BOYS CORN CLUBS.

Will Make Exhibits at the Louisiana State Fair—Many Premiums Offered.

That the State of Louisiana is steadily developing into a splendid corn-producing territory will be demonstrated at the State Fair this year by numerous exhibits from the boys corn clubs. The exhibits will be on display in the agricultural building, and will occupy very conspicuous space. Five hundred dollars in premiums will be awarded for best ten-ear exhibits and club displays. All varieties of corn will be allowed in the contest.

There are sixty-two of these clubs in Louisiana, with a total membership of about 3,000. Every parish is represented. Due to the remarkable spread of the movement inaugurated among the juvenile farmers a few years ago, and liberally encouraged by the State Fair Association and other agencies. There is promise of between 1,000 and 1,500 exhibits of ten ears each, or a total of about 12,000 ears of corn. It will be the largest display ever made by the boys' clubs in Louisiana. In order to have little trouble getting the exhibits to Shreveport, the Fair Association has arranged to furnish each member of the club with a ten-ear corn carton, or box, for shipment by parcel post. The cartons will be sent to the superintendent of each club for distribution. Each club is entitled to not less than ten ten-ear exhibits, nor more than thirty exhibits.

Prof. E. Richardson, director of the extension work of the Louisiana State University, is superintendent of this department, with A. F. Klodger of Baton Rouge as assistant superintendent. Leigh F. Maxey of Curran, Ill., will be judge. To each member of the boys' clubs a free ticket to the Fair is given for the management feels that too much encouragement cannot be given these young agriculturists, who are active in showing the world that Louisiana has a great future in the corn-raising industry. The fair opens November 5, and closes November 12. For catalogue and premium list write Secretary L. N. Bruegerhoff, Shreveport.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLUBS

Will Make a Splendid Exhibit at the Louisiana State Fair This Year.

Judging by the reports from various portions of the State, one of the real big successes of the Louisiana State Fair this year will be scored in the Domestic Science Department, which will be in charge of Miss Elizabeth Kelley as superintendent. This will be a brand-new feature, as there has never before been any display of the domestic science clubs. The interest reported from different parishes is due largely to the inducements offered by the Fair Association, in being a list of cash premiums, totaling $150. The display will be shown in the Agricultural Building, near the girls' canning exhibits and boys' corn club display. The exhibits by these clubs will demonstrate a wonderfully important work being carried on by the domestic science departments of the Louisiana public schools. There will be specimens of cooking, sewing, preserving, baking and various other interesting and useful activities by the girls of the State. The different teams of different schools will have charge of the domestic science booth on different days of the fair, which opens November 5 and runs through November 12. To Secretary Louis N. Bruegerhoff, Shreveport, La., for premium lists and catalogue. They are free for the asking.

BABY CONTEST AT FAIR.

Will Be One of the Most Popular Features—Mrs. Frank DeGarmo In Charge.

No announcement in connection with the plans for the Louisiana State Fair this year is more significant than the one authorized by the management, to the effect that Mrs. Frank DeGarmo will be superintendent of the Baby Show. Mrs. DeGarmo now resides in Shreveport, but formerly she lived in Baton Rouge, where she is prominent in charitable work, and through her efforts that the first Eugenic Baby Contest was held at the Louisiana State Fair of 1908, the year of the 3rd Louisiana State Fair. That show is declared to have been the first of its sort in the whole country, and served as a model for many others since it was held in Shreveport.

Scores of beautiful and handsome baby girls and boys will be on exhibition at the contest. Prizes aggregating $500 have been offered. Of this amount, the Woman's Home Companion gave $200 to encourage the development of the Eugenic movement. The contest will be held in the Schuyler home room. There will be competent physicians to make the necessary examinations. The contest will be governed by standard rules. The babies participating in the competition will be shown later in the afternoon. This feature promises to be one of the most popular at the Fair. Past records justify that prediction. For catalogue and premium list write Secretary L. N. Bruegerhoff.

SPECIAL DAYS AT FAIR.

Have Been Promised For Different Celebrations During Big Show.

Also, every day will be of interest to everybody as well as to members of certain societies and organizations, friends of certain distinguished persons, or certain cities and communities. # UNCLE REMUS

13. All assistant teachers should cooperate faithfully with each other and with the principal in carrying out the school work. Dissension among the teachers should not be tolerated.

