An Exhibition of Talent
 There is now on exhibition in the window of P. J. Lacroix's store a piece of statuary executed by Mrs. Geo. Buisson, who has never undertaken anything of the kind before nor had instruction or practice of any nature. In view of this fact, it shows remarkable talent and should encourage her to further development of the gift which seems to be a bestowment of nature. The work is done in a combination of plaster of paris, and represents a negro woman carrying water in an Egyptian jug. While the subject might be treated differently, the artistic talent is evident.

 Master Jack Cohen returned to his home in New Orleans, after a delightful visit to his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Edelman.
 Mrs. P. W. Guidry was a recent visitor to the Crescent City.
 Miss Daisy Corbett left Thursday for New Orleans to spend the Carnival season as the guest of Mrs. L. N. Davis.
 Among those who went to New Orleans to spend the day in pleasure, theatre going, etc., were Judge G. C. Minturn, Miss Vivian Comfort, Misses Nana Chum, Arline Hardin, Gladys Liddle, and Mrs. E. P. de Ballard.

The entertainment given by the Red Men, January 27, proved a splendid success and netted a neat sum.
 The Pelican Literary Society of the Slidell High School, held an open session in the High School department January 28. Quite a number of visitors were present, and a good program was rendered. The most interesting feature of the program was a debate as to which had done most for the world, the compass or the printing press. The judges decided in favor of the compass, but found it almost impossible to decide, as both have been such important factors in the world's development.
 Prof. Messick deserves much credit for the able way in which he is managing the Slidell school affairs. At the close of the session a suggestion was made by the Principal that a School Improvement League be organized. A meeting for that purpose was decided on for January 31. And as agreed a fine crowd assembled at the building Monday evening at 7:30. The Improvement League was organized with forty three members. The following officers were installed: Mrs. W. G. Neuhauser, president; Mrs. Hy. Cornibe, 1st vice president; Miss Lydia Mayfield, 2d vice president; Mrs. C. P. Dunham, treasurer. The regular meetings will be held the third Tuesday in the month. The dues will be the small sum of ten cents per month. This organization, along with the set sum of one thousand dollars set aside by the school fund, makes the school outlook very bright for the balance of the nine months term. We are surely in need of a new school building as the teachers are laboring under a great disadvantage owing to the crowded conditions of the school rooms and the amount of pupils entrusted to the care of each teacher; especially is this true of the primary grades. We trust in the near future to see the new school building in erection. The parents are delighted to learn that the school will run its full course as all agree that the children have made better progress this season than at any time in the history of our public school.

 The Methodist Ladies Aid met Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Hambacher.
 The Haymakers' Association No. 51 1-2 held their regular meeting Saturday night. Initiating the following members of the Improved Order of Red Men into the mysteries of haying-making and other farm chores: J. J. Barr, Robt. Taylor, W. Duffel, Geo. Galatas and Chas. Fogg. The Haymakers meet every third Saturday at their hay loft. The next class seeking knowledge will number 20 or more.
 Hon. A. S. Parsons, of New Orleans, delivered a splendid lecture at the Red Men's hall Wednesday, February 2; subject, "Rome, the Eternal City." The subject was well illustrated by the moving picture method. For at least two hours his audience traveled with him through all the beauties of ancient Rome. Mr. Parsons was introduced by Hon. E. Elmo Bollinger to an audience of at least three hundred and fifty people, as the big hall, which is one of the largest in the parish, was crowded to the doors. After the lecture was over refreshments were served by the Catholic ladies. The proceeds are to assist in the Catholic School League. Rev. Father Bernard expressed himself as being well pleased at the outcome of the whole affair, which was under the management of the Catholic School League.
 T. J. Hand was a Crescent visitors Saturday.
 The Council passed an ordinance forbidding the roaming of dogs through the streets unless they are muzzled. This will be a protection to the dog himself as well as a safety to the people, and is indeed a very kind rule to both man and beast. Isn't the "big dog" going to be surprised when he finds he cannot bite the "little dog" to pieces? How nice it would be if we could only muzzle some of the "big dogs" in real life?
 Mrs. L. W. Collier and son, Albert, spent Sunday in the Crescent City.
 Mrs. John Swinson, of Picayune, Miss., spent Monday here as the guest of Mrs. L. C. Sadler.
 Mr. and Mrs. E. Spradley, formerly of Slidell, now reside at Moss Point, Miss.
 The Methodist Ladies Aid will give an entertainment some time in March to assist in raising funds to erect a Parsonage, which they very much need, as the residence occupied a present by the Rev. T. V. Penter's family is in no way convenient to the church. The Ladies Aid have pledged $500 towards the erection of the parsonage.
 W. E. Gause was a New Orleans visitor Wednesday last.
 Miss Olga Perilloux leaves Saturday for Biloxi, where she will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Swetnam, for a fortnight.
