WEDNESDAY'S STORM.

Madisonville, La., April 27.—Seven or eight negroes, members of the crew of the schooner Emma Hawkins, are believed to have been drowned Tuesday night or yesterday morning in a gale on Lake Ponchartrain four miles from Pass Manchac.

The names of those so far ascertained are: Eric Bush, captain of the boat; Sandy Young and John Outen.

Four or five others made up the balance of the crew, and all are thought to have perished.

The Emma Hawkins, owned by the Haulton Lumber Company, of Houllatonsville, was on her way to New Orleans with a cargo of lumber, having sailed Tuesday morning. Heavy seas were running at the time, and other craft were forced to put into the Chefuncta River for shelter.

The crew of the schooner Rosa A., owned by Jones & Pickett, of Covington, were the last persons to see the Emma Hawkins about 10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and at that time the sails of the Hawkins had been carried away. The two schooners were sailing together. She Rosa A. lost her rudder, and the crew of the Hawkins gave her assistance.

The Steamer Export, sent by the Lumbee Company, and the Emma Hawkins found the wreck bottom upwards four miles from Pass Manchac, with no sign of crew. No bodies were found. It is barely possible that some of the crew managed to reach land.

The Rosa A. is hard aground at the mouth of Tangipahoa River, with rudder gone, two anchors lost and foremast carried away.

PONTE A LA HACHE SWEPT. Pointe a la Hache, La., April 27.—This place was visited by a severe storm yesterday, in which the wind blew havoc with things in general. For three days rain has fallen in this section, and the water, combined with the wind, caused an interruption in the train service.

It was reported yesterday that five feet of sea water had backed against the back levee, while the river has reached the high-water mark.

SUNSHINE FOLLOWS STORM.

How Does Much Damage to Street Railway Company's Line. Gulfport, Miss., April 27.—The storm spent this morning and yesterday with things in general. There was no damage to the shipping or pier. The track on the pier owned by the electric car line was more or less washed in several places, by the high tide and waves, repairs will be made and the cars will only run halfway to-day will resume regular traffic to the end of the pier tomorrow. The line of Biloxi and Pass Christian which was washed in several places east and west will also be repaired by to-morrow night and regular schedule resumed.

Farmers in the city to-day from Long Beach and vicinity report that about ten farms, growing from ten to twenty acres in green beans, radishes and other small truck, are completely drowned out, and will have to be replanted. It is estimated that only one carload of vegetables can be forwarded weekly for some time, in place of the daily carload shipments that have been made.

STORM SWEEPS ABBEVILLE. Abbeville, La., April 27.—This section of the country has been in the grasp of a storm since the night of the 25th. Good rains have fallen generally and though stiff east winds accompanied the rains there has been no damage reported. The rain was welcomed by the farmers and will do much good to the growing crops.

"DUNNY" LAPLACE RESCUES

K. Barq. of Biloxi, From Angry Sea During Wednesday's Storm.

Biloxi, Miss., April 27.—There was a temporary lull in the force of the wind and the waves shortly before to-day, which led some of the seamen congregated on the beach watching the progress of the storm which has raged since yesterday to predict that the worst of the blow was over. Train No. 6 came over from Bay St. Louis this morning, and reached Biloxi on time. No. 38, the fastest mail, which left New Orleans last night, arrived this morning after a trip via Hattiesburg. It is the plan of the Louisville and Nashville to run No. 5 and 6 from Mobile to Bay St. Louis and vice versa. The Bay St. Louis bridge is said not to have suffered, and the statement that the anchors justified by the statement that the blow was over. The sun is out, the rain has ceased, and the sea is nearly normal again. The Postal and Western Union reaching by indirect routes. The Cumberland Telephone Company has direct connection with New Orleans, and the break in their lines having been repaired. E. Barq. had a thrilling experience yesterday afternoon with two boys. He went out in a skiff to his launch, the Eddie B., to put out an extra anchor, and the skiff broke loose and drifted seaward. The two boys, Harold Key and Charles Lowery, floated in on life preservers, and got the skiff, but unable to make their way back to the boat. Mr. Barq. was on the verge of floating in on a life preserver, but was rescued by Dunbar Laplace, of New Orleans, who rescued him in a yawl. The Istrouma, of New Orleans, owned by Dunbar Laplace, rode the storm out at anchor off Holly street.

