JUDGE JOSEPH B. LANCASTER.

Joseph B. Lancaster, jurist, educator, student, friend, and above a MAN; that is what the people of St. Tammany parish as well as all the surrounding country lost when our Judge was called away.

May he be granted that peace, which is the reward of all honorable upright men, by the Judge who presides finally and without appeal over the destiny of all, and may those who are left be given his protection and the power to endure with fortitude the loss which they have sustained.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY CONFERENCE.

The Mississippi Valley Suffrage Conference which was held at St. Louis from May 10 to May 17 is reported as being one of the best and most inspiring conventions ever held.

Those who had the good fortune to attend say that it was not only enjoyable but highly profitable as well.

It was like a magnet and glorified "Work Conference." The women buckled right down to business, and their business was to discuss the best and speediest way to win equal suffrage. Practical suggestions on many different aspects of the work were brought forward and threshed out; advice was given by experts in their various lines, and was eagerly noted down by the rank and file.

Mrs. Harrison Monroe Brown, president of Illinois, assured the women who are planning to come to Chicago that full arrangements will be made for their comfort.

Mrs. Alice Mayer Wing gave like assurances for St. Louis. Mrs. Catt impressed the great importance of having large delegations present in both cities. She said: "Let us throw out the rubbish of our own conservatism and doubt and fear and hesitation, and take as our slogan: 'The appointed hour is now.' When you do that, the victory is here."

WOMEN SPEAK AT MEDICAL SESSION.

Women physicians took an important part in the annual convention of the New England Osteopathic Association at the Hotel Lenox, Boston, this week. Dr. Ella D. Still, of the faculty of the American School of Osteopathy, at Kirksville, Mo., and explained the treatment she claims will produce "twilight sleep" more effectively and minus the dangers attendant on drug methods. She took part in a special clinic on women's diseases, which was in charge of Dr. Florence A. Covey, of Portland, Me. Other speakers were Dr. Mary A. Walker, of New Bedford, and Dr. Ada A. Aschorn.

VOTE BY MAIL ON SCHOOL NURSE.

A new form of referendum vote was instituted in Manhattan, Kan., by Superintendent of Schools E. B. Gift in sending a circular letter to all the families in the city having children in school asking whether or not the employment of a school nurse was desired.

The school board had been asked by several civic bodies to place a nurse on the regular school staff for the coming year. They have learned in Kansas that it pays to consult the entire family, the wife as well as the husband, in matters of this kind.

COLUMBIA GIRLS GAIN FRANCHISE.

Columbia University departed from another tradition in favor of its women students when President Nicholas Murray Butler recently issued a decree which gives to all the girls in the university, not students in Barnard, Teacher's College or the graduate schools, the right to vote for members of the Student Body of Representatives, the governing body of undergraduate activities.

Permission was granted to women a short time ago to enter the medical and dental departments of the university.

HELPING "TB" PATIENTS TO HELP THEMSELVES.

An investigation which disclosed that 45 per cent of the patients discharged from a tuberculosis sanatorium, as improved or in an arrested condition, had as a matter of fact relapsed or died within two years after their discharge, was the basis for working out a plan for saving such an enormous waste by a joint committee of the Free Synagogue, the Montefiore Home and the United Hebrew Charities of New York City.

In the first place, patients are being trained in occupations which will restore them to economic usefulness. The majority of those coming under the committee's care were needle workers.

So a factory was opened last June on the upper floor of a two-story building in the Bronx. New windows were added, and a stairway and bulkhead cut through to the roof on which a fresh-air rest room will be equipped this summer. The patients work on men's shirts, a task which though not paying the highest wages has a fairly steady demand.

The work in this factory is graduated both in difficulty and in time. Some patients who at first could work only an hour or two are now doing practically full time. They work in ideal conditions and under continued supervision. The usual accessories of welfare work are present, such as lunch room, rest room and nurse service. None of the patients are paid more than they earn nor less than the union scale.

Admission to the factory is strictly limited by doctor's orders, and examinations are repeated monthly.

The committee endeavors by its visiting nurses to keep track of the patient's entire family, and has found in a number of cases that other members than the one under treatment needed special care. In its rehabilitation process it includes the very practical assistance of loans to start patients in business.

The total cost of the experiment for two years, including the cost of equipping the factory, was over $80,

000. The cost of service for each individual was 40.3 cents a week.

DANCING SCHOOL NOTES.

And the dance goes merrily on! Since the closing of school the children of Covington have felt the lack of some regulated discipline and even in the one week the dancing school classes have grown wonderfully. All those who have joined are so thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the instruction and enjoyment of the classes that they could not now be persuaded to think of giving any of it up.

As soon as Miss Peters' school closes in New Orleans are over for the session she will make arrangements to come over to Covington twice a week, perhaps on Wednesday and Saturday, and so divide the classes that there will be more individual instruction given with not so much effort on the part of either teacher or pupil.

Little Misses Emilda Smith and Martha Bodebender demonstrated last Tuesday night at the Parkview Theatre what Miss Peters can do with any or all of the children of Covington with very little effort. And while we see the finished product, it is really the exercises which the children go through in receiving this instruction that benefits them vastly more than gaining the ability to entertain the public.
