A man named Clemmons was brought in from Abita last Monday morning by Eugene Morin, charged with carrying concealed weapons and disturbing the peace. He had a big 32 strapped to his person in a holster, and had drawn it on two women in a buggy near the Abita bridge, Sunday, with the remark: "If you don't look out and burn the wind I'll light down on you." He was placed in the Abita jail till Monday morning, when he was handed over to Sheriff Brewster.

DIED. - In the Sixth Ward, Friday, February 21, 1908, MRS. MARGERET DAVENPORT, nee Margeret Foster, born June 31, 1817.

Mrs. Davenport was a widow of the late Robert Davenport, one of the Mexican war pensioners.

She leaves to mourn her loss, one son, Joseph Davenport, with whom she lived, and one daughter, Mrs. J. E. Prims, of New Orleans; eleven grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren. She lived and died a good, true Christian life, and was loved by all who knew her.

The Prohibitionists.

Dr. Charles L. Collins, secretary of the Tennessee Anti-Saloon League, who was to have spoken at the Methodist Church Tuesday night, was called elsewhere, and Rev. Dr. Lawrence, of the Coliseum Place Baptist Church, of New Orleans, spoke in his stead.

The meeting was largely attended and all were very much impressed with Dr. Lawrence's lecture. His delivery is excellent and he is a very interesting talker. He was preceded in his address by Rev. J. E. Brakefield, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Covington.

Mr. Brakefield reviewed the business situation of the parish and the effects of the money stringency upon its different interests, showing that the saloon business was comparatively unaffected. That money needed for legitimate business poured into the coffers of the liquor dealers. That there were five saloons in the parish feeding upon the earnings that should support families, educate children and assist business interests. He said that if the saloons were good, keep them; if not, do away with them. The four larger saw mills of the parish would welcome their abolition for the benefit they would derive through more reliable and competent labor and the general prosperity and social improvement it would bring to the employes.

Dr. Lawrence spoke of the progress that is being made in the temperance cause and of its benefits to the communities in which prohibition had been tried, and drew some very vivid pictures in his illustrations of the evil effects of the sale of liquor, and of the happiness, contentment and prosperity that followed its abolishment.

The effects of Dr. Lawrence's words will probably be the conversion of some who were inclined to doubt that prohibition could accomplish what is claimed for it.

SOCIETY NOTES.

BY OUR SOCIETY EDITOR, MATRONITA.

Scattered sprays of dogwood and wild honeysuckle give beautiful promise of Spring. All hail to the sweet blooms, for their message is one we ever love to hear! When we have grown tired of gloomy days, leaden skies and the sadness that falls upon us when we see the ravages made by frost and cold, the dazzling white and dainty pink of these harbingers of balmy days, bright sunshine and pine-laden breezes are not only a delight to the eye, but a comfort to the weary heart.

The Grim Reaper has done sad work among us this winter, and has mercilessly mowed down many young and many valuable lives.

All are sincerely mourned—none more than Mr. Paul Segond, whose untimely death has cast a gloom over the entire community. Words are useless in an effort to voice our sorrow or to express our sympathy to his bereaved wife and family. We can but pause to hang a wreath upon the broken columns, which marks the ending of his young life, and lay a token of sincere esteem upon his new made grave.

A most attractive photograph has been made of Miss Ethel Decker and her group of merry little kindergarten children for the current number of the Kindergarten Review. The picture shows Miss Decker and her bonny wee charges grouped upon the sand bar, near the bridge, in our picturesque Bogue Falaya, and the scene is a charming one.

The ladies' Friday Afternoon Euchre Club did not meet last Friday, on account of the sad death of Mr. Plattmeyer, brother of Mrs. Sauter, who is a valued member of the club.

The next meeting of the Club will be held at the residence of Mrs. H. H. Smith.

A most delightful surprise party was given Mrs. Chas. Colton by the members of the Five Hundred Club, at the home of Mrs. Sydney Prague, on Saturday last. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Chas. Colton, and the afternoon was pleasantly spent with cards and music. Mrs. C. F. Hardie won the pretty prize offered, and gracefully presented it to Mrs. Colton, the guest of honor. Delicious refreshments were served, and the merriment lasted until old Sol had long since sunk to rest.

Miss Eisenberg, of New York, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. Stern, and will remain throughout the winter.

Many Northern visitors are among us, fled from the snow, ice and chilling winds of their colder homes to our warmer and brighter climate.

Among the guests at the Southern Hotel this week are: Mrs. S. M. Allport, of Chicago; Theo. Roberts and wife, of Chicago; H. L. Bourgeois, New York; Mrs. D. B. Bomain and grandson, of Chicago.

