

PRES. TELLS WHAT IS EXPECTED OF THE PEOPLE.

(Continued from page 1) Without abundant food, alike for the armies and the peoples now at war, the whole great enterprise upon which we have embarked will break down and fail.

I particularly appeal to the farmers of the South to plant abundant food stuffs as well as cotton. They can show their patriotism in no better or more convincing way than by resisting the great temptation of the present price of cotton and helping, helping upon a great scale, to feed the nation and the peoples every-where who are fighting for their liberties and for our own.

The Government of the United States and the governments of the several states stand ready to cooperate. They will do everything possible to assist the farmers in securing an adequate supply of seed, and adequate force of laborers when they are most needed, at harvest time, and the means of expediting shipments of fertilizers and farm machinery, as well as of the crops themselves when harvested.

This let me say to the middlemen of every sort, whether they are handling our food stuffs or our raw materials of manufacture or the products of our mills and factories: The eyes of the country will be especially upon you. This is your opportunity for signal service, efficient and disinterested.

To the men who run the railways of the country, whether they be managers or operative employees, let me say that the railways are the arteries of the nation's life and that upon them rest the immense responsibility of seeing to it that those arteries suffer no obstruction of any kind, no inefficiency or slackened power.

Let me suggest, also, that every one who creates or cultivates a garden helps, and helps greatly, to solve the problem of the feeding of the nation; and that every housewife who practices strict economy puts herself in the ranks of those who serve the nation.

In the hope that this statement of the needs of the nation and of the world in this hour of supreme crisis may stimulate those to whom it comes and remind all who need reminder of the solemn duties of a time such as the world has never seen before, I beg that all editors and publishers everywhere will give as prominent publication and as wide circulation as possible to this appeal.

THE SUPREME TEST OF THE NATION HAS COME. WE MUST ALL SPEAK, ACT, AND SERVE TOGETHER!

WOODROW WILSON. INSOMNIA.

Indigestion nearly always disturbs the sleep more or less, and is often the cause of insomnia. Eat a light supper with little if any meat, and no milk; also take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper, and see if you do not rest much better.

THE REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA

(Continued from page 1) A few years ago he was honored with an appointment as aerial postmaster in Chicago. Convincing, vivid, thrilling are inadequate words to describe the narrative of personal experiences of Lieut. Donald H. McGibney in the great war.

When the war storm broke, this typical young American collegian was a teacher in the Protestant college at Beirut, Syria, within a day's journey of the scenes of the ministry of Jesus of Nazareth and of the plains where Joshua led the Israelites against the heathen hosts of Canaan.

Almost before he had become accustomed to the ways of the East, there marched out of the historic Mountains of Lebanon and through the streets of Beirut, one hundred and fifty thousand turbaned Moslems against the defenders of Suez, that pathway of civilization, only to meet with slaughter by the British veterans, and death by thirst in the desert. So came the conflict before his very eyes.

Another big feature of the 1917 Redpath program will be the Parish Players from Chicago. The Parish Players have the unique distinction of being the first professional theatrical organization in the United States to be established by a Church.

The Great Reno will appear on another evening with a thrilling program of mystery, magic and illusions. Sometimes when he is introduced, he will rise from the audience, dressed in evening attire, walk upon the stage, and with one wave of his handkerchief produce from apparently nowhere a bowl running over with live gold fish swimming about.

He burns a piece of common paper and a dove rises phoenix-like from the ashes. He apparently tears the dove in two, only to find that he has two doves in his hands. He throws a glass of water into the air, and it changes into a dove and flies away. Knight MacGregor, the Scotch baritone, has been secured for a recital. He will have an able assisting artist at the piano.

The Merrilees Entertainers, a quartet of charming and beautiful girls, will appear in costume of the colonial times, while rendering some of the selections which were favorites in days long gone by.

James R. Frew & Co., a trio, present a novel program, including Hawaiian music. In all Mr. Frew plays ten instruments. Prince Palo Kio-loni of Hawaii, conceded to be the master artist of the Islands, taught Mr. Frew to play "The Prayer to the Volcano" on the steel guitar.

Miss Clarissa Harrold, a beautiful and talented interpreter of plays, will appear on the second day.

The lectures of this season will again bring the usual inspiration and helpfulness, both to individuals and committees, so essential to a well balanced chautauqua week.

The children's work this year includes a presentation of "Circus Time in Fairyland." The expert children's worker provided by the Redpath management will train the local children for this pretty fantasy, which will be given on the fifth day.

OUR FLAG.

(By M. R. eNubanser) All hail to our flag—the flag of the free.

That waves throughout this country for you and for me; Our dear old Stars and Stripes, emblem of great pride.

Is instilled in all of our hearts throughout this Nation wide.

Oh dear old flag, emblem of honor and love, We daily pray for your safety, to Him who is above;

We cherish what you have done, in the good old days gone by, And feel our honor will uphold or know the reason why.

You do not seek possessions or things that others own; You simply ask that liberty on all the seas be shown;

Your noble love for freedom, no matter what the cost, Demands this sacred right, or else all honor is lost.

We know in all your efforts you battle for the right, You do not waiver, not for once, nor fear the strong in might;

We therefore rally at your call, we do not even pause, For we know that you need us to fight for humanity's cause.
