The World's Greatest Sight—A Day in Canada.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 22, 1910.
Arrived at Niagara Falls yesterday evening and the world's greatest wonder is before me. See this grand sight as many times as you may, gaze upon its sublime beauty as often as you will, you will never comprehend it all, never surpass its majesty and power.

Parks on both the American and Canadian sides, established by the two governments, open all vantage ground for viewing the great catara, act free of charge, which includes the following: Prospect Park, American and Horseshoe Falls, Goat Island Bridge, Luna Fall, Terrapin Point, Hermit's Cascade, Three Sisters Island, Queen Victoria Island, Canadian Rapids, International Point, The Flower Gardens and Table Rock.

All the above to be seen from carriage, including a rail and electric car trip along the Niagara River, seven miles. The Gorge trip to Lewiston and return costs only $1.50 and is the grandest six hour car trip on the American continent. I passed along the base of towering cliffs, close to the edge of their, affording comprehensive views of the forces of the great whirlpool and seething whirlpool rapids. The railroad along the river is operated by Capt. J. M. Williams, of Covington.

A two hours ride across Lake Ontario put me into Toronto, Canada, the native country of our Rev. J. M. Williams, of Covington, and Mr. Pinchot, of Slidell. Toronto is the second city in size in Canada, and is a more modern town than New Orleans, in some ways.

Beans and beans. I have seen more beans than Slidell folks could eat in a long while. Michigan grows more beans than any other State.

I also find the railroads, by state law, cannot charge more than two cents a mile. Also the village, where I stopped, has no freight or passenger trains on Sundays, therefore no Sunday papers or postoffice are not opened and yet the people are happy and prosperous.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacker to Slidell I shall have been 300 miles by rail.

I find many good things in this land which would do us good to have down South, and this is a richer part of the country.

I want to visit the land of shredded wheat and see it made in the largest plant in the world where such food is made.

My journey is almost at an end, and while I've not reached the North pole, signs tell me winter is coming. No frost here yet, but overcast and wraps a plenty.
