THE COMPARATIVE VALUE OF GOOD SERVICE.

The parish school board at its last meeting raised the salary of the parish superintendent, Prof. Elmer E. Lyon, from $1400 to $1800, allowing him an assistant for several months of the busy season. But two of the board members voted against the raise, we presume simply because they thought the parish could not afford it, because we have had a remarkable era of educational prosperity under the superintendency of Prof. Lyon.

Touching upon the question of the ability of this parish to pay the increased salary, this question can hardly be settled than by a comparison with what is being paid by other parishes in this State, and incidentally we will say that while this State is spending about $8.00 per eligible pupil Eastern and Northern States are paying much more, one as high as $24.00 per pupil. Ascension parish, with a total income of but 59.5 per cent of that of this parish, is paying $1800. Ouachita parish, with a total revenue of but 66.4 per cent of that of this parish, is paying $2400. These are not isolated instances, for a still greater comparison is found in St. Bernard parish, which is paying its superintendent $1875, while its total income is but 25.9 per cent of that of St. Tammany parish. These percentages are calculated on the basis of the report of State Superintendent Harris for the years 1911-12 and 1912-13, which are given as follows, taking those that bear a reasonable relation to the conditions of this parish:

Parish	Salary	Total Annual Income
St. Tammany	1,400.00	64,430.46
Ascension	1,800.00	38,569.86
Assumption	1,800.00	48,114.17
Grant	1,500.00	41,994.67
Lafayette	2,442.50	27,800.67
Lafourche	1,800.00	49,858.27
Morehouse	1,800.00	47,434.70
Ouachita	2,400.00	38,921.48
Plaquemine	1,900.00	16,824.84
Pointe Coupee	1,999.50	26,092.24
St. Bernard	1,575.00	16,727.98
St. James	1,866.45	44,960.92
St. John	1,625.00	45,894.30
St. Martin	1,805.00	58,534.41
Terrebonne	1,800.00	68,930.36

Now it is not a question of what we can get a superintendent for. If we don't care what kind of a superintendent we have, why we can get one very easily for $1000, just as we could use lard on our bread instead of butter, if we wished to; and occasionally we might find some who would prefer lard. We believe, however, that a large majority prefer butter, and that on the same principal a very large majority of the people will be glad to learn that we have secured the services of Prof. Lyon for another term, even though we must pay him a higher salary—that is, if he accepts, which we hope he will; for while he has had an offer of $2000 from Texas, that is his home, he has property interests here, and his familiarity with the conditions, needs and opportunities of the parish give him a field that should yield splendid returns in educational advancement. He has the confidence of the community. We believe he will remain.

THE WOMEN'S VOTE IN ILLINOIS.

The women's vote in Illinois places to their credit the putting of twelve new towns on the dry list and the losing of eleven battles, which went wet. Whether this was due entirely to the influence of the women's vote or whether other causes made the transformation possible is a question we will be charitable enough to waive in their favor, but those elections in which there were women candidates for office do not show political organization or strength developed by the women voters. There were 217,614 women eligible to vote and 455,283 registered male voters. About 41 per cent of each of these votes was polled, making the male vote about double that of the female vote; yet Miss Marion Drake, a candidate for the city council of Chicago, from the first ward, lost out to John Coughlin, better known as "Bath House Johnny," by about four to one, which must have necessitated quite a considerable vote of the suffragettes for the machine candidate, who has held down the job for about twenty years.

Of the nine women candidates for the council none were elected, and what is peculiar, these candidates polled but a small part of the women's vote. Why they should nominate candidates and then not vote for them is one of the puzzles that enters into the politics of women. We will not try to solve it.

THE TIMES-PICTURE.

We miss the dear old "Pic" from our exchange list. It had been coming to us for over thirty-five years, and while we see its title on the Times-Picayune, it is like the inscription on a tombstone. While its identification with the Democrat may make a great paper, its individuality is lost and its seventy-three years of existence cannot be blotted out without a sigh of regret.

Yet withal we cannot change the developments of time. New fields are opened and old ones closed, and we see in the Times-Picayune an opportunity for the building of a great paper, with great influence for the betterment of New Orleans and the advancement of her interests. It is up to the Times-Picayune.

