ORIGINAL FANCY DRESS PARTY.

One of the most original and successful affairs of the season was the fancy dress ball given on last Tuesday night by twenty of our town girls, styling themselves the "M. M. M's." The house was beautifully decorated with golden rods and jack-o-lanterns, which together with the attractive costumes worn, made it a veritable fairyland, the color scheme being pink and green. Dainty refreshments were served, the peanuts being placed in a bowl hollowed out of a pumpkin shell. Among those present were: Misses Jesse Evans, Gabrielle and Anais Boudousquie, Flossie and Marion Smith, Estelle and Anna Fredrick, Etta and Estelle Evans, Lou Lyons, Mae Pool, Moss Turner, Eva Kennedy, Ethel Bougere, Clara Faulk, Bertha Perreand, Nellie Hennessey and Julie Charropin, and Misses. Clay Hebert and F. J. Heintz.

Last, but not least, the "dear Covington girls" take this opportunity to thank their "mysterious friend" for the remembrance so thoughtfully sent, which, under the existing circumstances was more than appreciated. They drank his health and toasted him that he may live long and prosper. An odd feature of the occasion was that it was "a hen's party," not one man (?) on the scene.
