G. E. JENKINS, Worshipful Master.
S. BLOSSMAN, Secretary.

It is reported that there are to be two new saw mills, instead of one. One in Covington and one at Goodbee. The more the merrier! We hope it is true.

The Koepf saw mill is again the "Koepf saw mill," he having repurchased it, and it will turn out lumber at the rate of about 20,000 feet a day.

The Woodward and Tiernan Printing Co., of St. Louis, Mo., send to the Farmer a large and handsome calendar for the year 1910, entitled "Steady." It is a hunting scene done in embossed work, handsomely colored and stands out in bold relief, the large dog is in the foreground appearing as a piece of sculpture. The picture is after a painting by Mr. Osthaus, and is a masterpiece.

Mr. J. W. Cundall has arrived in Covington and will be here for several weeks. His wife is expected to join him, and may be here when this issue of the Farmer is printed. When Mr. Cundall left here for England last May it was not generally known that he expected to be married on his arrival there, but it is a fact that immediately upon his arrival in London June 5, 1909, he was married to Mrs. A. B. Rabb, formerly of Covington. They will have apartments at the Southern Hotel.

PARIS FLOODED

The daily papers are full of the flooding of Paris by the overflow of the rivers. The Picayune of the 28th has the following:

Paris, Jan. 28.—Flood conditions had become considerably worse at two o'clock this morning, particularly in the south and east sections. In the old Latin quarters the situation was critical. The sidewalk of the Quai des Grands Augustins collapsed and fell into the Orleans Company's tunnel beneath, further extending the flood through the ancient streets, particularly the Rue Jacob and around the Institute of France.

Many sewers burst in the Twelfth Arrondissement, one of the biggest in Paris, the whole of which is now submerged and has been plunged into darkness on account of the breaking of the gas mains.

The half buried Ile St. Louis which is connected with the Ile de la Cite by means of the Pont St. Louis, is likely to be totally submerged within a few hours as the water is now only a few inches from the parapet.

Masons were hastily summoned at a late hour and are working desperately to erect a wall to save the Historic Hotel Lambert, erected in the seventeenth century and now the residence of Prince Czartorski and the equally famous Hotel Lauzun adjoining, which was purchased by the city in 1900 to be used as a museum of art. It also was built in the seventeenth century.

SCHOOL NOTES.

To Mothers.
Parents who feel that their children have not passed as high an examination as they thought they were prepared to should inspect the examination papers themselves. It will enable them to understand just such work as should be done by the pupil at home, and will disabuse their minds of any idea of unfairness.

Medals Won.
Walter Diel won the medal for the highest examinations in the sixth grade.

Estelle Sears won the medal for the highest average in the Sixth grade, Miss Robinson's room, with an average of 189. Camille Pigott, second, 186; Esther Beaucoudray, third, 185. This is four weeks that Estelle Sears has won this medal.

In accordance with the method established for the elimination of two grades or two classes in a room, there will be no A division in the rooms and pupils will have to go into the B division of the grade they are prepared to enter. Those who began in B division last fall will not be affected. Hereafter there will be but one class in each grade and one grade in each room. Any class that is but half way through the grade must make up those studies before they can enter the next higher grade. So it all depends upon the extra work of the scholar as to whether he will be able to pass into a higher room. Studies should be taken up at home.

There has been some talk that Prof. Lyon would hold a private summer school. This is not true. Scholars will have to depend upon their own energy and perseverance in home study.

Schools to be Consolidated

It is contemplated consolidating the schools of Simmons Creek and Bush and the building of a convenient school house; sending of Lewisburg scholars to Mandeville school; sending scholars of Demourelle school to Mandeville or Covington; sending Hickory Grove scholars to Abita Springs; sending Garden District scholars to Covington. Perhaps a new school may be erected for the German settlement, Hickory Grove and Garden District scholars.

Prof. Lyon's Medal.

The gold medal offered by Prof. Lyon for the pupil making the greatest progress in penmanship is on exhibition in the window of the Haimer-Alford jewelry company. It is a wreath and centerpiece, pendant from a bar-pin by three links, and bears the inscription around the center, "Public School," on the bar the word "Penmanship." It is very pretty.

The Doerr Medals.

The Doerr medals are now on exhibition at the store of H. J. Smith & Sons. These medals were presented to the school by Mr. J. C. A. Doerr for the purpose of encouraging excellence in the different departments of the school. There are three silver and one gold medal. They are about the size of a silver half dollar, bearing on a sunken surface the inscriptions: "Doerr Medal. Oration. Covington High School, 1909-10," on the gold medal. On the silver medals: "Doerr Medal. Story Telling, 1909-10." On the reverse side, "Primary Department." Second medal: "Doerr Medal. Prize Essay, 1909-10." On the reverse, "Grammar Department." Third medal: "Doerr Medal. Prize Essay. Covington High School, 1909-10." Each medal is in a plush case and has a link for attaching to a pin.

PARADE AT ABITA
FEBRUARY 7, 1910.

