BELIEVES IN THE BRIDGE PROPOSITION.

Alton, La., July 13, 1911. Editor of St. Tammany Farmer, Covington, La.

Dear Sir—In the Farmer of July 8th, I notice you advocate the building of a bridge across Lake Ponchartrain, and while this is no new proposition, I think this is the time to carry out the great necessity, as it might be termed. New Orleans is making rapid strides in the way of extending its building sections and will shortly have residences from the Mississippi River to Lake Ponchartrain, while St. Tammany Parish is building along the lake front as well as making rapid improvements in the interior; therefore it is only a question of time when the bridge must be built; but I can not agree with you when you are in favor of financing the building of the bridge, as this would place the bridge in the hands of individuals or a corporation which is in my opinion, a thing to be avoided in an undertaking of this kind.

The State of Louisiana or the city of New Orleans should undertake this work or St. Tammany Parish might be able to undertake the work if the funds could be raised by some means, as I feel confident the proposition would be a paying one as soon as completed, if constructed in a proper manner. Concrete or stone would be the best in the end; but the bridge of the N. O. and N. E. R. R. has stood the test for some twenty years, and a bridge of wood would do until we could afford a better one; but by all means let us have the bridge. This would prove a good road for at least twenty miles even if the balance were mud. P. H. LEWIS.

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PROPOSED

Development League and Motor League Will Send Ten Delegates to Covington.

(City Item).

New Orleans, July 13.—Six members of the Louisiana Development League and four members of the Louisiana Motor League will go to Covington July 26 to attend the conference called by Mr. George Koepf, Jr., president of the police jury of St. Tammany parish, to discuss plans for the building of an electric railway and speedway over Lake Ponchartrain.

President P. M. Milner and Messrs. Crawford H. Ellis, Jules M. Burgulieres and A. Aschaffenburg will represent the motor league.

"Mr. Koepf's suggestion is an excellent one," said Mr. A. B. Graves, secretary of the development league, "and don't believe there is any doubt about it being carried out successfully. The construction of such a railway is feasible, and when it is completed it will have a strong tendency to bring about extensive improvements."

The automobile owners of New Orleans and in this section generally appear to be taking a deep interest in the proposed electric railway and speedway over the lake. Many of them have signified their willingness to assist in carrying the project to a successful result.

There appears to be no doubt among the promoters as to the practicability of building the bridge. Those at the head of the project feel encouraged over the prospects after having read the extensive article on "Gibson's Great Causeway," written by Mr. Albert Phenix, in a recent issue of the Manufacturers' Record. The "Great Causeway," which is of concrete construction, being a little over two miles in length, will be completed and in operation the last of this year.

The business interests of Mandeville, Abita Springs, Covington and other resorts in St. Tammany are directly concerned in the Lake Ponchartrain railway, and the indications are they will lend every assistance possible to make the plan a success.

TOO GOOD TO HER.

(From City Item)

Following his pretty young wife's two attempts to kill herself, a letter to the woman from another man, sent through a neighbor, fell like a bombshell Thursday morning in the home of George W. Parker, electrical worker, 2517 Belmont place, and did much to clear up Mr. Parker's motives for her strange behavior lately.

The missive arrived at a time when Mr. Parker, in his old clothes, was busily engaged in cleaning up the house. He explained to a reporter that he was afraid to leave home because his spouse might run away again. "I'll give up my job first," said he. "There is no telling what she'll do after what was in the morning paper."

COOKS WIFE'S MEALS.

While Mr. Parker was engaged with the dusting rag on the parlor furniture, Mrs. Parker was sitting about with her hands folded. Mr. Parker is accustomed to fulfilling the household duties, according to his own statements. He cooks most of the meals, generally does the cleaning up, never fails to serve his wife with her breakfast in bed, and all this while working 12 hours a day to support the home.

One item reporter called at his home this Thursday morning to interview Mrs. Parker concerning the motive for her two attempts this week to kill herself, and it was shortly after his arrival that the letter came. A negro boy brought it. It had been sent in the care of a neighbor.

It was very short, and in a man's handwriting, signed "Cordland." It was in effect a message to meet the writer between 7 and 8 o'clock Thursday night in front of the postoffice. BOTH STRUGGLE FOR LETTER.

When it was brought in both Mr. Parker and his wife made a desperate grab for it, and for a moment a dramatic scene ensued. The husband was successful in reaching the letter first, and had been of a more fiery nature a tragedy might have followed. As it was, after perusing the note, the husband merely turned it over to his wife with a weary sigh, and then went down to the street to try find out from the neighbor who had sent it.

During his absence Mrs. Parker gave the reporter a brief glimpse of the note. She declared that she had met Mr. Parker while employed by him as mail clerk in his business, the G. W. Parker Electrical Company, 519 Carondelet street, and had married him. "Six months later the firm failed," she declared, "and he lost over $50,000. Since then he has been employed by S. J. Stewart & Co."

MRS. PARKER PRETTY.

Mrs. Parker is very pretty, of fine figure, with golden hair and dreamy blue eyes. She is 22 years of age, while her husband is 45. He is small in stature, broken in appearance, probably through his battle for fortune, but devoted in his constancy to his wife, whom he proclaims he loves with all his heart and soul.

The difference in the age of the two, coupled probably with the wrecking of his financial bark over a year ago, would seem to be responsible for the tribulations in the family. They have no children.

Mr. Parker's father and mother and younger sister live at Pass Christian, Miss., while an elder sister resides with her. "CORTLANDT" Who "Cortlandt" is Mrs. Parker would not tell, although she murmured something about being heart-broken because he was going to Panama.

Mrs. Parker admits that she tried to jump into the water and drown herself at Spanish Fort Monday night, but was restrained, and that she took a dose of poison with suicidal intent Tuesday night. Furthermore, she says she will try again to take her life. But her husband says that henceforth he will not leave the house nor let her get out of his sight until she abandons the idea. "I will worship every hair in her head," he said.

I am applying for a pardon.

WIND WINS every time when it starts war against your property. Ringing the alarm for the fire department, telephoning for the police or yelling for help to the neighbors, has no effect whatever on a windstorm.

Whether it be a hurricane, a tornado, a cyclone, or a simple, old-fashioned "blow," the wind is simply going to do as it pleases and destroy as much of your property as suits it.

When you have a windstorm policy written by Nilson & Frederick, however, you can view the destruction with easy eyes. You can congratulate yourself on your business sense. You will know that the Protection will give you hard cash for your hard luck.