NEW ORLEANS WILL FIGHT FOR HER RIGHTS.

There seems to be no logical reason why New Orleans should have been denied a regional bank, while insignificant cities, in comparison, were so favored. It should not be expected that any new currency system could be inaugurated without antagonism and without disadvantages to some sections, but it is to be supposed that a new plan would be put into effect with consideration for the best means of carrying out its objects and putting in operation those forces that are dependent upon to make success and to build confidence. Any action that would give tone to the intimation that politics were to play a part in the new currency measure breaks a thread in the weaving of public sentiment in its favor and strikes a blow at the confidence accorded for a united effort to make the measure meet the requirement which caused its adoption.

New Orleans has ample figures to show her supremacy in commerce, trade and finance. If she has not grown as fast as Atlanta or Richmond, it is because of sectional advantages and in no way interferes with her present status nor with the fact that she is the second greatest port in the United States, one of the greatest distributing and receiving points, the outlet of the Mississippi Valley and of very important consideration in the new trade that will be developed by the Panama Canal.

It is to be hoped that the board will see the error that has been made or that congressional investigation will bring out the absurdity, to say nothing of the partiality of the selection made for the transaction of the business of this section.

Mr. W. E. Boes, while cranking his father-in-law's machine, last Saturday, and having the spark advanced too far, was thrown from his feet, fracturing his arm.

Miss Katie P'ducats, who has been a visitor in Covington for the past eighteen months, has returned to her home in Grenada, Miss.

Morley Wallis, son of Mrs. H. M. Wallis, joined the United States navy, last Monday, at New Orleans, leaving on his vessel for San Francisco.

The little son of Mrs. Ida Cook, who has been seriously ill for the past week has improved a little.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Brewster have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite Amelia, to Mr. Sidney Lawrence Dittmer, secretary to the manager of the Texas & Pacific Railroad. The wedding will take place April 20, 1914.

LUTHERAN SERVICES.
Lutheran services will be held at Abita Springs, Sunday, April 12, at 10:30 a. m. Confirmation and communion. Those wishing to commune are requested to announce themselves to the pastor.
C. KUEGLE, Pastor.

BORN—To Mrs. Jos. Rotolo, of Madisonville, La., a fine baby boy weighing 10 pounds, on March 26, 1914.

BORN—To Mrs. Octave Plancher, at Bogalusa, La., Tuesday, April 7, 1914, a boy. It has been named Amadee.

MRS. O'KEEFE WILL ADDRESS WOMEN'S UNION.

There will be a meeting of the Women's Progressive Union at the M. C. B. Library rooms Monday at 8:30 p. m., at which Mrs. F. J. O'Keefe, of Chicago, will address the members on matters of social interest. Mrs. O'Keefe is the only woman member of the school board of Chicago. She is an interesting speaker.

BAPTIST CHURCH.
Dr. Jeandon, of the Home Mission Board, will hold services at the Baptist Church, Sunday, at 4 o'clock p. m. The rite of baptism will also be performed. All are invited to attend.

COVINGTON THE BANNER SCHOOL.

Supt. Lyon presented the Covington high school with the banner won at the recent school rally for the greatest number of points won by any school. It is a beautiful piece of work in silk and was donated by the Covington Bank & Trust Co. This is now the banner school. It will be competed for again next year.

School League and Rally

At a largely attended meeting of the School Improvement League on Monday, April 6th, the finances for the rally were presented and full reports, from all the committees, turned in.

