

War Proclamations

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION

THE WHITE HOUSE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
MAY 29, 1918.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES:

THIS WAR is one of nations—not of armies—and all of our hundred million people must be economically and industrially adjusted to war conditions if this nation is to play its full part in the conflict. I appeal to all who now own either Liberty Bonds or War-Savings Stamps to continue to practice economy and thrift and to appeal to all who do not own Government securities to do likewise and purchase them to the extent of their means. The man who buys Government securities transfers the purchasing power of his money to the United States Government until after this war, and to that same degree does not buy in competition with the Government. I earnestly appeal to every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before the twenty-eighth of June, to save constantly and to buy as regularly as possible the securities of the Government, and to do this as far as possible through membership in War-Savings Societies. The twenty-eighth of June ends this special period of enlistment in the great volunteer army of production and saving here at home. May there be none unenlisted on that day.

WOODROW WILSON.

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION

STATE OF LOUISIANA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
BATON ROUGE,
JUNE 8, 1918.

WHEREAS, thrift is at all times a virtue, and the nation that saves is the nation that prospers and mirrors the happiness and contentment of its people, and

WHEREAS, in these times of crisis it is the prime duty of every American to save and thus help save the World from Autocracy.

THEREFORE, I, Ruffin G. Pleasant, by the authority vested in me as Governor of Louisiana, do hereby call upon all of the people of this State to observe to the utmost the period that has been set aside by the National Government for concentration upon thrift, and I do urge that by the time that period ends on June 28, 1918, every man, woman and child in this great Commonwealth will have unstintingly bought War-Savings Stamps that our Government and our associates in war may be financially backed up to the limit in this great crusade for the freedom of the World.

This is not a financial war so much as it is a fight in which a prime factor is economy—saving in food, stinting in dress, and a patriotic denial of all the unessentials of life, that the wheels of industry may be turned toward the manufacture of the virile things that spell success.

Such saving should be turned into the channels of helpfulness for our Government, which, after all, is but ourselves. Uncle Sam should be made the beneficiary of our thrift.

We should take him into our partnership and throw into his coffers our dollars and our dimes, that the fray fraught with the happiness and the independence of our posterity may be gloriously won.

IN FAITH WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the seal of the Executive Department, at the Capitol, in the City of Baton Rouge, on this the 8th day of June, A. D., 1918.

R. G. PLEASANT.

By the Governor:
JOHN MARSHALL,
Secretary to the Governor.

THE BEST INVESTMENT POSSIBLE.

We recommend to our friends and customers the advisability of investing in War Savings Stamps to the limit of their capacity. These stamps are the direct obligation of the United States Government and bear four per cent interest. You can cash them up by giving ten days notice at any postoffice.

When the committee calls on you, be prepared to invest as much as you can get your hands on during the next six months.

HORINE—MASON.

Sunday evening at nine o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Laura Clark, in Covington, Mr. Harry Ayles Horine, Jr., and Miss Jimmie-Belle Mason, both of New Orleans, entered the happy state of matrimony.

The bridal party made a semi-circle under the electric light with a drop shade of daisies, the groom with his best man, Mr. Emile Bechel, standing in the center, the maid of honor, the bride's sister, Miss Poem Mason, and the bridesmaids, Misses Isabelle and Corinne Poole, on the left, and the young bride with her mother, Mrs. Mary Belle Poole-Mason, as matron of honor, on the right. Rev. F. C. Talmage, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, performed the impressive ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white duchess satin and georgette crepe, and instead of the conventional bridal veil wore a simple wreath of daisies. Miss Poem Mason wore white organza with rose pink satin and Klarnay roses. Misses Corinne and Isabelle Poole wore pale green and pale blue taffeta and carried corsage bouquets of daisies and maidenhair ferns. The bride's mother wore a chic gown of alic blue taffeta with a corsage bouquet of daisies and ferns.

The only guests present were Mrs. Sam Poole and children, Mrs. Louise Clark and Mr. and Mrs. V. Z. Young. "And from her mother's fond protecting side "She went forth into the world, a youthful bride."

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Sanchez have returned to Baton Rouge, their former home, after two years spent here.

ST. SCHOLASTICA'S ALUMNAE.

The third annual meeting of the St. Scholastica's Alumnae, with fifteen members, friends and classmates, held last Sunday, was an enjoyable event.

Miss Katie Smart was re-elected president for the third term, Miss Inez Lanson, first vice president; Mrs. Rudolph Schultz, second vice president; Miss Veronica Fanally, recording secretary; Miss Marie Louise Stevenson, corresponding secretary; Miss Florence Terrebonne, treasurer. Nine new members were initiated. Heretofore the alumnae has given three gold medals yearly to the institution, one for academic course, one for shorthand and one for music. This year and additional medal will be awarded for the highest average in the grammar school.

Five dollars was donated to the convent to be used for charity, and five dollars appropriated for the purchase of War Savings Stamps. The meeting closed with refreshments served on tables artistically decorated with the class colors. The national hymn was sung with enthusiasm.

MARIE LOUISE STEVENSON, Secretary.

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE.

Make a Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents to Remove Tan, Freckles and Sallowness.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Squeeze the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle, then put in the orchard white and shake well. This makes a quarter pint of the very best lemon skin whitener and complexion beautifier known. Massage this fragrant, creamy lotion daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and just see how freckles, tan, sallowness, redness and roughness disappear and how smooth, soft and clear the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless, and the beautiful results will surprise you.
