DeDroit's Military Band will furnish music for the concerts and dancing at the Eighth Annual St. Tammany Parish Fair, which opens Oct. 25 and will close Oct. 28. Prof. Geo. DeDroit was principal musician of the band of the First Regiment of Texas Volunteers. He is a musician of note and is well known in this section.

His ten musicians at our parish fair have in past years been quite a feature. This year, however, no expense or trouble will be spared to furnish entertainment and to that end Red Ribbon Shows Italian Band has been engaged to furnish additional music.

Within the next week the fair catalogs will be ready for distribution, a copy of which is now in the hands of the printer.

Exhibitors of agricultural products this year will be able to win prizes of double value as a separate Ward Competition will be conducted, the prizes to remain the same as in the general competition.

Contractor F. N. Boudousque has all material for construction of the Educational Building and within the next week work on it will be far advanced. Other improvements, include enlarging of the restaurant, the agricultural hall and the dancing floor.

Racing this year will be under the supervision of Messrs. G. H. and F. B. Kent.

Rev. A. J. Gearhead, of New Orleans, has been conducting services at the Methodist Church in Covington this week. Mr. Gearhead is a man of versatility and of considerable dramatic power, and above all, is always interesting. His understanding of human nature enables him to condemn without offending.

His remarks give none of the "holier than thou" impressions that make the sinner feel that he is in the wrong place, yet the sinner is very apt to realize that he would feel more self-respecting if he fitted into the nich more closely. Rev. Gearhead talks fast and says something all the time.

His mission here is to help build interest in christian work, and particularly to bring the Methodists together in an effort to build up that Church. He gave a talk to men only Thursday evening and started the organization of a great Men's Bible Class, the objects of which are a better understanding of the Bible, "mutual helpfulness and co-operative activity along lines that are moral and religious."

Quite a number responded to his appeal, and the work he has started will be taken up and carried on by Rev. Seife, who will be here for the unexpired term of Rev. Boykin—two months. He will hold services on the fifth Sunday of this month and the second and fourth Sundays thereafter.

Rev. Boykin has worked hard for the upbuilding of the Church during his stay here, and both he and Mrs. Boykin will leave many friends behind, when he leaves for Shreveport next Tuesday, where he will have a charge and will at the same time take up theological studies at the college there.

A card party was given in honor of the drafted men who were to leave the next day for Camp Pike, at Madisonville. It is said to have been a most enjoyable affair.