It was indeed gratifying and called for a unanimous vote of thanks to the entire public of Covington for their many kindnesses extended by the way of reductions and many donations. While the committees in charge feel that every one did much, special thanks are due and extended the following: St. Tammany Ice and Light Company, for all lights; Mr. E. J. Domergue, of the Covington Grocery & Grain Co., for wholesale prices on lunches; the Park Commission, for use of park; the mayor and council for donation and full observance of rally day as a holiday; the police jury for generous donation; the Women's Progressive Union, for donation; the girls' basketball team for $10.00; Mr. John Haller, for donation of $15.00 and splendid services; Mrs. Oswald, of Garden District, for $1.00; Mrs. P. J. O'Keefe, of Chicago, $2.00; Mr. E. R. Moses, for help in every way; Mr. E. LeBlanc, for 28 yards material; Mr. L. M. Bourgeois, for use of dishes, tables, etc.; The American Coffee Co., of New Orleans, for 1 case of coffee; and Mr. J. Nicolini agent for same, who made all coffee served; Mr. C. E. Erath, of New Orleans, for all mustard used in lunches; Mr. Eyrich, of New Orleans, for one pair of single comb White Leghorn chickens as a prize; Mrs. Chas. Buck, who gave use of her property for athletics; to Seiler Hotel, W. Baden, E. G. Del Corral, Mrs. House and Mrs. Cooper for free lodging for many boys and girls; to Glenn Cottage, Hooper House, Patrick Hotel, Wallis Villa, Southern Hotel, Mrs. Milos, for cheap rates; to Miss Kate Eastman, for free use of her entire house for guests; to Mrs. B. B. Warren, for splendid services given as chairman of accommodation committee; to Miss Anna Morrell, for sale of old gold, and turned in neat profit on same; to the large committees; we will only say, "we worked at our posts of duty."

COVINGTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

This week closes the seventh month of school. Only two more months remain. The main business of the pupils now is to complete the work of their grades. With spring comes the drowsy feeling. Let parents remember we are now on the "home stretch." The kind of application pupil give the next two months will largely determine whether or not the children will be promoted.

Parents and pupils have a right to be proud of the part our school played in the rally. Usually winning the banner designates the winner "banner school." We won it and will leave it to the public to say whether or not ours is the "banner school."

Our pupils did well in each department of the rally. In the literary and athletic events we lead by handsome majorities of points. Mr. Hays deserves special mention for the manner in which he managed his squad of young athletes and piled up points for our school. We did not care to win more points than we did. It is best that all schools win some, and we are glad that so many schools carried away some honors.

The rally developed some talent that might not have been discovered otherwise. From it we are making up a delegation to send to the State High School Rally May 1 and 2. Mr. Hays will likely send two boys, Theodore Drews and Lawrence Smith, to participate in athletics. Whitaker Riggs will vie in the field of oratory. He won our representation in the rally and all who heard him will agree that he deserved the first place and medal awarded him. Elise Ray will go to spell. It is likely that both Camille Pigott and Corne Poole will enter the girls' events. This is the first time the Covington school has sent delegations and we are expecting to win some honors even against the State.

The enrollment this year in the high school department is 65 over 52 last year, a gain of 25 per cent. Of course a number drop out. They always do. But this is a fine gain, considering the disadvantages this year. Couple this with 71 per cent who will pass their grades over 32 per cent last year and it will cause the fair minded to decide that the school is getting results. We need not mention the inconspicuous of this year. We have no apologies to offer. The school is serving its mission. So it will be agreed.

An interesting program was rendered in the high school Thursday afternoon, pupils of the different grades participating. The banner was awarded the school, Clyde Burns, in behalf of the school, accepting in a nice speech.

The boys have turned their attention to basketball now. Roll call honor for the fourth grade for the week ending Friday, April 3, 1914, is as follows: Elma Maddox, Percy Theriot, E. G. Davis.

Spelling match was won by Paul Merritt and Elma Maddox.
W. A. BYNUM, Principal.

FOLSOM SCHOOL.

The closing exercises of the Folsom school were held Thursday. There was quite nice attendance, and the program was well carried out, the recitations, dialogues and singing being most excellent.

The principal of the school is Miss Jessie Pritchard, who is assisted by Miss Pauline Torey and Miss M. A. Lauderbach.

CARD OF THANKS.

We the bereaved family of Mrs. Peter Denson, who died on March 29, 1914, wish to express our thanks to relatives, neighbors and friends who so kindly assisted, and for their beautiful floral offerings, especially to Dr. H. E. Gautreaux for his kind attention, and Rev. E. A. Rennie, for services at the house, church and grave, and to Mr. Wallace M. Poole, undertaker, for his prompt and kind attention in managing the funeral.
DAUGHTER-IN-LAW and GRAND CHILDREN.

Baseball at St. Paul's

SPENCER COLLEGE 4, ST. PAUL 3.