14. It is the duty of the teacher to attend such meetings as are called from time to time by the principal or superintendent.

15. No teacher should leave the school grounds during the time school is in session, without conferring with the principal. At no time should the school be left without at least one teacher during the recess period.

16. Cleanliness of person and neatness of dress should be scrupulously observed by all teachers.

17. Teachers in graded and high schools should take the work designated by the principal. Such work may be changed from time to time as the interest of the school may demand.

18. Teachers should not excuse any pupil from school nor from any of their duties without the permission of the principal.

19. Both pupils and teachers should abstain from the use of tobacco in any form on the school premises.

20. Teachers should notify the superintendent of the first case of their school of mumps, measles, chicken pox or the appearance of any other contagious or infectious disease.

21. Teachers should not too frequently take part in social events to the detriment of their health and disposition or to a loss of interest in their work. The board should look with special disfavor upon dancing. This form of amusement should be prohibited so long as it is done in moderation and propriety, on Friday and Saturday nights.

22. The moral life and daily conduct of teacher, both male and female, should at all times be above reproach or suspicion. The teacher is the young pupils ideal, and the exemplary life on the part of the teacher will be of incalculable value in shaping the life and character of the pupils.

23. The principal should be held finally responsible for the discipline of the entire school. He should also be responsible for the condition of the buildings and grounds, seeing that they are at all times clean and in good repair, and notify the superintendent or board of any matter beyond his control.

24. He may suspend pupils for infractions of school rules or for misconduct, reporting the same at once to the parent and guardian. He should not have power to expel a pupil indefinitely.

25. He should hold meetings of his faculty not less than once a month for the purpose of discussing and deciding matters pertaining to the general welfare of the school.

26. He should have authority to assign all new pupils to their grades and to approve all plans for the promotion or examination of pupils.

27. He should have authority to collect and disburse the incident fee according to law, to report at the close of the session showing how this fund has been expended. The principal should report to the superintendent any neglect on part of any patron or patroness to pay incidental fee.

28. Pupils are responsible to their principals for their conduct not only during school hours, but while on their grounds, and also enroute to and from school.

29. Pupils should leave the school premises and go directly home after school is closed, unless otherwise permitted by the teacher.

30. When it becomes necessary the parent in special cases request the teacher to depart from this regulation.

31. Pupils should not leave the school grounds before the close of school hours without the express permission of the principal.

32. Pupils guilty of defacing or otherwise injuring any of the school property should, under penalty of suspension, have proper restoration or repair made.

33. Pupils in all grades above the first or second, at least, should receive monthly reports of their standing in the various subjects to be in specified and signed by either parent or guardian and returned to the teacher for safe keeping until the close of the session.

34. New classes in the first grade of any high school in the parish may be organized during the first week of the session and again during the middle of the session, but no beginning should be allowed to enter the school at any other time.

Pupils should be allowed to enter other grades at any time during the session.

35. The Parish School Board should recognize the assistance, in calculating extent and value, that may be rendered to the teacher and other school authorities by loyal patrons of the school.

No school can hope to attain a high standard of efficiency without the active co-operation and support of the fathers and mothers of the school communities. It is ever a healthy indication of the school's permanent growth when the influence of the home reaches out and touches with love and sympathy every effort that makes for the good of the school. And yet, there is a danger line that no patron of the school is expected to cross.

It must be insisted upon that the management of the school should at all times be left to those charged with this responsibility.

The parent, though ever so zealous for the child, must constantly have in mind that his or her's is the office of helpfulness to the teacher, and only such. And when his or her's is frequent visitations to the school reach that point where his or her's presence at such times is not welcomed by the teacher, the danger line has been reached, and the parent has become a hindrance rather than a help to the school and should be constructed by the parish board.

For the work of the teacher is no one of display, being entirely apart from anything that suggests a general entertainment for the public.

Teaching school is hard work, and it requires tremendous concentration of mind and nerve force to keep a class room in perfect order while imparting to the children the highest form of instruction of which the teacher is capable, and at the same time exacting the best service that the child can give.

It is believed, therefore, that the teacher can do her best work when supervision is confined to those in authority.

In extreme cases, where the parent becomes meddlesome or officious, the children of the offending parent should be suspended from school.

UNCLE REMUS.

STUMPS AGAIN.

