Miss Olga LeGrange, of New Orleans, visited her aunt, Mrs. Menetre last week, to attend the graduating exercises of her friends, Misses Lucy Ray and Sadie Pigott, of the high school.

Misses Frost, Locke and Cooper left during the past week for their respective homes. These young ladies have made many friends in Covington who hope to welcome them back at the opening of the next school term.

Mrs. J. B. Wortham, Mrs. W. A. White, Mrs. E. R. Moses, Mrs. J. Stern and Miss Addison went as delegates from the Covington Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star to the Louisiana State Grand Chapter held last week at Lake Charles. Mrs. Wortham, who is the worthy Matron of this chapter, was made Grand Elector, and was the recipient of many honors while at the convention. Among other distinctions Mrs. Wortham was called upon for a response of welcome to the delegates and acquitted herself most gracefully, and brought much deserved credit upon herself and her chapter. All the ladies had a beautiful time and received much pleasant attention during the course of the convention and its attendant functions and ceremonies. Mrs. Wortham returned on Sunday but the other ladies have lingered at various places en route visiting relatives and friends. Our Covington delegation was greatly instrumental in getting the next convention for Bogalusa, which brings it very near home.

They came home Monday evening and were showered with rice by a crowd of Mr. Canulette's friends. They will remain with his brother until they go to housekeeping. Mrs. Canulette was formerly a resident of this place so has a host of friends here. Mr. Canulette is well known and liked here. He was a former resident of Madisonville, where his friends are numerous. He is well known in Covington.
DIED—On Thursday, May 22 1913, at 4 a. m., Mrs. Robert Starks (nee Martha R. Crawford), aged 57 years. She was the daughter of Mrs. R. Crawford and the late Mr. Sterling Crawford.
Mrs. Starks was a sufferer from chronic rheumatism for many years and death was not unexpected. The love and care of a devoted husband and children was hers. The deceased was a life-long member of the Methodist church, and her passing away was merely the transplanting of a Christian soul to its Creator. Mrs. Starks is survived by her devoted husband, her mother, and five children. Mrs. Thos. Welch, of Audubon; Mrs. Joe. Hoey, of Audubon; Mrs. Jas. Mayfield, of Slidell; Messrs. Jas. and Henry Stark, of Slidell. Her brothers are Everett, Lindsey, A. D. L. R. and Hy. Crawford. Her sisters are Mrs. J. W. Seymour, Mrs. Jno. Peterson, Mrs. Jno. McMannus, of Slidell, and Mrs. E. Garrison, of Bush.
Lame back is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the back, for which you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Covington, La., May 21, 1913.

The town council met in extra session above date for the purpose of entertaining a proposition made by the Cemetery Auxiliary Committee of the Progressive Union.

The following members were present: F. G. Marrero, mayor; P. J. Lacroix, L. A. Perreand, Leon Hebert, M. P. Planché, Emile Beaucaudry. Absent: D. I. Addison.

The Cemetery Auxiliary Committee of the Progressive Union appeared before the council and proposed to clean up and beautify the Covington cemetery, provided the council would make a small donation out of the general fund, say fifty ($50) dollars, then fifteen ($15) dollars per month thereafter.

Moved by Leon Hebert, seconded by M. P. Planché, that the proposition be accepted, provided the council reserve the right to rescind the resolution at any time at their option, upon which motion the following voted: P. J. Lacroix, L. A. Perreand, Leon Hebert, M. P. Planché, Emile Beaucaudry. Absent: D. I. Addison.

Moved by Leon Hebert, seconded by L. A. Perreand, that the council adjourn subject to call.
