AS YOU LIKE IT CLUB.

Miss Estelle Evans was the charming hostess of the Club at its meeting on last Tuesday. To break the monotony she entertained the Club members and their guests with a novel game, entitled "Figs," the first prize being awarded Miss Jennie Smith, consolation Mrs. Warren H. Smith, booby Mrs. C. S. A. Fuhrmann and the guest prize Miss Ellen Roy.

Everything was carried out in a very informal way, in order to suit the occasion. The tally cards were beautifully hand painted, representing a little pig eating out of a trough.

The guests of the Club were Misses Ethel Bouge, Ellen Roy, Hettie Brewster, Joyce Witte, Linnie Locke, Mrs. Claude Smith and Mrs. Blanche Sanchez.

The Club will be entertained next Tuesday by Mrs. Warren Smith.

The following men will be used in this game: Bryan Burns and Octave Smith, forwards; Sam Lansing, center; Albert Lansing, Lawrence Smith and Randolph Sharp, guards.

MRS. CHARLOTTE LOVERING BAND.

Mrs. Charlotte Lovering Band, a woman who was much beloved by all who knew her, died in Mandeville, Tuesday, March 23, 1915, and was interred in the Morgan family tomb, in Mandeville, Wednesday afternoon, amid banks of floral offerings by devoted friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Band was a kindly, lovable woman, and will be missed by many. She was the mother of Hon. Lewis L. Morgan, congressman from this district, who has been a constant attendant at her bedside during her recent long illness. She was 57 years of age. Her step-son and step-daughter, Mr. James Band and Miss Evelyn Smith, also survive her. The pall bearers were: Robert Smith, Chas. A. David, Ernest Prieto, Alex. Band, Reily Smith, Lucas Prieto.

BERNARD FONTAN, SR.

Mr. Bernard Fontan, Sr., died in Covington at 11 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, March 23, 1915. He was 73 1/2 months, and 10 days old. The funeral took place Wednesday from the late residence on Louisiana avenue, Rev. Jos. Koegerl officiating. Interment in Covington Cemetery. Mr. Fontan is survived by his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Ouellet, his son, Ben Fontan, Jr., and a number of grand children.

Mr. Fontan was a native of Guizerix, Hautes-Pyrenees, France. He has been a resident of Covington for fifteen years, and will be missed by many warm friends. His funeral was largely attended.

M. C. B. NOTES.

The final game of the Five Hundred series was played Tuesday with Mrs. W. J. Warren as winner of the capital prize consisting of the cut glass water set which was so kindly donated by Mr. W. A. Hood. The final game was very closely contested as Mrs. J. D. Lambert was a very close second for the capital prize.

The prizes for the day were won by the following ladies: Mrs. J. D. Lambert, first, a jewelry set, donated by Mr. L. M. Bourgeois; Miss Mattie Blossman, second, a fountain pen, donated by Mr. J. L. Watkins; Mrs. Moran, consolation, a collar and cuff set, donated by Miss Anna Frederick.

The scores are as follows: Mrs. J. D. Lambert 5790, Mrs. W. J. Warren 4110, Miss Mattie Blossman 3910, Mrs. W. A. Hood 3690, Mrs. L. M. Tally 3550, Mrs. Piquet 3250, Mrs. Moran 3210, Mrs. B. B. Warren 3000, Mrs. J. H. Smith 2960, Mrs. E. D. Kentzel 2790, Miss Lillie Allain 2660, Mrs. W. M. Poole 2430, Miss Jeanne Piquet 2420, Mrs. L. Levinson 2340, Mrs. A. Aitkens 2280, Mrs. W. H. Kentzel 2000, Miss Hazel Dossat 1940, Mrs. W. G. Ellis 930.

Now that the classes of the dancing school have been divided and the little ones have been given a class in themselves Miss Mickie can give each one so much more individual atten-

GLOOM CHASER COMING.

That Means the Big W. I. Swain Show Company on the Way.

Old Man Gloom is going to bid Covington good-bye soon. He is going to stay away for a week.

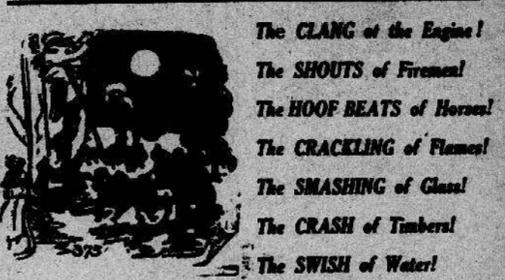

Which is by way of announcing the fact that the greatest of all gloom chasers is coming. The great W. I. Swain Show Company is coming, and when W. I. Swain comes around Old Man Joy sits on the throne while Old Man Gloom makes himself very scarce.

With everything bright, new, splotch and span, the Swain aggregation is coming to Covington for a whole week, beginning Sunday, April 4th, and young and old are glad.

Under big water-proof tent (seats lovers of this city will see some of the classiest dramatic and comedy productions ever produced here. High class actors, of the Swain standard, will portray characters made famous in song and story by the best dramatic artists of the day. There will be society dramas, western plays, and productions with strong human interests; comedy that will make tears or laughter roll down your cheeks; musical selections that will make you wonder how Swain can possibly do it all for those popular prices that he charges. Go to the show on the opening night and its a safe bet you will be there pretty often during the remainder of the week.

W. I. Swain is adding new laurels to those won in the past by his out-doing himself this season. His $10,000 repertoire of Metropolitan hits, including the deeply human interest play, "Belle of the Mountain Trail," Monday night, challenges the instant admiration of everyone. On the 1915 trip Swain is leaving smiles, happiness and joy in his
