CHARTER OF THE FREDERICK-BLANCHARD LUMBER CO., INC.

United States of America, State of Louisiana, Parish of St. Tammany.

Be it known and remembered, that on this 13th day of October, A. D. 1919, before me, Lewis Loving Morgan, a notary public duly commissioned and qualified in and for the parish and state aforesaid, personally came and appeared the persons whose names are hereunto subscribed, all of full age, who declare unto me, notary, in the presence of the undersigned competent witnesses, that, availing themselves of the provisions of the laws of the State of Louisiana relative to corporations, they have covenanted and agreed, and do by these presents covenant and agree, and bind themselves, as well as such other persons as may hereafter become associated with them, to form and constitute a body politic in law for the purpose and objects and under the stipulations and conditions hereinafter set forth, to-wit:

ARTICLE I.

The name and title of this corporation shall be

and its domicile is hereby established at Madisonville, in the parish of St. Tammany, State of Louisiana. Undersigned said corporate name this corporation shall have power and authority to contract, sue and be sued; to make and use a corporate seal, and the same to break and alter at pleasure; to hold, receive, have purchase, improve, alienate, convey, sell, borrow, pledge, mortgage and hypothecate, in its said corporate name, property, real, personal and mixed; to name and appoint such officers, directors, agents, managers, foremen and such other employees as the interests or conveniences of the said corporation may require; to make and establish by-laws, rules and regulations for the proper management and regulation of its affairs, as may be deemed necessary and proper, and the same to change or alter at pleasure; and to do all other while annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held at the office of the company in Madisonville, La., of which meeting notice shall be given by at least fifteen (15) days continuous publication immediately preceding such election in the official journal for the Parish of St. Tammany, La., or by at least ten (10) days written notice to each stockholder. The first election hereunder shall be held on the first Tuesday of November, 1919, until which time the following persons shall be and constitute the board of directors of this company, to-wit: E. J. Frederick, P. A. Blanchard and M. P. Planche. Any vacancy occurring in the board of directors during its term of office shall be filled by election by the remaining members of the board. Two (2) members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business and their decisions shall be valid corporate acts. At each annual meeting of the board of directors held on the first Tuesday of November, 1919, and annually thereafter, the said board shall elect from among its members a president, a vice-president, a secretary and treasurer, and such other officers as may be necessary, and the said officers shall hold office for one year, or until their successors are elected. Until the first election the following are declared to be the officers of this corporation, to-wit: E. J. Frederick, president; M. P. Planche, vice-president, and P. A. Blanchard, secretary-treasurer.

During the absence of the president the vice-president shall act and preside. At every election and meeting each stockholder shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock registered in his name, and may vote by proxy. The election of directors shall be by ballot, and a majority in amount of votes cast, each share of stock voted upon to be counted for one vote, shall elect the person or persons for whom they have been cast.

ARTICLE V.

It shall be lawful for the stockholders of this corporation, at a general meeting convened for that purpose, to make any modifications, additions or changes in this act of incorporation, or to dissolve it with the assent of three-fourths of the stock represented at such meetings. Notice of such meeting shall be given as prescribed in Article IV hereof for the election of directors.

ARTICLE VI.

No stockholder of this corporation shall ever be held liable or responsible for the contracts or faults thereof in any further sum than the unpaid balance due the company on the shares of stock subscribed for or owned by him, nor shall any informality in organization have the effect of rendering this charter null, or of exposing a stockholder to any liability beyond the unpaid balance, if any, of his stock.

ARTICLE VII.

In case of dissolution or termination of this corporation, whether by limitation of its charter or from any other cause, the liquidation of its affairs shall be conducted by three (3) liquidators selected from the stockholders of the company by a majority of the votes cast at a meeting called for that purpose after notice shall have been given as provided in Article IV hereof for the election of directors. Said liquidators shall remain in office until the affairs of the said corporation have been fully liquidated. In case of the death of one or more of said liquidators, the survivor or survivors shall continue to act.

This done and passed at my notarial office in the town of Covington, La., on the 13th day of October, 1919, in the presence of Bonnie B. Moses and Guy A. Smith, two competent witnesses, who herewith sign their names, together with said parties, and the Notary, after reading of the whole.

E. J. Frederick, Covington, La., 100 shares.

M. P. Planche, Covington, La., 25 shares.

P. A. Blanchard, Madisonville, La., 125 shares.

Witnesses:
BONNIE B. MOSES.
GUY A. SMITH.

LEWIS L. MORGAN,
Notary Public.

I hereby certify that this instrument was filed for record October 23, 1919, at 9:30 a. m. Recorded Oct. 24, 1919, in Charter Book No. 1, page 189, of the official records.

CRIPPLED SCHOOL CHILD SAVED BY RED CROSS SECRETARY.

A strange lady stopped a group of children who were on their way to the country school. She had noticed them dragging a young boy along the rough road.

"You mustn't do that," she told them. "Why don't you let your little playmate walk?"

One of the boy's bright-eyed little captors spoke up:

"Aw, lady, can't ya see Willie's a cripple? He can't walk."

The lady did see, now. And she accompanied the children home. It was a home of poverty, of wretched squalor. The mother of the crippled boy informed the visitor she had no money to buy crutches for her son, who was a victim of infantile paralysis.

That was three weeks ago. Today the boy is walking again, feebly and uncertainly, but successfully. The strange lady was a Red Cross Home Service secretary, and she sent the boy from the town in Mississippi, where she found him, to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Memphis, where a successful operation was performed.

