Number Five.

The Young People.

How is it with the young people of your household? Are they endeavoring to instill in their minds the correct ideas concerning thrift and economy? "As the twig is bent, the tree's inclined." The necessity of saving should be a part of every child's education. It is a duty you owe to your children to show them that money saved is money earned. The child's future is the most sacred duty of the parent. Get them started right. They can open an account with us for One Dollar. We welcome small accounts as well as large ones. We are always interested in the development and progress of the young people. dreamkit

The little school house over at Happy Hollow is finished and the new schoolma'am moved in. The big boys at Hollow are happy. They say she's real smart and prettier'n rec'd bird slap side a bunch of apple blossom.

No, kind friend, those sacking, gurgling sounds, intermingled with flashes of oratory that you hear of late was not some kind of patriotic celebration, but Joel tryin' to get his team out of the slough in the road at Millwood.

Uncle Caleb Capers returned home recently from Nankene county and reports that the cyclone up there last month did great damage to Jim Weeds place—blew away everything but the mortgage.

Some one has privately informed us that Bill Simpson, on Turkey Creek, remarked that a certain editor was a little out of plumb and didn't know enough to go in out of the rain. Well, Bill, what you say might be all true, but take some good advice an' keep you hat on when you go out, or first thing you know some red top woodpecker will take a peck at your bald head.

Wylie Johnson was in Chinquapin Thursday with a load of wood. Come again Wylie.

Deacon Waters stopped the other day to say that this was the wettest weather he had seen in twenty years.

CASH FOR LIBERTY BONDS—If you feel that you must sell your Liberty Bond, you can sell to C. M. Liddle, Slidell, La. He will pay you more CASH for it than a bank will pay for it. If you cannot well go to Slidell, send the bond to the Bank of Slidell for collection, and CASH will return to you at once. mr-8-31

Ford Cars have become such a world utility that it would almost seem as if every family ought to have its Ford Car. Runabout, Touring Car, Coupe, Sedan, (the two latter have enclosed bodies), and Truck Chassis, have really become a part and parcel of human life. You want one because its service will be profitable to you. We solicit your order at once because, while production is limited, it will be first come, first supplied.

We have a car load in transit. Speak for yours now.

Yes, deacon, an' the next one is going to be the driest you've seen in forty years.

Up in Mississippi they have put a postmaster in jail for writing a book and down in Haystack county a man was clapped in jail for writing a bogus check.

The profession of letters seems to be losing in dignity. Parson Giles sent word to'her day that he would visit Chinquapin soon and bring his family to spend the days with the editor. Ticked to see you, parson, but you musn't come Monday because that's the day—er er—we wash our overalls.

A horrid typographical error in our last issue brings forth a humble apology. In the description of the Pickens-Perkins wedding we wrote the "bride's going away hat was silver gray to match her clothes." What the linotype man made us say was, "the bride's hat was tilted away to match her nose."

The most jocular paragraph in the papers lately: "The reason eggs are so scarce an' high is because the hens are all going around trying to crow like a rooster."

Choice pigs feet five cents each at Brown's City Store, also a full line of gingham aprons. All new and fresh just like our lady clerks.

Little water hyacinth, Down in Yellow Lake, There I sometimes wander, Tarry for your sake; Maiden charm and purity, Mirrored fair to view, In your quaintest green bodice, And headdress of blue.

Whisper to me shyly, Lovingly add low, Something in your keeping, Secret I would know; With these waters flowing Ever careless by, Tell me how, sweet maiden, You keep your stockings dry.

Wish our President would quit that game of checkers and come on home. Woodrow, did you ever hear tell of the man who made an independent fortune tending to his own affairs?

After all, this is a pretty good old world to live in. There is much to be thankful for, even tho' at times we seem to be overwhelmed by the sorrows of the day. True, greed and selfishness abound on earth but if we drive them out of our own hearts to that extent we are better off than some others. Look around and see how much beneficent Nature at times provides for our enjoyment.

Take a beautiful spring morning, for example, and not the encircling blue in the sky, the leafy trees and grass begemmed with dew, the lulling song of birds, and above all the odoriferous balm of bud and flower. Among these balmy scents comes one in particular that to our mind is sweeter than the famed perfume of "Araby, the Blest," or the fragrant essence of the bougainvillee.

