sole purpose of building up Covington. To our surprise, the promises of the organizers were not carried out. I was informed by the president of the League, M. C. Smith, some six weeks ago, that he was going to resign because the League was being run into politics. Mr. Smith, I believe, did make an attempt to resign, but failed to do so.

Mr. Sanford, the League's Secretary, is being paid, I believe, $50.00 per month by the League. Mr. Sanford, although not a voter, was notoriously prominent on the side of the Progressive (?) ticket. He got out posters, saw that they were distributed, and devoted practically his whole time to the interest of the Progressive (?) ticket. If Mr. Sanford did anything for the League for at least a month before the election but drew his salary, did any one hear of it? In fact, did any one ever hear of Sanford doing anything but draw his salary?

The League and its Secretary have been a complete failure. Myself and friends have had nothing whatever to do with the League since it was demonstrated to our satisfaction that its energies were devoted to the election of the Progressive (?) ticket, instead of trying to build up Covington.

A VICTIM.

BATON ROUGE TRUTH Comes Out in Support of Sanders for Governor.

The Baton Rouge Truth, last Sunday morning came out editorially in a strong piece supporting Lieutenant Governor J. Y. Sanders for Governor, and this is of special political interest because of the fact that the men of Baton Rouge who own the Truth were the strongest supporters of General Leon Jastremski for Governor. L. J. Amis, Business Manager and editor of the Truth, was Secretary and General Manager of General Jastremski Committee in the last gubernatorial campaign. Mr. Amis also published the People, that espoused General Jastremski's cause four years ago.

Among the owners of the Truth are: Congressman George K. Favrot, District Attorney Wax, Mayor Wade Bynum, Parish Treasurer Randolph Jules Roux and Joseph Gottlieb, who were on General Jastremski's Campaign Committee in 1904.

Lieutenant Governor Sanders will have the support of both of the Baton Rouge papers, as the Daily State, editorially controlled by J. E. Edmonds, is an admirer and supporter of Governor Sanders.

The Daily Truth's editorial supporting Jared Y. Sanders is as follows:

In presenting to the readers of Truth our choice for the highest office within the gift of the people of the State we do so believing that his election will insure to Louisiana for the next four years a clean, manly and brilliant administration. Jared Y. Sanders is no stranger in matters of State; he has been in public life ever since he became a voter and has spent a great portion of his "official life" in Baton Rouge, where he is well and favorably known. As a legislator he reached the highest office in the Legislative Assembly, that of Speaker of the House of Representatives. The young St. Mary Democrat was popular indeed among his fellow-legislators, and that popularity seems to have grown from year to year. Mr. Sanders was elected Lieutenant Governor by the largest popular vote given any candidate in the primary election held for the purpose of nominating the Democratic State ticket and a United States Senator.

Mr. Sanders' friends are loyal and enthusiastic in his support; his enemies admire him for his splendid ability and the manly way that he proclaims his position in his remarkable platform submitted for the consideration of the voters of Louisiana.

Mr. Sanders, by his past record, services and fealty to his party and people truly deserves:

"Well done thou good and faithful servant," which is the very best recommendation that one can offer when he aspires to higher honors at the hands of the people of a great State.

Dixon Academy Commencement.

The closing exercises of Dixon Academy were held Friday night in the large gymnasium building, which, with its roomy stage and comfortable seating capacity, is the finest auditorium in this section. The large room was well filled with patrons and friends of the school, both from Covington and other parts of the State, who had come to witness the presentations of awards and the closing of the most prosperous year in the history of this prosperous school. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the large auditorium, with a seating capacity of 500, was filled to repletion.

The Academy Glee Club furnished a number of excellent musical selections, and there were several musical contributions from other students.

The opening prayer was offered by Rev. J. M. Williams, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

Two short plays were admirably rendered in the course of the evening. The first, entitled "Fair Encounter," by two young lady students; the other, "The Two Bonycastles," by six young gentlemen, three of whom impersonated ladies.

The class essay was delivered by Mr. Rene Bernard.

Judge John Clegg, of New Orleans, delivered the commencement address in his usual masterful style, which was listened to with wrapt attention by both students and audience. He chose as his subject, "The Tyranny of Phrases."

