SHALL WE ROB OUR OWN NEST TO FEATHER ANOTHER'S?

Next Tuesday the voters of St. Tammany parish will be called upon to cast their votes for a congressman from the Sixth District. There are two candidates: one from the extreme west of the district and one from our own parish—from the family circle of our community, as it were—reared amidst the progeny of generations of loyal citizens, imbued with the inspirations, the hopes, the ambitions, that have been the sustenance of the spirit of progress and the guiding star to future progress and prosperity. One is native born—the other looks upon our needs from a distance and hears the call of duty when it is not drowned by the cries of assistance from his nearer people. Which will you vote for?

We do not wish to cast sectional lines. We do not believe in know-nothingism. But we do believe that blood is thicker than water, and that the Bible countenances our plea for the home man when it says, in the book of Timothy: "But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he has denied the faith and is worse than an infidel." This declaration upholds the principle that should command every voter in St. Tammany parish to vote for Mr. Morgan next Tuesday. He is the peer of Mr. Claiborne, and in some respects his superior. He should not receive a single opposing vote in this parish. His election is certain. We make this appeal simply because we desire not only that he may be shown the loyalty of his home people, but that an example may be given of the fealty of a people who know how to reward merit and to stand by home interests. It is the duty of every voter to go to the polls and cast his vote next Tuesday, October 8, and to cast it for Mr. Morgan.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOLS

Twenty dollars worth of material for manual training in the lower grades was received this week. The little ones are already at work weaving, sewing, etc. They enjoy it immensely.

The girls have had two candy sales and have cleared a sufficient amount of money to buy a new basket ball and other necessary equipment for their team. The members are: Camille Pigott, Juanita De la Vergne, Ruth Burns, Olga Blanchard, Eliza Cooper, Albertina Walters, Celeste Lassange, Elsie Roy, Eva Belle Prague, Bonnie Moses, Retta Moses.

The game of basket ball, between the Covington High School and St. Paul's College, on Wednesday evening, resulted in a score of 11 to 19, in favor of St. Paul's College. The features of the game were playing of Schultz of the high school team and shooting of Smith of the College team.

The incidental fee of each pupil is due. Because of the fact that the money is needed by the board to defray expenses of running the school, we urge that this fee be paid at the earliest convenience of each patron. The fees are fifty cents for each pupil, provided each patron does not pay over more than $3.50.

To each pupil has been given a report card, upon which has been placed, by the teacher of each subject, the grade made by the pupil during the month. It is the duty of each parent to examine this card carefully and such marks or grades that are not satisfactory, discuss with the teacher and find out the real cause, so that by removing the cause, the grades next month may be better. It is the desire of each teacher to have all the parents of her pupils co-operate with her, so that the best possible work may be done.

The present enrollment is 334. Each of the girls' basket ball teams would like to arrange for Regular meeting of the School Improvement League will be held on Monday, October 7, at 3:10 o'clock. All members and patrons of school are requested to be present.

games with other school teams. The track work, preparatory to the November fair, will be begun regularly on Monday. Some very good material seems available.

Friday, September 28th, ended the first school month of the school term. The last week of the month was devoted to examinations, and as usual at the beginning of the term, the averages in study can not show up so well. However, our public school this year is doing splendid work. There are more than 300 children enrolled, new desks and seats had to be purchased and the faculty is doing hard work. With the daily lessons and a week of examinations the children are preparing an exhibit for the fair and the boys getting in shape for the athletic sports.

The School Improvement League has made a large purchase of material for this work.

On Friday evening the senior class of the high school will have a benefit show at the New Covington Theatre. The proceeds to be used to buy new books for the library.

Prof. Parke is anxious to get music into our school, and at the last meeting of the League put the matter up for consideration, so that the children may have a piano in the school building. A piano will be purchased soon.

We hope in the next week to get the Junior League together again and become active in school work. We would suggest that they take up school editorial work and supply a few items each week for the column in the Farmer.

A visit but into the country assured us that the rural schools are working hard and will make a creditable exhibit at the fair.

MORGAN WILL MEET CLAIBORNE.

Mr. Morgan will meet Mr. Claiborne in joint debate at Baton Rouge on Monday evening, October 7. Mr. Morgan seems to have been unable to get any definite date fixed with Mr. Claiborne for a joint debate up to this time, and is glad of this opportunity to meet him. There will now be an opportunity to hear those wonderful questions. Also an opportunity to hear Mr. Morgan's answers. Something doing.

A "MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER"

Last Friday evening a "miscellaneous shower" was given at the home of Misses Pauline, Anna and Ruth Frederick, in honor of one of the very charming October brides (to be), Miss Etta Evans.

At the appointed hour the guests arrived, each wearing a gaily smile and hiding their packages from Etta.

After much laughter and music they retired to the dining room, there the color scheme being yellow and white. A bridal wreath and wedding veil occupied the center of the table. From here were suspended yellow ribbons to each place, at the ends of which were thread, needles and thimble, while something "yellow" formed the place cards. The young ladies set to work making up the "yellows," with the hope that if Etta wore them on her wedding day, she would have one of those eventful days next year.

After dainty refreshments were served, two of the fattest girls (guess who) carried Etta back to the parlor, but as they were half way through the hall the bottom fell out of a big wedding bell, showering the bride-to-be with everything cute, from a dainty boudoir cap to the dearest of little satin slippers.

Those present were Misses Hattie Mae Williams, Grace Blossman, Ellen Clark, Ethel Bougere, Mae Poole, Bertha Perreand, Ellen Roy, Maggie Grimmer, Norma Weaver, Estelle Evans, Pauline, Anna and Ruth Frederick, and, of course, the bride-to-be.