The Dramatic Club is again doing earnest work, and intends to give a merry drama in the near future. The members of this club are all talented, and we can hope for something good. Mr. Francis Keller is stage manager, Mr. Edmund Stern business manager, Mr. Julian Lafaye secretary. The other members are: Mrs. C. Marvin Poole, Mrs. Julian Lafaye, Miss Anna Diendorf, Miss Alcega Cologne, Mr. John Diendorf, Mr. Meade Fontaine and Mr. Sidney Fuhrman.

The Five Hundred Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Ernest Wailles, on Tuesday afternoon, at her out-of-town home among the pines. The members of the club were all present, and greatly enjoyed Mrs. Wailles' gracious hospitality.

The dainty prize was won by Miss Lillie Allain. The club will next meet at the home of Miss Lillie Allain.

Mrs. H. M. Landon and daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Alice, have come down from Indianapolis, Indiana, to spend several weeks in Covington with Mrs. F. A. W. Davis, Mrs. Landon's mother.

The Embroidery Club had a pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. Preston Burns, on Wednesday afternoon. The affair was a very pleasant one, and many members were present.

Mrs. W. B. Dugas of Bayou Lafourche is visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Dugas, in Virginia street.

Covington, among its many other advantages, is especially fortunate in possessing in its vicinity more large and well established educational institutes than most towns of its size throughout the United States. For centuries, in the old world as well as the new, university towns have been regarded as a higher type, enjoying a greater share of culture and refinement. Let us hope that Covington is reaping the distinction and advantages to which her good fortune in the aforesaid way entitles her. They are her just deserts.

Tixon played the Y. M. C. A., of New Orleans, at Basket Ball and won with a score of 21 to 10. Our boys are certainly doing fine work, and this is another triumph added to the one gained over the Tulane. They are to play the Ushers, a crack team from New Orleans, some time in the near future. Good luck to the Dixon laddies.

Prof. and Mrs. Brandt B. V. Dixon were week's-end visitors to the Academy, the distinguished guests of Prof. and Mrs. Wm. Dixon.

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Gautreaux are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hardie for the winter.

Mrs. E. John Ellis and her daughter, Mrs. Emerson are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Ellis. Mr. J. H. Harrell spent several days in Covington last week, a guest of the Southern.

Miss Kilpatrick is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Dixon, at the Academy. Mr. and Mrs. Leonval have been stopping with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hardie since the destruction of their home by fire.

We are delighted to hear that the young men of Covington have banded themselves together with an organized fire company. Time and again these same men have showed their pluck and ability as fire-fighters, and have worked like heroes, many times, alas, to no avail, simply because they were not organized, had no leader, and worse still, nothing adequate with which to fight. Now they are trying to get hose and equipment. All Covington should aid these brave boys and cheer them with a rousing cheer in their endeavor.

The many friends of Mrs. E. E. Lyons are glad to hear that she is covering from her recent serious illness.

The carnival Garman to be given at the Southern, next Saturday night, promises to be a delightful affair.

The reception committee is composed of Messrs. C. F. Hardie, W. A. Hood, E. J. Domergue, J. B. Lancaster, Dr. B. B. Warren and Dr. Quitman Kohhke.

Misdeans B. B. Warren, Sidney Prague and Quitman Konke will preside at the favor table.

The Matrons Euchre Club met at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Delery Thursday afternoon. The prizes were handsome. First prize was won by Mrs. Dr. Gribble, second by Mrs. C. Marvin Poole, and consolation by Mrs. Harry Ellis.

The next meeting of the Club will be at the residence of Mrs. Joseph B. Lancaster, in America street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rogers visited Losa, last Sunday.

The many friends of Miss Edith B. Brenham will regret to learn that owing to illness of her mother she had to close her school here and return to her home at Hanibal, Mo.

Mrs. Wm. Wallace, who has been seriously ill for the past week, is slowly recovering.

Mr. Bart Spring is out again, after a few days spent with the grip.

Mr. Ed. Greenlaw and a few friends came up from Ramsay, Wednesday in his motor car.

Last Saturday evening a colored boy, 11 years of age, son of Ben and Nancy Brown, got into the store of Mr. Sherfield while the family were at supper and rifled the cash box. He was found at the home of his parents, and the crowd that gathered about the house frightened him into an admission of his guilt and the money was recovered, $10.60. The boy also admitted having sneaked into the postoffice and stolen a small sum in change. The boy was taken to Covington by Deputy Rae McKee and turned over to Sheriff Brewster.
