MADISONVILLE NOTES.

The basketball game between Covington and Madisonville school girls resulted in a score of 14 to 4, in favor of Covington. The game was very interesting and exciting.

We expect to give the same team a tight game in Covington next week. Our boys beat the Onvill team last Saturday, the score being 13 to 10. The boys were evenly matched and a good game was played.

As this is the first game our boys have won this season it has naturally given them courage and they expect to increase their victories.

Miss Mildred Smith entertained her eighth and ninth grade girls and Miss Cora Carter at a Thanksgiving dinner in Mandeville. An enjoyable time was had by all.

Miss Adele Perreand spent Thanksgiving with her parents in Covington. A delightful Thanksgiving surprise was given to Miss Carter and Miss Smith by their pupils.

During lunch hour the pupils decorated the teachers' desks with all kinds of fruits, candy and nuts and beautiful flowers were placed around them.

The spirit of Thanksgiving was not lacking. Later an enjoyable little program was carried out.

Miss Sadie Chatellier returned from Covington after a short stay with relatives. Mr. Chas. Boudreaux, after spending sometime here returned to his home in Franklin.

EUROPEAN WAR SHATTERS KING COTTON'S THRONE

EVERY STAPLE MUST PAY RANSOM INTO THE COFFERS OF WAR.

With Crisis of Stricken Industry.

By Peter Radford, Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

King Cotton has suffered more from the European war than any other agricultural product on the American continent. The shells of the belligerents have burst over his throne, frightening his subjects and shattering his markets, and, panic-stricken, the nation cries out "God save the king!"

People from every walk of life have contributed their mite toward rescue work. Society has danced before the king; mislady has decreed that the family wardrobe shall contain only cotton goods; the press has pleaded with the public to "buy a bale"; bankers have been formulating holding plans; congress and legislative bodies have deliberated over relief measures; statesmen and writers have grown eloquent expounding the inalienable rights of "His Majesty" and presenting schemes for preserving the financial integrity of the stricken staple, but the sword of Europe has proved mightier than the pen of America in fixing value upon this product of the sunny south.

Prices have been bayoneted, values riddled and markets decimated by the battling hosts of the eastern hemisphere until the American farmer has suffered a war loss of $400,000,000, and a bale of cotton brave enough to enter a European port must pay a ransom of half its value or go to prison until the war is over.

Hope of the Future Lies in Co-operation.

The Farmers' Union, through the columns of the press, wants to thank the American people for the friendship, sympathy and assistance given the cotton farmers in the hour of distress and to direct attention to co-operative methods necessary to permanently assist the marketing of all farm products.

The present emergency presents as grave a situation as ever confronted the American farmer and from the viewpoint of the producer, would seem to justify extraordinary relief measures, even to the point of bending the constitution and straining business rules in order to lift a portion of the burden off the backs of the farmer, for unless something is done to check the invasion of the war forces upon the cotton fields, the pathway of the European pestilence on this continent will be strewn with mortgaged homes and fambe and poverty will stalk over the southland, filling the highways of industry with refugees and the bankruptcy court with prisoners.

All callanetics teach us lessons and the present crisis serves to illuminate the frailties of our marketing methods and the weakness of our credit system, and out of the financial anguish and travail of the cotton farmer will come a volume of discussion and a mass of suggestions and finally a solution of this, the biggest problem in the economic life of America. If, indeed, we have not already laid the foundation for at least temporary relief.

More Pharaohs Needed in Agriculture. Farm products have no credit and perhaps can never have on a permanent and satisfactory basis unless we build warehouses, cold storage plants, elevators, etc., for without storage and credit facilities, the south is compelled to dump its crop on the market at harvest time. The Farmers' Union in the cotton producing states have for the past ten years persistently advocated the construction of storage facilities. We have built during this period 2,000 warehouses with a capacity of approximately 4,000,000 bales and looking backward the results would seem encouraging, but looking forward, we are able to house less than one-third of the crop and warehouses without a credit system lose 90 per cent of their usefulness. The problem is a gigantic one—too great for the farmer to solve unaided. He must have the assistance of the banker, the merchant and the government.