The Peace Program of the Red Cross provides for the continuation of such activities as this. The local Red Cross organization will conduct a drive, November 2 to 11, for the purpose of extending Red Cross service in this community.

WHERE WILL IT LEAD TO.

(By Ruth Fletcher.)

We are having the wettest time I have seen in many years, which puts all late crops in bad condition, and prevents the growing of later crops. There is scarcely a vegetable left except beans and sweet potatoes. Since help is so scarce, and all our young people so on the rampage, it is impossible to leave what feed is left, and it is said that our stock will have a hard time if hay sells like it did this spring, at $3.00 per hundred, and very scarce at that. Corn is selling around $3.00 per bushel and will go to $4.00 by gathering time, if it doesn't go over that. I cannot understand why any one cannot see that the prices that are being put on labor and food is ruining the world, and not really benefiting anybody. Folks pretend that labor had to go up because food was so high, and by this means half of the world is being ground between the upper and nether mill-stone.

The common farm laborer cannot get as much for a day's work now as he could get when he worked for 75c a day, though he is paid $3.00 and board, and if he asks for pay enough to buy what he could get for 75c in the past, straightway food takes another jump skyward.

Now, there are so many old people who are living on money they saved up for their old age, and even with the greatest, so-called economy it will be gone in a short time, and then how are they to support themselves? It is the plainest thing in the world that if labor and food was just as it was ten years ago, every body would be better off. The unpleasant thing about it is that the working class will never be satisfied with low wages again. They know full well they have no more of the necessities of life than they did when they worked for less than one-fourth of what they are getting now. We have so many poor women doing housework for their neighbors, and their employers raise their wages perhaps double what they had been paying, and think it an awful imposition, when one would starve to death on it unless our food sharks come down on their necessities.

When we paid an able bodied woman 25c for a day's work she could buy with it four pounds of bacon or twelve pounds of flour or a peck of meal or two jars of nice green goods. Now four quarters will only pay for less than three pounds of bacon and a peck of meal costs anywhere from a dollar up. Common eight or ten cent gingham is forty cents per yard, and every bit of the trouble came from putting up cotton and tobacco and a few other things when the war commenced. When the war closed some "cranks" went wild about what we would do with the soldiers when they returned, as if the same place they left didn't need them all, when their parents have perhaps shortened their lives with hard labor, and they need their sons a wheel lot worse than Uncle Sam did to help them solve the problem of living. There is another problem that confronts us that is a close second to the war. Many of you have doubtless come up against it in the last few years. I think I can say that twenty-five per cent of the citizens of this nation are too lazy to eat if they could be fed by proxy. A man was looking for a farm to rent for another year, recently. He said he had a good place but he had some boys, twelve from twelve to twenty years of age, and they could not understand why they had to work, when there was not another boy in the community that had any work to do except amuse themselves. Now my parents had large possessions, yet I was trained to believe that it was just as much stealing to eat and wear clothes without working for them as it was to hold a man up with a rifle and take his money. Somebody must toil for everything we use and enjoy and when Divine Wisdom said "Six days shall thou labor," He meant every one that is physically able, regardless of how much money they may have. A lady traveling salesman said recently, "Oh, yes, we know that is true, but no one thinks of those old times now." If this is true, why do we wonder that the world is going to destruction as fast as a loaded train going down grade with all brakes off.

"My friends, it will not do to cry 'peace and safety,' when sudden destruction may come on us at any moment. We know that being that has horns and cloven feet is saying, 'Fush, fush, don't mention that until I can get my shackles a little more closely wrapped around them.' Our guide book says, 'What doth the Lord require of thee but that thou do justly and love and mercy and walk humbly with thy God.'"

RED CROSS NEEDED.

Gives More Aid than Ever to Service Men's Families.

More than double the amount of money normally spent per month for the relief of families of service men was spent during the month of August by the Gulf Division of the American Red Cross, according to a statement made Saturday by Harry L. Hopkins, director of Civilian Relief. Up to August, 1919, a total of $114,624.76 had been spent for this work in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi. During August $12,264.25 was spent for the same purpose in these states.

"This makes a total," said Mr. Hopkins, "of $126,889.10 expended for the relief of families of soldiers in the Gulf Division, of which sum $10,000 was spent during the month of August. The reason for this is primarily the fact that most able-bodied soldiers are discharged by this time and are fully able to take care of their families themselves. Those who remain are to a large degree those who are still in the hospitals and who can do nothing for the persons dependent upon them.

A very significant feature of this report is the spirit in which it is given, which emphasizes the need for the continuation of the Red Cross work even in times of peace. Obviously, if we are spending more for the relief of soldiers' families in August—nearly a year after the ending of the war—than we were during the war itself, our work is far from finished.

"Incidentally, this Home Service work is only one branch of the tremendous Peace Time program which the Red Cross has mapped out for itself. The other departments are fully as important to the welfare of every community in the Gulf States. It is for this reason that the Red Cross is holding a third annual roll call this year, November 2 to 11.

"By the way, it may interest your readers to know that the Gulf Division, which includes Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi, is the only division in the entire country in which a Home Service has been established for every single chapter. There are 1,271 Home Service workers in the division, and they gave aid and information to 15,492 families during August of this year, which makes the total of families these workers have helped up to date, 155,100.

"Of the $12,264.25 distributed during August in extending relief to the families of soldiers and sailors in this division, $4,110.92 was distributed in Alabama, $5,684.58 in Louisiana, and $2,468.75 in Mississippi.