The Abita Parade as well as the free barbecue will be on February 7. There will be several floats and the arrival of the King.

Judge Pons was in Covington this week getting subscriptions to help meet expenses. He was much pleased with the kind interest taken in the matter by the Covington people.

Capt. G. E. Millar, president of the Abita Progressive Union, states that all arrangements have been completed for the Abita float in the New Orleans carnival parade, and it is anticipated that a good showing will be made.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

District Court was in session this week.

The case of James Galouye, disturbing peace and carrying concealed weapons, was thrown out for insufficient testimony of prosecuting witnesses.

Mr. Morgan recused himself in this case and Attorney F. J. Heintz acted in his place.

In the case of the White Sewing Machine Co. vs. Frederick and Cotton, judgement of $600 was entered on note, and damages for defendants given in the sum of $500.

DIED.

SLATTERY.—At Hood's Station, Wednesday, January 26, Miss Bessie Slattery, aged 16 years.

Miss Slattery was a daughter of T. A. Slattery, of the New Orleans Picayune, and sister of Mrs. Maurice Planche, of Covington. She had been ill for several years with tuberculosis. Interment was made in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

FASSMAN.—In Covington Wednesday, January 26, 1910, Henry Fassman, of New Orleans.

Mr. Fassman was residing in Covington in search of health, being afflicted with tuberculosis. Interment in New Orleans.

LITTLE NEMO
AT THE TULANE.

Klaw & Erlanger's "Little Nemo," which comes to the Tulane Theatre, New Orleans, for two short weeks beginning Sunday January 30th, is described as a dazzling triumphant success. Its phenomenal financial returns in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago, warrant the statement that nothing like it has ever been seen in America, or, in fact in all the world "Little Nemo" presents the best and most triumphant in all details of its construction and productive management that the stage has ever known. The music by Victor Herbert is said to be the best in melody and the richest in orchestration that he has ever been given to musical comedy; and in book and lyrics, Harry B. Smith is said to have shown his clearest work in his story and stanzas based on the famous cartoons of Winsor McCay in the New York Herald. The adventures of "Little Nemo," it is said, follow a consistent story. With the wonderful scenic effects, gorgeous costumes and wealth of melody, a genuine vein of humor runs through the production.

Joseph Hawthorn, Harry Clay Blaney and Harry Kelly, as Dr. Pill, Flip and the dancing girl respectively, are the principal comedians. Master Gabriel plays the role of "Little Nemo," Aimee Ehrlich is the Little Princess. Natalie Alts is cast as the Valentine Fairy. Other members of the large company, which numbers over 150 people, are Queenie Vassar, Maude Campbell, Dave Abrahams, Collins, Hart and J. W. York. The production is in three acts and eleven scenes. The entertainment abounds in bright, catchy songs and tuneful, whistly airs and includes three songs which make stirring appeals to patriotism; namely, "Remember the Old Continentals," "The Chime of the Liberty Bell," and "Give Us a Fleet, for Uncle Sam has the Men." The usual matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday each week. Special excursion rates will be offered by all railroads.

Wednesday evening services were conducted at the Baptist church by Rev. A. Finch, the new pastor.

EXAMINATION OF CENSUS ENUMERATORS.

Postmaster Theriot has received a letter from the Supervisor of Census, Mr. G. J. Reley, at Clinton, La., under date of January 22, 1910, stating that, "For the convenience of those who are to take the test examination before you on February 5, 1910, I have inserted in each admission card sent out to these persons, 'at 10:30 a. m., or 2:30 p. m.,' thus enabling each applicant to avail himself of either of these most suitable to his convenience."

"It is probable that you will have fifteen attendants at these examinations."

It is to be hoped that the taking of this census will give to Covington the population she is entitled to. The census of 1900 gave us but 1205, which we have never considered an enumeration that made the showing we were entitled to.

FREDERICK SULLIVAN.

The Daily States of January 25, has the following about the death of Frederick Sullivan: On last Tuesday afternoon death cut short a bright young life, ending a most promising career through the sudden and totally unexpected death of Frederick Sullivan, the bright young son of W. H. Sullivan, general manager of the Great Southern Lumber Company, at Bogalusa, La.

The young man, who was but sixteen years of age, was born in Buffalo, New York, and came to New Orleans with his parents when his father took the management of the big Bogalusa plant. During four years past he had attended school at the Rugby Academy and during all that time had not been ill once up to last Tuesday. During Tuesday afternoon he was suddenly taken ill and excused from his classes. Drs. Callan, O'Hara and Baras were called in immediately and did all they could for him, but to no purpose, the young sufferer passing into the brighter life at 8 o'clock the evening of the same day. His demise was due to Bright's disease. He is survived by his parents, a brother and a sister.

The death of young Sullivan has cast a deep gloom over the students at Rugby, for he was intensely popular with them, and all share that sincere sorrow which the Grim Reaper has rested on the hearts of those nearest and dearest to him.

The remains were taken to Buffalo last Wednesday for interment in the family burial place.