After music by the Glee Club, Prof. W. A. Dixon spoke briefly of the work of the session just closed, and in a few appropriate remarks awarded diplomas to each of the following graduates: Miss May Burgoyne, Covington; Miss Ada Cook, Covington; Andrew McCollam, Ellendale, La.; Rufin Paine, Mandeville; Rene Bernard, New Orleans, and Addison Wadsworth, Covington.

Andrew McCollam won the scholarship of the State University, and Rene Bernard, who has been a student here for the past four years, and whose marks have been very high, and Addison Wadsworth, one of Covington's brightest sons, won the scholarship to Tulane.

A medal for being the best drilled cadet was awarded to Walker Ellis, son of C. P. Ellis, of New Orleans.

Miss Ada Cook expects to go to State Normal and Miss May Burgoyne to Newcomb.

Rev. Ernest Kennie, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, pronounced the benediction.

At the close of the program the seats were removed and refreshments and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour.

Many of the students have enrolled for the next term, which past experience assures us will be one of continued prosperity and usefulness.

Honey Island Sold.

A deed to one of the finest tracts of hard-wood timber in this section of the State was filed with H. R. Warren, Clerk of Court, last week. The deed is to Honey Island, in Pearl River, and is drawn by the Honey Island Land and Timber Co., of New Orleans, to Messrs. Messrs. Morgan Jones and William A. Hill, and conveys title to 12,841 acres of heavily timbered land. The compensation is stated as $80,000. This deed gives title to the saw mill and all other improvements at Pearl River Station on the New Orleans and North-eastern Railroad.

This is one of the largest transactions recorded in this parish in several years, and it means much to the development of that section, as it is expected that this timber will now be developed, such machinery being placed on the property as will be necessary to turn out staves, spokes and such other products.

The only store in the parish that sell a strictly high grade coffee for 9c a pound is Smith's General Merchandise Store, Abita Springs.

It is never too late to ring up 308, where you get goods that are up to date.

Our Timber Heritage.

There is hardly a tree standing in our forest that has not a commercial value—a value that is constantly increasing as the country is developing. In the light of this fact it is criminal folly in any man to fell timber to take in new ground, when scientific agriculture points the way to the speedy reclamation of worn out lands by judicious fertilizing and rotation of crops. Our timber heritage has been abused as bad if not worse than our lands, and sound economy pleads that both abuses cease and that we should appreciate what we have and not depreciate it by a policy that is utterly defenseless from any viewpoint.

In the case of the Adams Express Company against the State of Kentucky, involving the alleged traffic in whiskey through the instrumentality of the express companies, in the delivery of C. O. D. packages, the Supreme Court of the United States has rendered a decision against the State, on the ground that the State law interfered with interstate commerce. This decision will permit the shipment of C. O. D. whiskey.

Roll of Honor.

Following is the Roll of Honor for the Sixth and Fifth grades for the term:

SIXTH GRADE.

MRS. CORA CLARK, Teacher.

Favor the Tax.

Petitions asking the property taxpayers of the Third Ward to vote a special tax of $5000.00 a year for ten years in favor of the St. Tammany and New Orleans Railroad and Ferry Co. are being signed by nearly every tax payer in the Ward. The Fourth Ward, realizing the great benefit to be derived from this road and its line of fast boats across the Lake voted almost unanimously for the tax last year. With this road in operation, the country between Ramsey, Covington, Abita Springs and Mandeville would rapidly be settled up by people from the city seeking homes in the pure air of the famous ozone belt, as it would supply the only thing useful at present, cheap and rapid transit. The proposition in its new shape, is meeting with almost unanimous indorsement, and will doubtless be carried by a large majority.

W. H. Kentzel, the practical job printer, has issued some artistic and useful blotting pads, containing an inch measure and a calendar for the present year.

A number of deaths from sunstroke occurred this week in Chicago and other Northern cities. Such things are unheard of in Covington, the healthiest and most favored spot in the whole country.

A grand entertainment and dance to be given for the benefit of the Lutheran Church at Abita Springs, on June 27, 1907. The following artists will appear: Fred Vorhoff, Covington's favorite tenor will sing ballads. Mr. Vorhoff possesses a sweet voice and has never failed to please his audience.

S. Gabriel, an old minstrel man, will show his versatility in German dialect songs and stories. Salzer and Fuhrman, will offer their unique recitation.

Sam J. Adams, New York's favorite comedian will convulse the audience by his well known comedy methods.

STRAYED
From Abita Springs, about five days ago, one dark-brown horse; short tail; 15½ hands high. Return to Ben Recurt, Abita Springs, and receive reward.

