Mr. Arthur L. Bear is the promoter (we came very near saying the first gator, because you know Mr. Bear is a lawyer) of a card distribution scheme of the joyous, optimistic kind that sets forth the ideal attractions of Covington and makes the stranger long to be with us. He makes no charge for the suggestion and is a benefactor of the printer, will not have hidden your light un-encouraging home production of these a bushel. He's a bear.

All you have to do is to order a few thousand of the cards, pay the printer, buy a few dollars worth of postage stamps and set your type to work. In every letter put one of these cards. By the end of the season you may say you have made your mark in the world. You will not have hidden your light un-encouraging home production of these a bushel. He's a bear.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Will not all Baptist men, pastors and laymen give attention for one minute? There will be held in Alexandria on April 7, 8 and 9, of this year, the first session of the Louisiana Baptist Men's Convention. It is especially urged that every Baptist man who possibly can attend be present.

It will be for those attending a revival of religion, a denominational representative meeting, and a workers' conference, all combined. The fellowship of the brethren will be especially helpful and the discussion will be marked with a strong devotional and active spirit. It will not be a meeting to raise money but to enlarge our individual and denominational horizon.

The transportation committee has assurance from the railroads that reduced rates on the certificate plan will be granted these attending in meeting. The Baptist Church in Alexandria will furnish entertainment on the Harvard plan—best and surest first free to every man who attends.

This state-wide Men's Convention was authorized by the Baptist State Convention last November, and was urged there that every business man and pastor of the Baptist denomination plan to attend.
Be sure to come.

BONFOUCA GIVES THANKS.

The people of Bonfouca spend much of their time in praising the police jury for forbidding the opening of a barroom in our quiet community. We can now sleep in peace. When the people are sober they are industrious and courteous, but under the influence of the cheap whiskey passed to them over a "nickel-and-dime" counter, they become savage and quite quarrelsome. People are still in the penitentiary who were put there by our barroom closed years since. The evil done by it yet remains. Young men once respectable became vagabonds and thieves through it.

I have been requested by many to return thanks to our honorable police jury for their having unanimously turned down the chairman's attempt to disgrade us. If Bonfouca could see certainly would retain in power the entire police jury, which does so much credit to St. Tammany parish. Voters of Bonfouca section of the Ninth Ward.

A SUCCESSFUL INSURANCE MAN.

Mr. Chas. B. Wills, of Mandeville, who is representing the National Life and Accident Insurance Co., said to be the largest company doing this class of business, has met with phenomenal success, having a patronage that extends over the entire parish, and having paid out thousands of dollars for sickness, accidents and deaths. Mr. Wills attributes this success to strict conformity to business principles and perfect fairness in his dealings. He handles combination policies for sickness, accident and death, meeting the requirements of a large number of the wage earners of the parish, which is largely represented in the lumber manufacturing business.

Mr. Wills has been a resident of the parish for a good number of years, having come here for his health. He is courteous, considerate and obliging, and as a result of the fact that he is handling a good thing, his success is largely due to congeniality and the confidence that is imposed in him. We are glad to know that he has been so eminently successful.