We refer to the delicious aroma of bacon and eggs frying for breakfast.

CHURCHES TO AID VICTORY LOAN BY SERMONS ON MAY 4

It Will Be a "Thanksgiving Loan," in Recognition of This Country's Happiness And The Return Of Peace

Sunday, May 4, has been designated all over the United States as Victory Loan Sunday, when every pastor of every denomination is asked to discuss from the pulpit the Victory Loan campaign and urge upon their hearers such investments in the Victory Loan as they can undertake.

It has been the observation of those prominent in former Liberty Loan campaigns that the churches have had enormous influence in furthering subscriptions. And there is every reason why this should be so. Lending to one's country is something more than a business investment. It is a patriotic obligation and surely patriotism—a deep regard for one's homeland—is a form of religion.

The Victory Loan is also being called the "Thanksgiving Loan," and surely it is a fitting designation. Think of the boys who have come back home alive and well, with the enemy vanquished, the battles over! Think of peaceful America, its people prosperous, its children happy and well nourished, its lands safe from the invasion of a foe; and compare our situation with that of starving Russia and Poland, with Germany torn by Red revolution; with victorious France still bleeding from the scars of horrible war. Think of the heavy taxation which must for years burden the people of Europe, victors and vanquished alike. And then compare our situation here—with our government asking only that we lend what we can spare, with gilt-edged security and liberal interest. Certainly, we can afford to call this a "Thanksgiving Loan," and prove our thankfulness by liberal investments. There is not a father who has seen his boy come home, or who has learned that he is safe overseas, who can afford to cheat himself of his share in this—the last of the government loans—which will pay the war bill and "finish the job."

A SUCCESSFUL CLUB BOY.

Hubert Williams, a school boy of Progress school, near Bush, La., has proven a good disciple of the agricultural work. The Agent dove up to Hubert's home one cold evening in January, just in time to get his hand in on dressing for market the last two shoats of a litter of good grades which had been put through patches of peanuts, sweet potatoes, peas and corn. They were in fine condition, and young, and put on the market at a good price. The food cost little, which they gathered themselves in the approved way. They netted him $122.00. The mother of these pigs, a good Durce Jersey brood sow, was heavy, showing more profits not far off. This is one of the club members who grows the food for his hogs and does not have to pay feed bills.

Hubert got some good seed corn four years ago from the Agent which he has been clinging to since and improving from year to year by field selection. His was the best crib of corn the Agent has seen in some time considering the very high proportion of good ears. Instead of a show ear being rare and hard to find, just the reverse is true. He had the corn field selected that he expected to plant next year and we were picking out seed for sale. He produced 55 bushels on one acre last year at a cost of 30 1-2 cents per bushel. His land was not extra good, and the season was extra good, and he sold 20 bushels at $4.00 per bushel, the value of all he produced amounting to $150.00, from which he deducted $16.71 expenses for producing, leaving a profit of $133.29. This, with the profit from his pigs, make a total of $255.29. Hubert has a bank account. He made out his club record books as all good club members do, and in this shows that he is business-like about his work—a principle we are trying especially hard to instill into the young farmers. Hubert did this work and walked three miles to school where he earned promotion to the next higher grade. He will complete the work offered by that school this session and is now planning to go to the State Agricultural College next session—on his own money.

SIXTEEN PLANES TO DO HAIR-RAISING STUNTS IN NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, April 3.—Sixteen airplanes have left Kelly Fields, San Antonio, Texas, in what is the first lap of a flight that will bring them through Louisiana on about April 8 or 9. This squadron of flyers is personneled by some of the best in the service and numbers among its members Major Edgar A. Tobin, who has six German airplanes to his credit. The circus is lead by Major George E. Stratemayer, organizer of the Air Service Mechanics School at Kelly Field which is conceded to be one of the best and largest in the world.

This flying circus, known as the Middle West Victory Loan Flying Circus, will come to New Orleans from Ellington Field, Houston, Texas, probably stopping at Gerstner Field, Lake Charles, and will go from here to Jackson, Miss. The route to Jackson will be above the Mississippi river.

