SHERIFF'S SALE.

Morgan Realty Company vs. Mrs. G. E. J. Wheeler, Wife of Balentine D. Stein. No. 121,099. Civil District Court, Division B, Parish of Orleans, State of Louisiana.

By virtue of an order of court issued out of the Civil District Court, Division B, Parish of Orleans, Louisiana, in the above entitled cause, and to me directed, I will proceed to sell at public auction to the last and highest bidder, on Saturday, March 15, 1919, at the principal front door of the courthouse at Covington, Louisiana, between legal sale hours for judicial sales, the following described property, to-wit:

The west half of the northwest quarter and the north half of the southwest quarter of section 27 in township 8 south, range 14 east of the Greensburg District of Louisiana, situated in the Parish of St. Tammany, and said State; and containing 161.86 acres, more or less, according to the official plan of the Shipping Board, Philadelphia, in January of last year, and was stationed at New Orleans in charge of the auditing department for one of the Corporation industries. He was transferred in May of last year to Madisonville to represent the government at the Jahncke Shipbuilding Plant, which plant happens to be one of the most modern and largest in the Gulf Division. Two vessels of the Ferris 3500-ton type are now in deep water under their own steam and one at the docks which will go forward under her own steam within the next few days. There are several other large vessels now on the ways which will be launched in due time.

Mr. Bell has had several flattering offers of late to become connected with large companies, one among the number happens to be too attractive for him not to entertain and he has therefore accepted a position to represent one of the largest tobacco companies in the country. He will leave Louisiana some time during the month of February for New York, from which point he will sail for England, and will in all probability be permanently located in Turkey.

Mr. Bell, when interviewed by the reporter, indicated a keen regret over the fact of leaving Louisiana and particularly her good people whom it has been his pleasure to have met. He also stated to the reporter that he shall always cherish the thought of having been privileged to be stationed at the Jahncke Shipbuilding Plant, where the men had but one idea and that idea was to build ships for Uncle Sam.

Hospital Notes. Mr. W. L. Morrison, machinist on contract No. 21, sustained a very painful injury to the little finger of his left hand on Tuesday about noon. The Doctor was obliged to take several stitches in the finger and as a consequence of the accident Mr. Morrison will be somewhat handicapped for a few days.

One of our carpenters, Armand Prudeau, came near losing his left hand during the week. He stumbled while carrying some long iron bolts which struck his left hand lacerating it and almost splitting the index finger in half. The wound necessitated about twelve stitches and will keep Armand away from work for a few days.

Mr. White, traveling auditor for the Jahncke Navigation Co., was suddenly taken ill with a chill and high fever as he was en route to the yard on Tuesday. Mr. McMillan, who was accompanying Mr. White, was able to get the prompt service of the Yard Surgeon and at last accounts Mr. White was resting comfortably.

The Jahncke Recreation Club is gaining many new members. The new stationery and membership cards have arrived. The letter paper with the Jahncke flag in the corner presents a very neat appearance. A fine Brunswick phonograph has been received and is a welcome addition. The Jahncke Recreation Club sign has been received and placed above the door. The club is for the entertainment of the employees of the Jahncke Corporation, and those who wish to join can see either Mr. Falter or Mr. Becker, at the employment office.

"The Hun Hammer" is a very interesting paper published at Jacksonville, Fla. The employment office has copies of it for distribution. The last issue of this paper has a very fine picture of the "Bayou Teche," the first boat completed by the Jahncke Shipbuilding Corporation.

The employment office will be glad to furnish any employee with an identification card, as it is the desire of the office to have every employee in the yard have a card. It is of great advantage to the employees, as on it can be noted his promotions, and it is in that way a recommendation for him.
