This power shall not be exercised in the parishes, nor in the parish of Orleans as to assessors, until the terms of the officers, as provided in this article, shall have expired. After January 1, 1914, and until the expiration of the terms of said officers, all local assessments shall be made by the assessors of each parish and the assessors of New Orleans at the present rate of compensation. After January 1, 1914, parish assessors shall be compensated by the parishes and the assessors of the parish of Orleans by the city of New Orleans. If under the referendum amendment submitted to the people at the same time this amendment is submitted providing a way to relieve municipalities from the support of the State, the State shall be obligated to contribute to certain funds, is adopted, then each municipality so relieved from such taxation, shall have the right by its governing authority, to provide for the appointment or election of its assessors and assessors and to its their compensation.

3. In order to similarly reimburse municipalities not now free from parish taxes each parish shall levy annually for eight years, or January 1, 1914, the six mill tax aforesaid, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and out of the proceeds of this tax each parish shall, under the supervision of the Tax Commission, compensate each such municipality within its limits for loss of revenue caused by such withdrawal. 4. Any municipality now free, or hereafter made free, from parish taxation which is now reimbursed by the levy of the additional six mill tax, the power to levy which is here by granted to it, shall be compensated by the General Assembly on the basis above provided for compensation by the State to the parishes the amount of said compensation to be fixed by the Tax Commission.

5. After the year 1921, no parish shall levy any part of such six mill tax within the limit of any incorporated municipality, and said municipalities shall be entitled to levy and collect such six mill tax for their own account.

6. The claims of each parish and municipality for compensation shall be presented to the Tax Commission which shall examine such claims and report thereon to the General Assembly, but no such compensation shall be made after the year 1921.

8. The two mill ad valorem special average and water tax of the city of New Orleans shall continue to be levied as long as required by law on the sources of State revenue subject to an ad valorem tax.

9. In case of a referendum amendment submitted to the people at the same time this amendment is submitted providing a way to relieve municipalities from general parish taxes, subject to an obligation to contribute to certain funds, is adopted, then the power to levy six mills of additional taxes is hereby granted to all parishes voting for such release to be levied on property outside of the municipalities, and the power to levy six mills of additional taxes is hereby granted to each municipality so released to be levied on the property within its corporate limits, the obligation of the State to make compensation remaining the same. Whether said amendment shall be adopted or not, the power to levy such additional taxes, hereby granted to all municipalities that are now exempt from parish taxes shall remain undisturbed.

10. And whether said amendment shall be adopted or not, the police juries of the several parishes and the governing authorities of cities, the parish of Orleans (excepted) and towns not subject to parish taxes shall levy and collect and turn over to the duly constituted school authorities under the supervision and control of the State Board of Education, an amount equal to the amount of the school fund of each parish or city, the amount of ad valorem taxes, which they levy and collect, provided that such amount shall never be less in any parish or municipality than the greatest amount due from such parish or municipality to the school fund of such State, or five, six and seven per cent, as the case may be, of the total ad valorem tax collected for either the year 1911 or 1912, taking the year which yielded the highest amount. Provided further, that cities and towns that are not exempt from the payment of parish taxes shall not be required to pay the same until such time as already imposed by the parish authorities; provided further, that this ad valorem tax shall not be imposed to the maximum whenever the school board certifies that a smaller levy will meet the needs of the schools.

11. All property of the State, except products of mines, of stone quarries, sand, gravel or shell pits, and of oil or gas wells, as well as all other property, which may not be specially exempted from such taxation, shall continue to be subject as special taxes now in force, and shall be liable to such special taxes as may be imposed by local, special districts and political subdivisions in the future in accordance with law; provided that no parish or incorporated municipality shall levy a special tax for the support of any purpose which it is obligated to take care of out of its ordinary alimony, until it shall have first exhausted its ordinary taxing power, upon an assessment of at least fifty per cent of the market value of the property subject to its taxing authority.

12. Levied District Taxes and forced contributions shall continue to be levied within each district on the sources of State revenue situated in each levee district, and all levee taxes and contributions shall be collected by the sheriff of each parish, except the parish of Orleans, until June 30, 1916, and thereafter by the collecting officer of the city of New Orleans.

13. The taxes mentioned in the foregoing sections 8, 11 and 12, as to property reserved for State revenue shall be based on the assessment made by the State Tax Commission for State purposes, equalized annually by said Tax Commission in each parish or municipality to the basis of assessment therein locally established.

14. All revenues received by the State from all sources shall go into a fund called the General Fund, and the General Assembly shall apportion said fund among all the public purposes for which taxation is levied, obligated to take care of out of its ordinary alimony, until it shall have first exhausted its ordinary taxing power, upon an assessment of at least fifty per cent of the market value of the property subject to its taxing authority.

15. The General Assembly shall have the right to reimburse parishes and municipalities now free from parish taxes for loss of revenue caused by the withdrawal of the sources of revenue from parish and municipal taxes, the State shall be obligated to each parish and to each such municipal corporation the right to levy an additional tax of six mills on unsegregated property.

16. The General Assembly shall have the right to reimburse parishes and municipalities not now free from parish taxes each parish shall levy annually for eight years, or January 1, 1914, the six mill tax aforesaid, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and out of the proceeds of this tax each parish shall, under the supervision of the Tax Commission, compensate each such municipality within its limits for loss of revenue caused by such withdrawal. Such compensation to be made on the basis provided in the following sentence for compensation by the State parishes. If the proceeds of such tax are not sufficient to pay the loss of revenue to each parish, added to the proceeds of the one per cent tax now permitted to be levied, after making the compensation aforesaid, shall not be sufficient to repay to said parish the sum it would have received by the levy of its present one per cent alimony tax on the basis of the assessment rolls of 1911, plus an increase of five per cent on the amount of said tax, then the State shall compensate each parish the amount of such deficiency as fixed and reported by the Tax Commission.
