

New Greek Coiffure

(Photograph by Underwood & Underwood, New York.)

THIS hair dressing is arranged after the manner of the old Greek dressings, the front hair softly waved and drawn back to the crown of the head, where the bunch of tiny curls, natural or false, are bound into a knot with a band of metal ribbon.

EASY ADJUSTMENT OF FRILLS

Device That Goes Far Toward Making Life Easier Is Described Below.

Among the latest ideas for making life easier are frills ready to be adjusted, with a few minutes' work, to the underclothing or the flap of a blouse or pillow cases.

These frills can be had in various designs, some of them the material hemstitched or with lines of draw-work edged with tulle lace; others with tiny lines of beading, again finished with embroidery or feather-stitching.

For infants' clothes these frillings come with tiny edges, and there are quiet openwork effects on heavy linen used for pillow slips.

The method of adjusting is to buy them, gathered into a featherstitched band, or one edge of the material has a loosely woven thread, and all the worker need do is to draw the thread to the desired fulness.

VISITING DRESS.

Cinder gray cashmere would look well made up in this simple but smart way; the tunic is semitight and is drawn in above the waist by a wide band, this is lightly braided, so also are the edges of underskirt and oversleeves, while a strip is taken across the lower edge of yoke, which is of checked chiffon to match undersleeves.

Hat of straw swathed in tulle and trimmed with bunches of small pink flowers.

Materials required: 6 yards cashmere, 1 1/2 yards tucked chiffon, 3 dozen yards braid.

WEDDING IS PRETTY

Splendid Effect, Though It Would Be Sure to Be Somewhat Costly.

A beautiful wedding for the bride who can afford to go a little out of the beaten track in the way of decorations and appointments is a function where lilies pure and stately form the principal floral decorations.

The chancel has a background of the blossoming plants arranged to imitate a veranda and the pillars of the altar are ornamented with the cut glass tied with broad white satin ribbons. For a home wedding the same decorative effect can be used for the temporary altar in front of which the man will officiate, while the woman will officiate, while the bride wears white with a crown of lilies and carries a bouquet of the same.

The bridesmaids are in white with green hats and carry single-stalked or the flowering

SUPPER FOR SUNDAY NIGHT

Meal May Be Made Most Enjoyable of the Week If Given a Little Thought.

There is nothing more cheering to the spirits than to have one's food and table appointments accord with the sweetest of all months. The housekeeper who wants her guests to have the "new feeling" should make her Sunday night supper table look as springlike as possible.

If the table is in a good wood, polished oak or mahogany, leave the cloth off and use plate mats with embroidery or lace edges. Have these round or square, but see to it that spring flowers are in the vase on the centerpiece and that the food is seasonal. Then don't clutter the table with a quantity of small dishes. One of the first requirements of spring is a sense of space, for among other things this rests the nerves.

A good menu for a May-night Sunday supper could include cold meat with aspic jelly, a green salad and a cold custard. Here are some timely recipes:

Aspic Jelly.—Make a good aspic by cooking together a knuckle of veal and one pound of beef or a chicken carcass, put on in cold water for three hours. Put soup vegetables with the meat and let it all simmer slowly. Three or four pounds of meat would be required for three quarts of water, and this should be reduced to one quart when the meat is done. Let it become cold with the meat in the pot, then pour it off, strain it, return it to the fire and when it comes to a boil throw in the white and crushed shell of an egg. Boil up quickly, strain off the scum, and strain again. Add celery salt, white pepper and lemon juice until the taste is piquant, and then put it away in the ice box to jelly.

With this put around cold boiled beef, boiled chicken, lamb or veal, the housekeeper will have an excellent piece of resistance for the Sunday night supper.

The dish may be adorned and the taste varied by trimming the platter with a border of diced pickled beets, chopped gherkins, hard boiled eggs minced and mixed with chopped parsley, slices of lemon, celery, etc.

UNSIGHTLY COMPLEXIONS

The constant use of Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for toilet, bath and nursery purposes not only preserves, purifies, and beautifies the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but prevents inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome conditions of the complexion and skin. All who delight in a clear skin, soft, white hands, a clean, wholesome scalp and live, glossy hair, will find Cuticura Soap most successful in realizing every expectation.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are admirably adapted to preserve the health of the skin and scalp of infants and children, and to prevent minor blemishes or inherited skin humors becoming chronic, and may be used from the hour of birth. Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the civilized world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole proprietors, Boston, for their free Cuticura book, 32 pages of invaluable advice on care and treatment of the skin, scalp and hair.

For the Critics.—Creston Clark, whose untimely death at Asheville robbed America of a serious and capable actor, was somewhat impatient of criticism. To a Philadelphia critic he once said:

"You chaps are unwilling to accept a man for what he is. You want to change him to your own taste. But each of you has a different taste. To whose inclination, then, is he to bend?"