The Gulfport and Mississippi Coast Traction Company has extra forces of men at work. There is a break in the car line at Agass's switch, beyond Beauvoir, and another at the home of Ex-Congressman E. J. Bowers, the distance between the two breaks being about three miles. Cars are running out of Biloxi as far as Agass's switch, and from Gulfport to Bower's Repotts received by Dunbar, Lopez & Dukate Company, the packers, indicate that little damage was done at Pass Christian, Dunbar, La., and Bayou Labatre. Their plant and boats here were practically unharmed. The high tides, it is feared, will seriously damage crops now growing. Many pecans were blown off the trees. The shellroads in the city suffered little, although they were flooded in a number of places. The tides were higher than at any time since the storm of 1899. Two of the great yachts, owned by the founders of the Back Bay were washed loose. Some unbusiness has been felt for Dan Gorenfe, who has been at Chandelure Island on a pleasure trip, and from whom nothing has been heard.

The schooner barge, Thelma C. went ashore in front of the Maloney place. The Jennie Dawisie, belonging to J. L. Swetman, dragged, and the Suanee, of Phillip Williams, ran into the Magnolia Hotel wharf. The Fantie, a handsome pleasure yacht, owned by the Kennedys, rode the storm well at anchor off the foot of Magnolia street.

31 FIGHT 400; 28 DIE.

Boy Lieutenant Commands in Unequal Fight. Mexico City, April 27.—Refusing to surrender or to leave the train on which he and his command of thirty soldiers were being brought to the capital, a second lieutenant, little more than a boy, yesterday engaged in a battle with a force of 400 rebels at Cajones, Guerrero.

At the conclusion of the brief encounter twenty-eight of the soldiers were dead, and the lieutenant and the remaining two of his men were prisoners. One of the arms of the lieutenant had been shot away.

The rebels were under command of "Gen." Prudencio. Learning that troops were being carried on the Cuernavaca division of the National Railways, the rebel leader marched to Cajones, a station some distance below Cuernavaca.

When the train stopped he sent forward a messenger to demand the surrender of the troops and a request, if they would not surrender, to abandon the train in order that the lives of passengers be not endangered.

Fresh from the School of Aspirants, a military training school, the boy officer sent back word that he had his men to continue on the train. Little by little, in the beginning of the fight, the rebels poured down the embankment on either side of the train and almost simultaneously the shooting was begun by them and by the soldiers on the train.

Passengers, who had been imploring the young officer to yield, were in a panic. The cries of women and children were heard in the roar of the rifle fire, and the shots from the rebels raked the sides of the train, many entering the coaches occupied by passengers.

But one, however, did personal damage to passenger. That one killed Louis Bustamante, a young civil engineer, who was on his way to the capital to be married to Miss Elena Tamborel. Bustamante was kneeling beside a frightened little girl passenger, attempting to comfort her, when he was shot.

Passengers who arrived here on the train late last night brought the story of the battle to the capital, and to-day there stood in the yards of the railway the bullet-scattered coaches, mute evidence of the encounter.

At no time during the engagement did the Federals betray signs of cowardice. With the blood of their companions running from the doors of the little second-class coach, the men coolly fired into the ranks of their assailants until but two remained, and their wounded lieutenant.

In the first-class coach, immediately in the rear of the soldiers' car, was riding the jefe politico of Iquala, Guerrero.

MANDEVILLE. Entertainment by Mothers' Club. The entertainment given in Mandeville by the Mothers' Club was a decided success. The program under the direction of Mrs. C. S. Galbraith, president, was highly appreciated and enjoyed by all. The Dressing Gown, a play, was particularly humorous and kept the audience laughing from start to finish. Clyde Paine, as Mr. Peabody; Pauline Cornbe, Mrs. Peabody; Hillary Bierhorst, Meriam Peabody; Lyl Shiel, (Meriam's beau); Mr. Kirk; Demelia Fasnman, the maid; Willie Shiels, butler. Each did credit to the part they represented. Playmates, a song sung by Earl Golden and Marian Paine, brought down the house. A dialogue and song by Ines Francis, Ella Bridges and Jules Levy was especially interesting and loudly applauded. Appl. "Striving to win a bet," by seven boys and four girls, was full of fun and excellent. The motion songs, "Jack Frost," and "You mustn't mind a little thing like that," were both interesting and a beautiful sight, and did credit to Mandeville for having such bright and intelligent children. Mrs. Shiels, Mrs. Vix, Mrs. Paine and Mrs. Levy were on the refreshment and music committees. $76 was taken in.