April 10 the group of flyers will give exhibition flights at New Orleans. They will show Louisianians what is meant by the nose-dive, tail-spin, loop, zoom, side-slip and Immelmann. It is thought probable that a sham battle will be staged.

The tentative itinerary of the Kelly Field flying squadron will include Houston, New Orleans, Jackson, Memphis, Little Rock, St. Louis, Peoria, Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Sioux City, Omaha, Des Moines, Kansas City, Wichita, Muskogee, Oklahoma and Dallas. Exhibitions for the purpose of stimulating interest in the coming Victory Loan drive will be given in each city.

ITEMS FROM THE SHIPYARD.

I certainly feel sorry for the poor naked savage women. They wear no clothes of any kind. I wonder what the poor things have to talk about.

Faller says the reason he puts molasses on his green peas is not because he like it, but because it keeps them from falling off his knife.

Who is the young man that worked in the shipyard office that is anxious to learn how to converse with young girls?

We think the name Earl is so Noble.

The other morning at the breakfast table Louis said the eggs reminded him of "The Lays of Ancient Rome."

Several of the workmen in the yard tried to play a joke on an Italian who was doing some digging. They painted a monkey's face on his coat, which was hanging on a nail near by. When the Dago was about to put on his coat he turned to the crowd and said: "Which one of you wiped youa face on my coat?"

We think Cupid must have shot Noble with a machine gun—he's got about five or six girls now—so he says.

Who is the shipyard hero that went to see a young lady last week and her little brother came into the room and asked him how much he weighed? After telling the little fellow the boy asked, "Do you think sister could lift you?" "Oh, my goodness, no," said the blushing hero, "but why do you ask?" The boy replied, "Because I heard her tell ma today that she was going to throw you over as soon as Jack came back from the Navy."

Morgan explains the fact that his present watch has a silver case instead of a gold one like the one he used to have. Circumstances alter cases.

The Army doctors say the reason so many men are round shouldered is because the women wear such short skirts.

Pons says it is a good thing for women that their cheeks don't come under the Pure Food Law. If so, a good many would have to mark them "artificially colored."

A little boy standing in front of the Ideal Drug Store was swearing to beat the band when an old man came up and said "what would your mother say if she heard you swearing?" "She would be tickled to death if she could hear it," answered the boy. "She's stone deaf."

Valdin was sick the other night so we called in a doctor and he put a thermometer in Valdin's mouth and told him to keep his mouth shut for a few minutes. Now every one wants to know if the doctor will sell them his thermometer.

Last Tuesday night Calceas got out his violin and started to play "William Tell (Tell)," any way, the man across the street, after hearing it thought the first word was right.

One of the boys working in the shipyard office who is thinking about married life went to a real estate man to have him show some houses. The would-be benedict said he preferred a flat. Well sir, answered the real estate agent, as for myself, I think a flat is so much like a prison; but then it all depends on what you are accustomed to.

If they keep on turning the clocks forward first thing we know 12-morrow will be to-night.

Ever since Baxter had the load removed from his mind he seems to have cut loose. Last Saturday night he proved that he was some candy kid. When it comes to vamping the

A desert is a place where nothing will grow. Why is Samson's head like a desert?

A Madisonville pastor complimented a younger member of his congregation by saying, "I noticed you kept very quiet and still last Sunday." "Yes sir," answered the little fellow, "I was afraid to wake papa."

Mose Chatellier says he has a wonderful invention. He is going to make an aeroplane out of paper. We suppose he will use fly paper.

Last Sunday the City Marshal arrested a man for riding in a Ford. The man was charged with rushing the can on Sunday.

Joe: Who is the woman you just tipped your hat to?

Pons: That woman? Why, my dear fellow, I owe a great deal to that woman.

Joe: Oh, I understand, she is your mother.

Pons: Of course not, she used to be my landlady.

Well, well, what do you think of this? We have just learned, from a reliable source, that Godfred is now taking daily exercise in order to increase the size of his limbs.

Boots is the most most religious man I know. He even walks on his heels in order to save his sole.

Everybody thought Samson would take advantage of April 1st and fool his boarders by giving them a good meal, but he doesn't believe in that kind of jokes.

When Valden goes on a boat ride he seems to think it is some kind of a free lunch affair. Of course we are speaking of the way he stuffed his pockets with cake and fudge.
