GOODBEE CELEBRATES.

Once again the people of Goodbee gathered in the little chapel and held a joyful Christmas festival.

The real Christmas spirit was shown by the merry greetings of friends; a beautiful tree, which was the children's delight; the Christmas songs that ever grow more sweet; an address by Rev. M. LeCron, and recitations by our dear little children, telling again of how the shepherds were keeping watch on the hillside while their flocks were sleeping upon the dewy ground; of the wonderful star that led to Bethlehem's rude manger where a babe in peaceful slumber lay, our Lord and Savior.

May this blessed Christmas spirit abide with us each year and those who share it keep a Christmas heart and truthfully and gladly say, "Peace on earth to men of good will."

Mr. John Leininger deserves much praise for decorating the tree and saoping so prettily.

CHRISTMAS AT THE MAUD SCHOOL.

A very interesting feature of the past week was a Christmas tree at the Maud school, which was enjoyed very much by the grown-ups as well as the little ones, and conceded by all present to be a grand success.

The entertainment was opened by the pupils marching in to the strains of Dixie Queen March. A very interesting program was presented to a large audience, opened with a song by the school children, followed by recitations.

After the program, Old Santa Claus, dressed in an appropriate costume, and after making a short speech of encouragement to the children, distributed a bountiful supply of toys, dolls and Christmas goodies. Refreshments were served to a large crowd numbering about two hundred.

After the refreshments were served, Rev. C. P. Toney delivered a very impressive talk, commending very highly the principal, Miss Vivian Kinler, of New Orleans, for the excellent progress made by the children, after which music and dancing were indulged in until a late hour.

ENTERTAINMENT AT GERMAN SETTLEMENT.

There was a mammoth Christmas tree loaded with toys for the little folks who were made very happy as they received their gifts.

The room was artistically decorated evincing the good taste of the principal, Miss Vix.

All present enjoyed a good time, and repaired to their homes expressing the wish that Christmas would occur many times during the year.
