DIST'CT COURT

State vs. John Richardson. Plead guilty to assault with intent to kill. The assault charged in this case took place in the parish jail and was made upon Ed. Lacroix deputy sheriff when he attempted to put Richardson, who was then a prisoner charged with assault upon his wife, to work upon the road. Richardson attempted to strike Lacroix with a brick and when Lacroix fired at him pre- tending to be hit and jumped upon Lacroix's back as he entered the cell. If help had not been at hand it is probable he would have secured Lacroix's pistol and killed him. He will be sentenced to-day.

State vs. J. Lajunie and E. E. LeBlanc, selling liquor to women and girls and white and colored men in the same building. Plead guilty.

State vs. Ab. and Buck Alsbrook grand larceny.

Chas. Heikamp vs. John J. Willis, suit for $15,000 damages for false arrest. Cross bill filed by Willis for $15,000 damages, for being unjustly brought into court proceedings. Case submitted on evidence.

Those cases in which sentence and judgment have not been given at time we go to press will be published next week.

The impeachment proceeding filed against Mayor Gilson will be heard to-day, instead of Friday.

EYES REVERSE EDEN.

New Orleans, March 12.—No im- perial edict of ancient Rome ever caused more excitement than a little white and blue typewritten placard posted in the yard of the Josephine Louise House Annex of Newcomb College. The edict called for a rally against the suffragetical element of the community and the response came from all young freshmen and specials of the dormitory.

The form sent by the Antisuffrage Club of Tulane University and embodied in the edict, posted in the dormitory yard was copied by the valiant girl students of the annex, who signed their names to the official document and forwarded it to the Tulane Anti-suffrage quarters, thereby declaring their inalienable immunity from every suffragetical or suffragetical movement that would tend toward window-smashing or vitriol-distribution, either in letter books or in the speech that drips, corrodes and poisons," that Kipling talks about.

The following is the form embodied in the dormitory yard edict which was signed by the brave eleven who had the courage of their convictions: "To the Tulane Anti-suffrage Club—We, the undersigned, desire to become members of the Tulane Anti-suffrage Club to help discourage efforts of those unsatisfied old maids who are seeking equal suffrage.

"We take this opportunity of ap- plying for official badges.

Mary Boyd, Eugenia Baker, Olive Dawkins, Roberta Parker, May Jones, Marion Brown, Louise Miller, Erin O'Neil, Mina Pedditt, Augusta Jordan, Beattie Brown."

When asked about the club yester- day Miss Erin O'Neil, one of the signers, said: "Why, we don't know very much about it except that the boys asked us to sign it, but we do know that we do not want to be suffragettes, and so we were quite ready to sign it. No, I do not know whether any of the rest of the girls are going to join the club or not. I have not heard."

A FEW FACTS TO BE REMEM-BERED.

For the benefit of the citizens of the town of Covington and especially those who are laboring under false impressions as to the financial condition of the town, I wish to state a few facts. It is almost a daily occurrence to hear some one make these remarks: "What is the amount of the town's money? Why don't the town council do this? Why don't the town council do that? If those making these remarks would stop to consider and get the proper information they would find that the problem is very easily solved. The main trouble is that the present town council is kept busy paying debts im- posed on the town of Covington by preceding administrations. I wish to state that these remarks are not intended as a slur on any of the previous public office holders of the town, but are brought to the front to place justice where it belongs.

When the present administration took charge of the affairs of the town in July, 1911, they were forced to shoulder a debt of about five thousand dollars, which they have been reducing from time to time as the funds would permit. To my personal knowledge, since I took charge of the town's books on the 6th day of July, 1912, I have paid the fol- lowing amounts towards reducing this indebtedness: $500 for the drawing of plans and specifications of the old school building; $320 on account of the note applied to the purchase of the Bogue Falaya Park leaving a balance still due of $1500, plus interest; $454 on account of note against the Bogue Falaya Park Pavillion, leaving a balance still due on same of $500 and interest. To over three items amounting to over seven hundred dollars, leaving still an indebtedness of over $2000 against the Bogue Falaya Park Pavillion. I make special mention of these items because as I stated before they were paid during my term of office. As I do not wish to make any misrepresentation I will make no mention of different amounts paid for similar causes before I was elected town secretary. Any reasonable person will readily understand when that amount of money has been taken out of the tax revenue of the town to pay these outstanding debts it puts the present administration to a great disadvantage in carrying out the requirements of the town.

I wish to further state that in 1910 when these debts were imposed upon the town the assessment roll amounted to $964,587, and the as- sessment roll for 1912 has dropped to $811,218, making a difference of $153,369, which means $150.26 less in the revenue of the tax, at 1.2 mills, which is the present rate of taxation.

Now as the outstanding debt on the park and pavillion was contracted by the previous administration with- out making necessary provision in liquidate same the burden has fallen on us to pay same out of the current yearly budget, which means that much less funds to apply to public improvements.

The town council has been called upon at different times for many causes, which demands have never been turned down.

I wish to further state that the financial condition of the town is not in such poor circumstances as some people wish to express it, notwith- standing the fact that more than one half of the taxes are still unpaid. There is not a warrant outstanding against the town, and the current bills against the town have been paid regularly every month.

It would also be fair to mention that in 1912 the public school of Covington was kept open for two months longer, at an expense of $1200 to the town and as the council has appropriated the same amount for the same purpose this year, it means an expense of $2400 to the town in less than two years.

In conclusion I wish to tender an invitation to any good, qualified citizen of the town of Covington, having any doubt as to the correctness of any of the call at my office and be convinced by looking over the town records.

L. P. DELCROIX,
Town Secretary.

The second grade is also having spelling matches, Hilda Prince of sec- ond grade A, and Walter Cooper of grade B, winning them. The child- ren take much interest in them. Herbert and Elma Murray of New Orleans, entered the fifth grade this week.

Edith and Walter Smith of third grade are back from New Orleans. They went over to have their ade- noids removed.

The usual program of the high school Literary Society was held Fri- day afternoon. Quite a number of the patrons of the school were pres- ent, which is a great encouragement to the faculty, who have extended an invitation to all patrons who take an interest in school affairs.

After the program was concluded Mrs. J. C. Burns, in behalf of the School Improvement League, pre- sented the school with a beautif- ul new piano. Supt. Elmer E. Lyon accepted it, and expressed the thanks of the pupils and faculty.

The Improvement League has al- ready proved itself indispensable to the school, the piano being only one of the many valuable additions it has made in the past few years.

Mr. Park has been enthusiastic in giving musical training to the high school pupils this year, which could not have been done without the aid of a piano. Mr. Bourgeois very kindly lent a piano until the arrival of the new one.

At the close of the exercises Supt. Lyon gave an explanation of the sit- uation regarding the special tax of 2 1/2 mills for the purpose of build- ing a new school, and 1 1/3 mills for maintenance. The necessity for voting these taxes is very evident, as the future of this school depends on it.
