NOTICE TO TEACHERS.

To Principals and teachers of Public Schools in St. Tammany Parish:

Dear Teachers: I have been asked by Mrs. Wm. Boudousquie, State Chairman of Conservation of Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, to have our schools assist in the great work of training our children to appreciate the wonderful resources and natural beauties of our parish and State.

Now, while we try to appreciate this, we should at the same time try to care for and preserve the many sources of pleasure and happiness given us by an all-wise Creator.

I shall therefore ask that you set aside one period each week (say on Friday afternoon) when you will give practical talks and lessons upon our forests, streams, fish and game of all kinds. We should not forget for an instant the care of our many beautiful shade trees. Let the child become familiar with some of the State and national laws regarding the conservation of our natural resources, and the reasons for such laws.

Show the child the commercial and economic value of our birds, fish and game in general. Show them that the reckless killing of the beautiful song birds is little short of murder. The careless filling of our streams with sawdust not only destroys the appearance of the rivers but drives the fish from them.

In short cannot we lead the children to a realizing sense of the responsibilities of life by teaching the care for the beautiful evidences of God's goodness.

Respectfully, ELMER E. LYON, Superintendent.

School Notes. COVINGTON HIGH SCHOOL. Last Saturday the boys' basketball team played its first game against Onvill. At times the game was very interesting, but our boys proved too strong for the Onvill boys and the game ended with the score of 31 to 3. Lansing and O. Smith were the biggest point scorers for Covington. Lawrence Smith played his usual star game at guard. To-day, Saturday, the team will go to Madisonville and play there. The boys expect to make this another game in their favor. Roll of honor for the first grade is as follows: Burdett Bradley, Jas. Champagne, Bert Helms, Jared Helms, Earl Otto, Joe Rabb, Joe Birnbaum, Kathrine Burns, Dorothy Dietz, Inez Dufour, Josie Frederick, Mary E. The eighth and ninth grade boys had a game of basketball Wednesday. The sixth won by a score of 9 to 0. The ninth grade girls will play the eighth grade Thursday. ONWARD SCHOOL NOTES. On Friday last a number of patrons visited the school, their motive being to listen to a very inspiring talk that was made by our farm demonstrator, Mr. G. C. Lewis, principally on the use of club work. Spelling contests were held on that day, with Elva Thompson winner of the sixth and seventh contest, and Joseph Collins winner of the fourth and fifth grade contest. Our first basketball game was played on last Saturday with the Covington boys on our opponents' court. The results of the game were as expected, in favor of our opponents, but considering the fact that our boys had only two weeks of coaching they played an excellent game. The players were as follows: Forwards, Ellis Jordan, George Bruhl; center, George Thompson, guards, Al. Mandola, Murphy Johnson. The team is going to play Folsom Saturday, in Folsom. MANDEVILLE NOTES. Miss Haas, principal of the Mandeville public school, made her usual Sunday trip to New Orleans, last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gaimiche spent Sunday in New Orleans. Mrs. Chas. THE MODIFIED STYLES PRIVY. Convenience and Health Protection Notable Features. In a last week's report of the proceedings of the Parish Medical Society a typographical error made it appear impossible to install the Styles privy near to dwelling, whereas, owing to the lack of odor on the opposite is the case. These privies can be located much nearer to buildings, thereby greatly adding to the convenience of their occupants, and lessening exposure to disease.