In production we have reached the high water mark of perfection in the world's history, but our marketing methods are most primitive. In the dawn of history we find agriculture plowing with a forked stick but with a system of warehouses under governmental supervision that made the Egyptians the marvel of civilization, for who has not admired the wisdom of Pharaoh for storing the surplus until demanded by the consumer, but in this age we have too many Josephs who dream and not enough Pharaohs who build.

Sold Hogs by Telephone

A South Carolina farmer had a large number of hogs which were ready to kill. The weather was so warm that killing was out of the question.

He went to his telephone, called a dealer in Columbia over Long Distance and sold his hogs at a good price. He then called the local freight office and arranged for shipment.

The telephone is now a necessity on the farm. You can have one on your farm at small cost. See the nearest Bell Telephone Manager or send a postal for our free booklet.

LOUISIANA TO BE REPRESENTED AT SAN FRANCISCO.

The exposition officials at San Francisco have accepted plans and specifications for the Louisiana building and work will commence just as soon as the contract can be let.

Mr. John Numa Colomb, who is living in San Francisco, is a native of Louisiana, and has generously offered to represent the commission in the letting of this contract.

The Louisiana Society of California, comprising more than a hundred Louisianians, are very enthusiastic over the idea of having Louisiana represented at the great exposition, and have offered their services to do anything possible to make the exhibit a success.

The first five thousand allotment of medallions has just been received and is being distributed among the different banks over the State, who have offered to dispose of them. Every citizen who is patriotic enough to invest one dollar in this great advertising campaign for Louisiana will purchase one of these medallions and preserve it as a badge of patriotic citizenship.

The women of the State have been asked to take charge of this work and it is expected that every patriotic woman in the State will be willing to help.

This is Louisiana's one great opportunity to advertise her wonderful resources to America and every Louisianian should make it his individual business to see that Louisiana takes proper advantage of it. A second-class exhibit would be of less than no value. The exhibitors at the Louisiana State Fair at Shreveport were very generous with the commission, furnishing two carloads of splendid agricultural exhibits. These exhibits have been shipped to New Orleans and are now being gotten in shape for shipment to California. Other exhibits are being sent in every day and it is expected that by January first this will be one of the most complete exhibits ever shipped from the State.

The commission council of New Orleans have just appropriated $5000 to this fund; this makes nine parishes that have contributed, up to date. Many others have it under advisement and it is expected before the campaign is completed that every parish in the State will have subscribed. The Governor has issued a proclamation, setting aside Saturday, December 5th, as a special day for the sale of Louisiana medallions. Every town and city in the State will be asked to co-operate in selling these medallions, and it is hoped to raise, at least $25,000.

The commission has notified the officials at San Francisco that they may expect Louisiana to have the best agricultural exhibit shown at the exposition. Every community in the State should be glad to make this a fact and should any special exhibit win a blue ribbon at this great world's exhibition the section of Louisiana from which it came, should be indeed proud, as the press over the world would advertise that individual section in such a way as would be impossible under any other conditions.

Is your bank patriotic? If you want to find out call and see if they have Louisiana medallions for sale. If they have you will find a little card at the window, stating that and you should find a smiling man who will be willing to show you and encourage your purchase of the project.

Every Louisianian should remember that Saturday, December 5th, Louisiana Medallion Day, should know that the commission pointed by the Governor to have Louisiana properly represented at the exposition are giving their best energies, free of cost, to try and get the necessary money to build the Louisiana building. That their Louisiana on this day, bronze medallions at a price of one dollar each, should also know that these men who are giving their money more interested in Louisiana every good citizen should be should refuse to recognize the of any man to be a better Louisiana than he is. If he will take these facts he will be ready to pay his dollar for one of these medallions, but will give a amount of his time and effort in this cause.