In the September 27th issue of the Farmer I had a short article pleading for the removal of trees and stumps from the fields and in this article figured the average cost of blasting stumps at 15 cents each and the crops enough could be grown on the space occupied by the stump to pay the bill in two years. I did not include the labor required in blasting the stumps as I figured that and the "cutting" of these stumps and the trouble in getting around them with implements would more than balance the cost in two years, thereby making a evenup on the labor proposition.

Since this article was written I have heard it rumored that the removal of these stumps could not be done as cheaply as I stated, that it would cost more and was impractical. This was no surprise to me. We have "doubting Thomases" and knackers in all things, at all times, even in fairs, ice cream suppers and churches. We must have some of them, or we would not strive so hard to "show them" what can be done with a little energy and get-up.

Let me say that I did not mean green stumps, or stumps in land recently cleared, but I mean those stumps that you have been "cutting" long enough to allow the bark to come off and probably some of the sap. You can blast and burn them out very easily, only needing to be kindled once in a while. I will not cost over 15 cents to remove such stumps on an average, not counting your labor, and I try every one who doubts this to do so, and then compare the cost of the stump with the cost of the land. Do not form an idea without knowing what they hang to it as a spider does his web. I am ready to show any farmer, who does not already know, how to blast stumps with dynamite economically. I will come to your farm and do some of the actual work if help you get started. I am anxious to be of some service to one and to who will do good work, who will endeavor to make as much on an acre as has been made heretofore or two.

Get those stumps out, plow your land deep, pulverize it thoroughly use the right kind of fertilizer, plant good seed and then cultivate with implements that will not cut or tear up too many roots and you will find that farming is really a business after all, a profession that any man should be proud of.

Franklin, Oct. 30.—Houston D. Bickham, 40 years of age, banker and merchant, was shot from ambush at night at Cumme, five miles north of here, and probably fatally wounded. The identity of the would-be assassin has not been ascertained.

Mr. Bickham, who was president of the Commercial Bank of Bogalusa of the Angle Bank and the Mount Herman Bank, all of which were recently placed under suspension by the State bank examiner, had spent this afternoon in Franklin in conference with his attorneys regarding litigation growing out of his financial difficulties.

It is stated here that the attempt of assassination occurred in the store of C. H. Bickham. It is learned that the financier was shot in the abdomen and that his wounds are believed mortal. The tragedy was enacted a few minutes past 7 o'clock last night.

Immediately on Sheriff Thomas Simmons being advised of the affair he sent Wiley Pierce and two other deputy sheriffs to the scene. The sheriff himself is sick and unable to get about. The deputies are not expected to return from Cumme before morning, and until then details of the affair will not be known.

Mr. Bickham is a son-in-law of W. W. Babington, a prominent and wealthy man of this section.

JANCKE DREDGE BURNS. Crew Has Narrow Escape—Twenty Thousand Dollar Loss—Insured.

Madisonville, Oct. 30.—Several hours after Jacke dredgeboat No. 5, at Madisonville, was a total loss after being consumed by flames early Thursday morning, Ernest L. Jehnke, one of the heads of the company in New Orleans, was at the scene and had given orders for the construction of a new craft for the company's shippers.

No. 5 was seen in flames by the watchman, who barely escaped with his life. Fortunately for them, the crew escaped in a hastily-lowered yawl, as No. 5 was close to shore.

A high wind was blowing and the efforts of the tug Charabelle, Fox and Tiger, who happened to be in the harbor, assisted by several hundred citizens of Madisonville, were for nothing in fighting the flames. It seems the fire started under the engine room, and the only theory advanced is that some live coals ignited the wooden part of the ship.

The boat was insured for $20,000 which represents the loss. Jehnke, No. 5 was a hydraulic dredge, used principally for sand dredging, and was practically a new boat. Only the hull of the dredge will be salvage as the superstructure was burned entirely away.

A CONSUMPTIVE COUGH. A cough that bothers you continually is one of the danger signals which warns of consumption. Dr. King's New Discovery stops the cough, loosens the chest, banish fever and lets you sleep peacefully. The first dose checks the symptoms and gives prompt relief. Mrs. A. F. Mertz, of Glen Ellyn, Iowa, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery cured a stubborn cough after six weeks' doctoring failed to help." Try it, as it will do the same for you. Best medicine for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Money back if it fails. Price 50c and $1. All druggists or by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.
