MANDEVILLE NOTES.
 Long will there live in the memory of those and those were many more Catholics among them, who had the pleasure of attending what was probably the grandest occasion of its kind ever presented in this vicinity, reference being made to the midnight mass celebrated at the Church of the Lady of the Lake on last Christmas morning. The myriads of lights with the ferns and potted plants formed a beautiful setting for the general ensemble. Like a piece of well oiled and splendidly set machinery, everything occurred at the regular time and proper place, not a cog missed, not an untold incident happened to mar the solemnity and grandeur of the occasion. The sermon which dwelt with "The Birth in the Manger," was eloquent and most befitting to the moment. Father Placide, O. S. B., the celebrant, was efficiently assisted by the following named altar boys: Masters Samuel Latche, Jr., James Morgan, Chif-ford Hopkins and Herbert Caillot.
 Words are inadequate to properly describe the grandeur and soul-inspiring effort of the music and singing rendered by the choir, whose successful achievement is largely due to the patient and persistent efforts of Miss Mariotta Lavalie. Among those who assisted her and accredited themselves with distinction were the Misses Marie Gref, of New Orleans, Marie Dufour, Bertha and Pauline Cornibe, the latter as organist; Alice Equimanco, Selma and Gertrude Smith Mrs. Hopkins, Dr. R. R. Bailey and Mr. Charles David.

At the dawn of day on Christmas Father Placide and the choir repeated the mass at Lacombe.

The Christmas tree and entertainment given by the parochial school children at the Hall of Our Lady of the Lake, for the benefit of the school, last Sunday evening, proved an unqualified success. The hall was packed to the doors. The children "done" themselves proud. Due to a large measure to the management of Misses Florence Lavalie and Pauline and Bertha Cornibe, who featured the entertainment.

The toothsome refreshments were all disposed of and Santa Claus was most generous in the distribution of presents, every child and some of the "grown ups" received remembrances.

Dr. W. E. VanZandt was the en-dored guest of the evening in that he held the number that drew the fancy dressed and very much alive young "porker."

At a special meeting last Saturday the town council finally adopted the new license ordinance and fixed on this Saturday morning to officially inspect the finished 3500 concrete piles necessary to complete the sea wall. If the piling meets with the specifications the contractors will then receive $10,000, same being the first sea wall payment as per contract. Fine New Year's present, this, Monsieur Morgan. The contractors will begin placing the piles within two weeks and expect to finish the work complete not later than April 30, 1915. The contractors request the presence of every and anybody interested in the sea wall, at the inspection Saturday, Jan. 2, 1914, beginning at the west end of the lake front at 7:30 a. m. At this same meeting a communication from the Belgian Relief Fund Committee was read by the mayor, and referred to Mrs. M. E. Fassman, as president of the Women's Progressive Union.

Mr. Percy Gleason, formerly of New Orleans, a son of the late Jerry Gleason, for many years registrar of voters for Orleans parish, died Christmas day at 1:30 p. m. Mr. Gleason had been quite ill for more than a year, but his death was due to a shock resulting from burns caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove about one week previous to his death.
 His body was shipped to New Orleans for interment. The Gleason family is receiving the condolence of its friends for this, also the death of an aunt, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Gleason's sister, which occurred some time ago.

The many friends of the Landry family will regret to learn of the very serious illness of Dr. Maxime Landry, a well known and successful practitioner of New Orleans, who took up his abode with us at the beginning of last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Smith, having returned from their honeymoon, are at home to their friends at the residence of their mother, Mrs. Margaret Smith.

Town Marshal Smith was a visitor or rather a commissioner to Coving-ington last Thursday to pay poll taxes for a number of his friends, some 50 odd.

Thursday, at the hour of mid-night Mr. Janse Band threw open the doors of his new cafe and restaurant at his old stand, with a champagne punch and luncheon.

Miss Marie Dufour spent several days last week in New Orleans, in attendance at the funeral of her four year old cousin, Lydia, who died of pneumonia.

Dr. R. R. Bailey is Mr. Gus Mugners' guest.
 Both the parochial and public schools will re-open on the morning of Monday, January 4, and now that jolly old Santa Claus has proven himself a royal good fellow and has returned home to prepare his presents for next Christmas. The faculties of the respective schools are expecting, and rightfully so, a large, regular and punctual attendance, with the accent on the last two adjectives, and it is the duty of the parents to see to it that the teachers are not disappointed.

The cuffs and collar that were disposed of by Mrs. Buisson were awarded to Miss Mariani Watkins.

Mrs. Wm. R. Deeves and daughter, Miss Lilly Deeves, are the guests of Mrs. Quitman Kohnke. Miss Deeves enjoys the distinction of being the only woman on the New Orleans Board of Trade.

CHRISTMAS AT CAMP HYGELA.
 Hygela, La., Dec. 25, 1914.
 The sweet spirit of the Yuletide, greeted the world over by joyous hearts and smiling faces could not have brought more happiness to any spot on earth than to that of Camp Hygela where a number of patients are by the Lord's divine will, accepting the benefits His wonderful works have to offer to their weakened conditions caused by that most dreaded of diseases, Tuberculosis.

No letters of absolute regret at not being in the family circle at Christmas left the camp for all was doubly sure of spending happy days since preparations had been going on for more than two weeks to give all the joys any home could offer.
 Christmas Eve morning mail had brought numerous packages and boxes tied with gay ribbons, containing gifts from home and other friends.
 The rest of the day was spent in decorating the two dining rooms with holly, yew, berry and other evergreen, and tinsel draped from the four walls of the rooms. The big log fire in the old fashioned fireplace completed the charms the rooms held for the patients on Christmas Day.

Morn dawned gray and occasional heavy showers robbed the outside world of the pleasure of Old Sol's presence but the patients were awake and eagerly wishing each other hearty Christmas greetings, each and every heart being filled with happiness and exulting over the remembrances from home and other firesides and feeling sure that no other in all the world could be more happy than they.

On entering the dining room in the morning the patients found the tables prettily decorated, the work of Miss C. Fronherz, the generous superintendent of the Camp. The dinner was a delicious one and all joined in expressing their sincere appreciation for the good things sent them by the King's Daughters of Covington and other friends.

Through this medium they wish to thank them one and all and let us wish that the coming year brings peace and joy and wealth, oh, friends of Camp Hygela!

CARD OF THANKS.
 Editor St. Tammany Farmer: We wish to express our appreciation of the assistance of white citizens and Covington Lodge No. 188, F. & A. M., in our charitable work during the Christmas season, for which $6.25 was contributed, and which was used for the relief of the poor colored people. The money was distributed as follows, in the purchase of needed things: Amelia Parker, $1.10; Wallace Parker, 70 cents; Ann Duncan, 50 cents; Old Lady Elra, 50 cents; the Parkers (one load of wood) $1.00.

The committee wishes to state that Mr. and Mrs. Parker have been confined to their home for quite a number of years, one being paralyzed and the other blind. It was thought wise to apportion them $2.80 on account of the urgency of their need of assistance.

We wish especially to thank Mr.
 Aron Kottwitz for the interest he has manifested in the relief of colored indigent poor. We wish also to thank our colored friends for things donated.

Quite a number of colored citizens in meeting assembled, passed resolutions tendering a vote of thanks to the white citizens for kindnesses to our poor.

 Otis J. Reine, Jeanette Armstrong, Mary J. Wright, secretary. Committee.