The St. Paul boys met their first defeat of the season at the hands of the ball club representing Spencer College of New Orleans, to the tune of 4 to 3, and insofar as the runs were concerned, it could be called a comedy of errors as every run made on both sides directly resulted from a varied assortment of wild tosses or fumbles, due possibly to stage fright, or more probably to over-anxiety, for in the very first inning Max for the visitors hit a grounder to Landry at third, which was fielded cleanly but thrown over the first baseman's head and Max went to second. Jackson, the next man up, laced a high fly to center which Gueno was unable to field owing to the torn up condition of the outer garden due to construction of the cinder track, and Max scored and Jackson is credited with a three bagger. Casagne did the honors for the home team by hitting a fly to right. Falg next up hit an easy one to second, and again the ball was fielded cleanly, but thrown wildly and Pallet stopped at second just long enough for Adiger to lace a beauty over second, when he trotted to the plate for the third run of the inning. In the second inning Spencer added another run when Dominick was given a free pass to first, and when Diller tried to catch him napping at this base, the ball went way out in right field as the runner and the baseman became tangled, and Dominick rested on third, and the fourth and last run was credited to the visitors when the next batsman hit an easy one to second, that goes down as the fielders choice, but which Lansing held too long and threw wild as Dominick raced home. After the second inning it was a case of three up and three down, for the home boys settled down as only one of the visitors reached first in the remaining seven of the game. The Delambre boys beat his former record of strike-outs with a total of fifteen. Our home boys made two runs in the fourth and one in the sixth on a base on balls, two hits and four errors; but right here the lingo of Geronimo and his tribe could be used to better advantage, (we were under the impression that all the red skins, except Bender, were on the reservation) for this twirler for the visitors had the Indian sign on our home talent, and well might we ask, what's in a name, but this sort of talk gives St. Paul an alibi, for who could be expected to hit when Rainwater is speeding over the plate. A glance at the box score below will show this twirler is credited with twenty strike-outs, just one below the record of any college twirler in this broad universe, which is pitching some, and every man on the home club, except Diller, fanned the gentle breeze twice, and three of them have three to their credit—discredit, I mean—while only one chance was given an outfielder when Casagne flied out to center in the seventh, the first baseman having six put-outs and the catcher the other 20, while two of the St. Paul's three hits were of the scratch variety, as Diller hit a high fly that fell safe between center and left, due to the sun field, and Chauvin hit a Texas Leaguer over second, the only clean hit recorded off of this Rainwater kid being Chauvin's beauty in the ninth, that might have gone for a home run had it not struck a post in left and bounded back on the field in time to hold Chauvin on second, which, by the way, ended the game, as the next two batters whiffed the ozone, and the last one retired via the second to first route.

The box score is as follows:

Several dy-a-n-the-wool-fans attended the New York and New Orleans game.
St. Paul boys over anxious to bat. Teach 'em to wait, Foster.
Every St. Paul man that plattered a sack walked to the next on wild heaves.
Jackson's three sacker in the first inning should have been an easy out with good outfield.
Pallet should have scored a home run on his drive over left field fence. Slow running.
The grounds at St. Paul's campus boasts of the fastest infield in the South, barring none.
The visitors were impressed with Father Adelbert's handling of the indicator.
Throwing down of bats, by home players, should not be tolerated when called out on strikes.
Hit 'em when they are over, boys, or at least hit at them, as very few pitchers are wild.
Twenty-six out of twenty-seven put outs fell to the catcher and first baseman of the visitors.
Delcambre whiffed nine out of the last twelve men to face him, and did some classy fielding.
Seven out of eight assists fell to the battery of St. Paul, which, with fifteen strike outs, helped some.
Chauvin lead in batting, with two hits out of four times up, for a percentage of 50%.
St. Paul boys had four stolen bases to their credit, to Spencer's three.
The visitors were a good natured and clean set of ball players. Come again boys.
When the teams play clean fans should eliminate over-zealousness. It savors of rowdism.
Cheer the play, not the players. Loyalty is essential, but fairness demands to Covington's credit.
The Fathers should be commended for their untiring efforts in providing America's national pastime.
Better luck, Foster. Your boys are playing splendidly and defeats are necessary to open them on.
