"Just turn the knob" and get the "personal touch" that fits YOURSELF! Write with the fast, Royal roller-trip escapement—the heart of the typewriter runs without effort.

Built for "Big Business" and its Great Army of Expert Operators

These new features of the Royal add to the sensitive fingers of the typist, the one vital thing that the old-style typewriter subtracts—speed!

The speed with brains behind it—the all-day speed of the expert typist in the day's work. Errorless speed is the kind of speed that counts. Common sense has punctured the illusion of the other kind.

Slidell High School.

The most interesting event to occur this week is the formal raising of the large United States flag which is to float from a 65-foot pole standing in one corner of the school yard. As the School Improvement League has kindly donated the flag, they will have charge of the ceremonies.

The following is the program:
Flag song—primary grades.
"Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean"—entire school.

Patriotic selection—High School Band.
Talk—By a progressive citizen.
Patriotic selection—High School Band.

Dedication of flag.
America—Everyone.

Just before and after the program the League will give a Penny Party on the school grounds. Every thing will cost a penny. So much fun is expected. There will be a grab-bag, a fish pond and such games as will create a spirit of hilarity.

In the refreshment line there will be ice cream, cake, candy and lemonade.

Much interest is being manifested by the boys in their basketball work. They are hard at work getting ready for their first game, which they hope to play with Madisonville on Saturday, October 24.

The High School Literary Society held its first meeting for the session September 25th. They elected the following officers: President, Emile Joachim; vice president, Louise Oitver; secretary, Odile Cornibe; critic, Mr. Bond.

The society hopes that the patrons of the school will also become interested in their work, and will show their interest by attending their meetings. The next one will be on Oct. 9th, at 2:30 p. m.

The school regrets the loss of Lena May Sloan from the seventh grade, Edna Sloan from the fourth grade and Paul Sloan from the third grade, they having removed to Merryville, La.

The following out-of-town pupils have registered for the session:

Dr. Dowling did not have much to say relative to the Stiles case, as his mission was to speak of the plague and its prevention, but he scratching and working in its effort to get deep down into the wound these germs were thrown off and were flung into the circulation by the victim scratching. Therefore, don't scratch if you get flea-bitten and you are not likely to become infected.

The doctor appealed to the people to clean up and keep cleaned up. Do away with all trash piles and stack wood and coal so that any part of it is accessible in a search for rats. Rats will not build nests where they can be reached by cats or are apt to be disturbed or discovered.

In speaking of the treatment of the disease, Dr. Dowling said that a serum was being used for inoculation which was proving very successful. Out of twenty-eight cases but seven died. Four died before being seen by a physician. There were no deaths where the serum was used. He cited a case in which the fever ran to 110, the patient being saved by the use of extra large doses injected into the vein. This serum could be obtained by the physicians here should it ever be needed. It is used both in treatment and in prevention, just as the typhoid vaccine is used.

A moving picture, "The Price of Human Life," was given showing how credulous consumptives were led into using worthless patent medicines for the cure of this disease. Also pictures were thrown on the screen illustrating the work in New Orleans of plague-proofing the city, showing how thousands of dollars were spent in the use of concrete and the raising and rat-proofing of buildings. Also showing the distribution of tubercular germs by spitting on the sidewalks and in public places. He said the spitting ordinance should be strictly enforced. Also a picture was given of a piece of ice that had been left for delivery to one of the offices in an office building, resting in a spittoon. The "Price of Human Life" might have titled the full display of pictures.

Dr. Dowling did not have much to say relative to the Stiles case, as his mission was to speak of the plague and its prevention, but he said that there were three sanitary ways of disposing of human feces; first and best, a sewer system; next, the Kentucky system, and then the Stiles closet. This last was the one that had been adopted by this State and that would be placed in all the towns.

In a private conversation, Dr. Dowling was asked if he knew of any place in Louisiana where the Stiles closet had been put in successful operation. He said that he did not, except in his home town, Shreveport. At Asheville, N. C., they were successfully used and had added greatly to the healthfulness of the town, and that if they were properly constructed and managed they would be successful anywhere. That the fault was not with the closet but with the manner in which the plan was carried out. He illustrated his remarks by saying that if a tailor made you a suit of clothes that did not fit you, it was not that you could not be fitted. It was the tailor's fault in not fitting you.

Miss Agnes Morris was also with the Health Car contingent, as was Dr. Lee, who was on his way to establish a medical association at Bogalusa.

An interview with Dr. Dowling which will be interesting because of its reference to our Stiles closet system, will be found on the second page.

Just received a full line of boys knickerbocker pants made of solid colors and fancy mixtures, full cut; ages 5 to 18, from 50c to $2.00—worth much more.
