FOLSOM SCHOOL CLOSING.

The Folsom school closed Thursday of last week with the following program:

Welcome address, by Edward Lee. "How the Story Grew," by six girls. "Peach Pie," by Emilie Stevens and Vera Corkern. "Gretchen," by Ruby Wallis and Juanita Hawley. "Being a Boy," by Clyde Wallis. Recitation, by Eula Fenderson. Recitation, by Donice Bullock. "Women's Rights Meeting," by three girls. "Guess What I Have in My Pocket," by a group of girls.

Recitation, by Coza Pittman. Recitation, by Joseph Collins. Recitation, by Cad Bailey. Recitation, by Ruth Collins. Recitation, by Henry Collins. Recitation, by Gladys Spring. Mr. Lyon made a short but brief talk and hoped the people would build up and have a good school for there was nothing Folsom needed worse than a good school. We must certainly say that all the teachers of the Folsom school have discharged their duties. Miss Jessie Pritchard, the principal, has worked faithfully and has done better than any principal Folsom has ever had. While she was working on the inside, she never forgot the duty of her surrounding outside.

Miss Mary A. Louderbough, the fourth grade teacher, comes with her many good qualities and has surely made a success of her many pupils. She stands high in all the good qualities that make a good teacher. Miss M. Torry has all the qualifications that make the little ones learn and love her. Any school would be lucky to have either teacher to teach their school, but we hope to be the lucky ones to have them to teach our coming session. We regret very much that our school term was so short, and hope Mr. Lyon will give us a longer term the coming session.

AUDUBON NOTES.

On Saturday, April 11 there was a picnic given at our school grounds by our Mothers' League for the benefit of our school. Refreshments were disposed of and quite a neat sum was accumulated. Everyone enjoyed the occasion very much.

Mr. A. D. Crawford paid a visit to New Orleans on business last Saturday.

We regret to have our worthy principal of our school leave us as she will leave this week for her home in New Orleans.

We want our school term to continue for nine months next season. We would like to have shades, and our school painted. We are in need of the badly. Our Mothers' League worked zealously to erect a nice fence around our school.

Mrs. A. D. Crawford and daughter Corlene went to New Orleans the past week.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. S. D. Crawford is improving in health. All crops in and around Audubon are looking fine, and we hope they will continue. The farmers in this section are experimenting through our Farm Demonstrator, Mr. Lewis.

Got Any DEFECTS? SORES, BRUISES, SCALDS, BRUISES, CHAPPED HANDS, AND OTHERS, TETTER, BEZEMIA! Do you really want to heal it? Had enough to suffer? JOHN P. CARROLL.

Mr. John P. Carroll died in New Orleans, Thursday evening, April 16, 1914, at 8:30 o'clock, aged 57 years. Mr. Carroll had been confined to his bed about twelve weeks, as the result of concussion of the brain, due to a fall received while working at his trade of stone cutter. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Annie Burns, two sons, Edward and John P. Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Sidney Ensign and Iris, seven years of age. He has relatives in New Orleans and Covington.

The funeral will take place this afternoon from his family residence in Canal street.

There Will Be No War

The announcement that the United States Government had sent the Atlantic and Pacific fleet of battleships to Mexico to make Huerta apologize and salute the United States flag created quite a lot of excitement, but it was not long-lived. As soon as Huerta saw we were in earnest he stopped making excuses and came to terms. The salute of twenty-one guns has not yet, however, been fired, and the fleet will continue on its way until the ceremony has been performed.

TO EQUIP CANERY WITH MODERN MACHINERY.

The Farmer Obtaining Articles on Tomato Culture Free.

The directors of the canning company will meet Monday at 4 p. m., at the courthouse, in Covington. This will be a directors meeting, but any person, whether stockholder or friend, who has any matter of interest to present to the company will be welcome.

The object of the meeting is to arrange to take care of the coming crop of tomato, beans and okra, and to acquire some labor-saving machinery for handling the crop more economically. It is understood that sufficient tomatoes are being planted by our farmers to pack 100,000 cans, but to assure a positive supply for the cannery the company will, at the present meeting, consider the plan of leasing and planting a field under its own management. Owners of desirable farms near Covington are asked to submit terms of rental.

This plan, it is declared, will not lessen the market now open to growers, as the capacity of the cannery can be made practically unlimited. On the contrary, it is thought that the company's farm will demonstrate the lesson that vegetables can be profitably grown here in quantity.

Growers are reminded that the tomato planting season will not close for several weeks yet, and all are urged to plant good sized crops. How to plant and grow successfully has been told in this paper. Those interested in planting can obtain a copy free within the next ten days by applying at this office, or to Dr. W. L. Stevenson.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the St. Tammany Ice and Manufacturing Company, at the office of the company, at 10 o'clock a. m., Monday, May 11, 1914. There will be important business. E. J. FREDERICK, Secretary and Treasurer. ap18-4t

HEALTH OFFICERS TO MEET IN NEW ORLEANS.

Louisiana health officers will meet in New Orleans, Monday April 20. They will discuss the all-important subject—"Public Health in its Local Phases and in Relation to the State Health Department." The interest of every man, woman and child of Louisiana is involved.

States foremost in sanitation have annual conferences of health officers of five days or longer. The programs present measures which have been found successful against disease; one point always stressed is the need in each community of a trained full-time health officer in sympathy with the movement of better health for all.

The Louisiana State Medical Society will hold the 35th Annual Session on the 21st to 23d. For each of the three days' meeting an excellent program has been prepared. The closing days of the week—the 24th and 25th—will be devoted to a conference on how to improve hygienic conditions among negroes. Dr. Wm. C. Woodward, Health Officer, Washington, D. C., Dr. B. S. Warren, Surgeon, Public Health Officer, Dr. J. A. B. Adcock, of Missouri, and many other prominent health and educational officials of the Southern States will be present.

In the interest of health work, both local and state, every health officer should attend these meetings.

The Southern Hotel Cafe will serve hot soup to its customers every day free. Wednesday and Saturday spaghetti and meat balls. a18-1f

Test Made of the New Covington Fire Engine

Mr. Joseph Heligate, of the Water-us Company, from whom was purchased the new gasoline fire engine of the Covington Fire Department, arrived this week from Michigan for the purpose of demonstrating its capacity for fighting fire. Chief Ostendorf had been in communication with the company, and in accordance with previous arrangement wrote to them upon the arrival of the engine. Unfortunately the hose did not arrive in time for Mr. Heligate was kept here several days awaiting its arrival. Finally arrangements were made with the Mandeville Fire Department to use their hose for the purpose of demonstration, and the trial was made Friday afternoon.

Six hundred feet of hose was obtained from Mandeville and four hundred feet of old out-of-use hose was found in Covington and the test started about five o'clock. The hose was run to the river, through the mayor's office and to the courthouse, where a stream was directed to the roof. Just at this time the old hose gave way and the mayor's office was flooded. The damaged hose was cut out and a new start was made, when again a piece of the old hose burst. All the old hose was then discarded, as it was seen that it was not strong enough to stand the strain. As the hose would no longer reach the courthouse a demonstration was made with the six hundred feet of Mandeville hose in a vacant lot. The engine did fine work; in fact there seemed to be no doubt that it would do all that was expected of it, that is, that it will throw a stream 135 feet high with one nozzle at the end of one thousand feet of hose and 125 feet high with two nozzles attached. The demonstration was still going on when we went to press.