"No, no! Take the artist for what he is. That is the right critical attitude. Don't be like the farm urchin. I once saw—an urchin who, as he stoned a frog to death, repeated severely: "'I'll larn ye to be a toad.'"

It Made No Difference.—Congressman Ransdale of Louisiana, recently told a story of Alec Trimble, the valet and factotum of a physician in New Orleans, who took a fancy to one of the summer shirts of his master, and finally went and bought one exactly like it. He showed it to his mistress, who said that he had done wrong, as the two shirts might get mixed in the washing; and Alec answered:

"'It make no difference, missus, 'cause dey's both alike in size an' price.'"

A MINISTER'S CONSTIPATION

Rev. Kemp Tells of His Digestive Troubles and How He Overcame Them—You Can Do So Free.

The lack of exercise in a minister's life makes him very prone to constipation—but for that matter, most everybody is afflicted now and then. It is the national disorder. Many already know that a sure way to cure constipation and other stomach, liver and bowel troubles is with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which church people have been buying for twenty years. Rev. E. A. Kemp of Rising Sun, Ind., Secretary of the Indiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, says in part:

"For years I have been a victim of constipation but I have never found anything to equal Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I also had indigestion and heart trouble. I can certainly recommend it."

It can be bought at any druggist at 50 cents or $1 a bottle. If there is anything about your case that you don't understand, write to the doctor. If you have never used this remedy and would like to try it, send your address and a free sample bottle will be forwarded to your home by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

WILLING TO PAY FOR RAMMER.

When the British square at the battle of Abu Klea, in the Nubian desert, was penetrated by the dervishes, one of them attempted to spear a gunner who was in the act of ramming home a charge. The Briton brained the Sudanese, but the rammer head split on the man's hard skull. Next day the gunner was sent for. Mistaking the reason, and knowing from experience that soldiers are charged for government property which they break, he led off with: "Please, sir, I'm very sorry I broke the rammer, but I never thought the fellow's head could be so hard. I'll pay for the rammer so as to hear no more of the case."

Old Man in Responsibility.

The American business system, which gives mere boys responsible positions before they have acquired practical experience, is to an Englishman quite unaccountable. He wonders whether it does not cause reckless trading and wild speculation. In other countries they prefer to keep elderly men in responsible positions because they can be depended upon. Messrs. Dyke & Sons, Somerset, England, employ 66 men. More than half have completed 30 years' service, 20 have been there 40 years, nine over 50 years and one 70 years.

The Man Invasion.

The witch out for a moonlight jaunt on her favorite broomstick, had just escaped being run down by an aeroplane manned by a joy-riding. "Oh, this is simply maddening!" she cried, hysterically; "to think of man invading the one field of which we women have had a monopoly for centuries! And I believe I heard the brute say, as he passed: 'Oh, you kid witch!'"

The Quoter.

"You never quote poetry in your speeches?"

"No," replied Senator Sorghum; "quoting poetry is too often like sending an anonymous letter. A man reports to it when he wants to say something and shift the responsibility of authorship."

NOT INTERESTED IN TOADS

But Exasperated Suburbanite Was Forced to Listen to Statistics Until Patience Gave Way.

"Toads—" began the man who is always looking up queer statistics. "Blast the toads!" snapped the suburbanite with the ham, the bag of flour and the lawn mower. "I am not interested in toads."

"But you should be, sir. The toad lays 81,000 eggs annually."

"Very extraordinary, but—"

"The female toad also lives to be a thousand years old. Now, if a hen could live to be a thousand years old and lay 81,000 eggs annually it would take a cold-storage warehouse as big as Maine, California and Texas, to hold them."

"Wonderful, but my train—"

"Stood on end the eggs would reach from here to the moon and back and leave enough to fill the Pacific ocean."

"Let go of my buttonhole, sir. I want to make that train—"

"Useless job. The train is already made. Listen to sense. After those eggs filled the Pacific ocean it would cause a tidal wave that would sweep—"

But just then the exasperated suburbanite brought his bag of flour down on the garrulous stranger. Then he escaped to his train.

A SOLDIER'S EXPERIENCE.

Hardships of Army Life Brought on a Severe Case of Kidney Trouble.

H. N. Camp, 1356 Delaware St., Denver, Colo., says: "During the Spanish-American war, I contracted a severe kidney trouble. After returning home, I was under a physician's care for months, but grew gradually worse. Finally I got so bad I could not hold the urine at all. I also had intense suffering from back pains. Doan's Kidney Pills made improvement from the first, and soon I was well and strong."

A Quick Cat.

Some years ago the proprietor of a hotel in southern New Hampshire told the following story: He said that when he was a boy he had occasion to go into the garret of his house one morning and that the family cat followed him up the stairs. One of the windows was open, and when they entered the garret a frightened mouse jumped out of the window, and the cat, jumping after it, caught it in mid-air, and whirling round, jumped back again into the same window.