A prudent progressive policy, is the mark at which we aim.

The Great Northern's Progress.

General Manager N. G. Pearsall, of the New Orleans Great Northern, announces that despite the weather conditions, the present indications are that the new line will be constructed into Jackson, Miss., on schedule time. The surveys have been concluded and the right of way has been obtained, clearing up some of the most important features of the work. The tie situation, Mr. Pearsall says, is good, and no trouble is anticipated in that direction. The main line has been completed a little north of Columbia, and work is being pushed northward from that point. Construction is also going on in both directions from Monticello, the line having been completed to Smith's Ferry, on the north. The building south from Monticello is being pushed, so as to enable the Company to put another steam shovel to work on the bluffs which it is necessary to cut through.

The New Orleans Great Northern Railroad Company will have, when its line is completed, one of the finest roadbeds in the South. I mean by this a high standard roadbed. Most of the railroads in the South are built on narrow roadbeds, but the New Orleans Great Northern has an 18-foot fill, with 24 foot cuts—in short, everything is ready for the reception of a double track system, which it is the intention to eventually put in.

St. Scholastica's Academy

The large hall of the Convent was filled last Thursday, to witness the commencement exercises of St. Scholastica's Academy. There were about 100 scholars in attendance this year, and the graduating class consisted of five young ladies. An excellent program had been prepared, which was charmingly rendered, much to the credit of scholars and teachers, and greatly to the delight of the large audience. Hon. Lionel Adams, of New Orleans, was the orator of the day, and his interesting address was listened to with marked attention.

Miss Blanche, Badon of Covington, the valedictorian, read an interesting essay.

Miss Barbara Engelhardt was the salutatorian.

For a good watch in gold or silver case, J. F. Doty has them, in Covington, La.

St. Joseph's College

The Commencement Exercises of St. Joseph's College took place last Wednesday, and was largely attended by friends and patrons of the College from Covington, New Orleans and elsewhere. An attractive program was well rendered by the students, who reflected great credit upon the efficiency of their teachers in the various departments. Judge Frank McGloin, of New Orleans, delivered the commencement oration. There were five young gentlemen in the graduating class.

Diplomas and graduating medals were conferred by Abbot Paul to John Yokum, Wm T. Hogg, Warren J. Hebert, Remy Doucet, Adam Tate and John Hogan.

B. H. and E. Coming.

It is now an assured fact that the Baton Rouge, Hammond and Eastern Railroad is to build its road through this section, but whether it will come into the town of Covington depends entirely upon the willingness of the people of Covington to vote them a tax of $40,000.

The survey passes north of town several miles, and going east crosses the New Orleans Great Northern track at Talisbeek Station, thence passing east to the north of Honey Island.

Conrad & Keller have established a camp a few miles west of town on the Tchoufouctus River, and have begun cutting the right of way. They have the contract to cut about sixteen miles of right of way between the Tchoufouctus and Tangipahoa rivers and to build a part of the roadway on this strip.

Considerable right of way has been secured through this section and present indications point to the fact of rapid construction of the road.

A REAL WONDERLAND.
South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations is a veritable wonderland. At Mount City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine that saved his life and completely cured him." Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles. 50c and 1.00. Trial bottle free.

Slidell is Growing.
Slidell, La., June 14.—This place in sight of Lake Pontchartrain and on the New Orleans and North-eastern Railroad, has grown into quite a little city, of perhaps over 2000.
The principal industries are, saw-mill of 100,000 feet capacity a day, two brick manufacturing plants of combined capacity of 280,000 brick a day and a creosoting plant handling 20,000,000 feet of lumber a year. Large contracts are now being filled for creosoted timber to go to Panama. Over 2,000,000 gallons of creosote, or coal tar oil, is used by this firm per annum, about one pound being forced into each board foot, thus being ordinary sap timber well-nigh indestructible so far as weather is concerned.
The place also has a bank, two hotels and quite a number of business houses.
Almost nothing has been undertaken in an agricultural way yet, the people have been so busy manufacturing. Thousands of acres of fine grazing and agricultural land are entirely denuded of timber, and would seem to offer a prospect for the agriculturist, gardener and dairyman. W. C. WELBORN.

If you want a strictly big grade coffee for 9c a pound, go to Smith's General Merchandise Store at Abita Springs. Headquarter for Hamilton Brown shoes.
