TO FIGHT COFFEE RING.

New York Oct. 19.—Because the reserve supply of coffee in the warehouses of roasters and jobbers in the Front and Water street districts is smaller than it has been for twenty years before, and the outlook for obtaining a fresh supply at advantageous prices is worse than it has been before in a similar period, the proprietors of some twenty-nine out of the thirty largest coffee concerns in the city joined to-day in an informal agreement to attend meetings looking toward the organization of all those engaged in the coffee trade.

The proposed organization, after being launched among the jobbers and roasters, will be augmented, according to the present plan, until it becomes a national body, with branches among wholesale grocers, jobbers and retailers, and the "ultimate consumers." A general propaganda against the Brazilian government's so-called "coffee ring" will be part of its active programme, as well as co-operation with Dr. Harvey W. Wiley's plan to enforce correct coffee dealing, and the exclusion from the market of certain inferior grades.

Those most concerned in promoting this organization said to-day the time had come in the coffee trade when consumers, retailers, jobbers and roasters must all stand together against an inside group in the world's coffee market, or must suffer separately from disaster which soon might overtake all but the very largest dealers and roasters, and send the price soaring even above the record breaking figures of 1891, when "Rio 7" the grade of coffee by which other grades are priced, was sent to 19 1/4 cents a pound, and maintained at that point for a considerable period.

BLAME VALORIZATION.
They declare that the bankers of Brazil's valorization committee, by holding a large proportion of last year's crop in warehouses and combining with a large Brooklyn firm, and the shippers at the important ports of Brazil, who are holding back the 3,000,000 pounds of this year's crop which already have made their way to the coast from interior points, were entirely responsible for the artificial level to which the market has attained.

Several dealers, while expressing their extreme concern over the present outlook, said that organizing to meet the "coffee ring" would be like organizing to meet a corner in the price of wheat. They urged that those in control of the coffee market, not being citizens of the United States, could not be reached by United States statutes, and that any retaliatory tariff passed to harm Brazil would only muddle the situation that much more, since they were not the slightest hope of replacing Brazilian coffee in this market with the product of any other country.

A. W. H. to six coffee dealers in Front and Water streets this afternoon failed to develop a single instance in which a dealer regarded the future with any particular pleasure. "We don't know what's wrong with coffee," said one dealer, "but we do know we are out of coffee practically, and that all the way up and down the street it is the same, and there is none to be had except what the valorizationists may feel like delivering to the market, on their own terms. I don't know what is going to become of a lot of the smaller roasters and jobbers. May be our day is passing for good and all."

THE OTHER SIDE.
Henry Nordlinger of the firm of Nordlinger & Co., had in his office a copy of the Brazilian Review, which set out the other side of the upward spiral in coffee prices. This paper recited that coffee growers who had been in debt for years were paying up now, and that investments in the coffee growing business, which had been without dividends for many seasons, now were gaining current dividends and back dividends enough to make up for all the lean years. It was Mr. Nordlinger's opinion that the combination of the coffee handlers with the growers would take the price of coffee down to a level which the wool growers and cotton growers in this country, and would be very hard to reach.

William B. Harris, an importer, also the government's authority on coffee matters having to do with the accuracy of labels used, is interested in the proposed organization for the reason that recent decisions by the Pure Food Bureau will revolutionize the coffee handling methods to some degree, and he is anxious to have the trade in general co-operate in bringing about the change called for. One of the most pernicious "trade customs" which has just been broken up was that of packing a small basket variety of Santos coffee in emptied Java mats and Mocha bundles, the empty containers having been bought in various countries and shipped to a port where Santos coffee was being advantageously put in them. Two firms in this city, which until recently did a thriving business in empty bundles and mats, reported to-day that there is now no demand for their goods.

CHEAP COFFEE TO ADVANCE.
New York, Oct. 19.—A general advance of from 2 to 3 cents a pound on all coffee will be declared by retailers in this city within the next ten days, it was announced to-day. No increase in the price of higher grades is expected. Several reasons are advanced for this. One is that most of the higher grades are coffees which the owners don't wish to hurt by advancing the price, another is that many of the better grades come from Central America and are not affected by the Brazilian situation.

Am pleased to report that all vouchers have been carefully examined and found to be correct, and the balance on hand with the Covington Bank & Trust Co., is also correct.

We are to-day notifying the Covington Bank & Trust Co., of the amounts and numbers of checks that are still bearing your signature, authorizing them to cash same and to turn the balance over to the new Superintendent as soon as the President of the board notifies said bank that he has qualified.

In conclusion am pleased to report that everything is correct and satisfactory. Yours very truly,
CHAS. D. BLOCK,
Asst. Supt. of Public Accts.

MANDEVILLE NOTES.

Miss Corinne Smith, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, returned from New Orleans, while there she was the guest of Miss Ruth Holstrom, and was very pleasantly entertained by her friends. Mr. Constant and friend, Mr. Leo, were visitors in Mandeville Sunday.

Rumors are that Mr. Willie Lancaster will leave the Steamer Dollive for the winter season, to run from Mandeville to Spanish Port.

Miss Melthey just returned from a year's stay in France. She is visiting Mandeville at her pretty home on Marigny Avenue, and will spend a few weeks in our town.

Messrs. Sharp and Hestrest spent Sunday in Mandeville as the guests of Mr. Freda Stretton.

Mrs. George Bierhorst returned from New Orleans Wednesday, having been at the bedside of Mrs. A. Bierhorst for several weeks until Mrs. Bierhorst died, whose death is universally regretted.

Mr. Joe. Big and most accomplished singer, Miss Helen Birg, returned to their winter homes in Franklin. While in Mandeville Miss Birg has made a host of friends and her absence is greatly missed.

Miss Ella returned Sunday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Faive, at their picturesque home on Lake Boulevard.

We regret to hear of Mr. Gus Magnier's illness, and hopes are entertained that he will soon be among his friends with his pleasant smile.

Mr. and Mrs. Emile Conlin left for New Orleans Sunday.
Mrs. Toomer and daughters have moved to New Orleans to remain permanently.

Prof. Robinson, principal of the Mandeville school, spent Saturday in Covington.
Dr. Alonso Givens visited Covington last Tuesday.
Mr. Ernest Prieto's schooner landed at the city's wharf. Already freight of all description was on the wharf to be shipped to the other end.

Dr. Melthey and mother have taken possession of the Misses Froeh's cottage on Marigny Avenue, will remain here for an indefinite time. The Doctor intends practicing medicine in our parish and town.

Mrs. Cavanaugh and family are pleasantly located in Mrs. Troscia for the winter.
Miss Hilda D'Aquin is spending a fortnight in New Orleans as the guest of her relatives.
We are nearly through picking up the pecans, the crop was plentiful this year.
Dr. Hebert, of Claiborne, was a visitor in Mandeville in the interest of his candidacy as Representative Thursday.

A Pierce Night Alarm
is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it arouses Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, O., R. R. No. 2, for their children were greatly subject to croup. "Some times in severe attacks," he wrote, "we were afraid they would die, but since we provided what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. See may you. Asthma, hay fever, influenza, whooping cough, hemorrhages fly before it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by all druggists.
