A MESSAGE TO THE FARMERS ST. TAMMANY PARISH

After an Absence of Two Years Mr. Bachemin Returns to St. Tammany.

STARTS WORK AS
PARISH AGENT

Asks Co-operation of Farmers and Promises Work
That Will Aid Them

After an absence of practically two years, spent as Assistant Parish Agent of Webster Parish, I take pleasure in announcing to the farmers and the people of St. Tammany parish that I have been appointed Parish Agent of your parish and began work here February 16th.

I am in this line of work because I am fond of it, and I am grateful to be back in this parish because I have the interest of its people and their undertakings at heart, and feel that the success and prosperity of the banks, merchants and other professional men of the parish depend largely upon the earnings of the farmers, while on the other hand, I realize that the growth and expansion of the towns of our parish mean a greater co-operation, a chain of good roads, better rural conditions, better schools, churches and all other modern facilities at every farmer's door, giving the farmers all advantages his city brother enjoys and making the farm a place really worth living on.

These, and many other objects along the lines of production of crops best adapted to our soils; the fighting and eradicating of dangerous diseases among livestock; the substituting of pure bred stock in place of the scrub; the eliminating of scrub sires on the open range; better flocks replacing the mongrel; a dairy cow on every farm; a systematic rotation of crops along diversified lines; the constant keeping up of soil fertility; and last, but not least, the educating of every farm boy and girl to the fact that the farm is really a fit and profitable place for one to live. All of the various items mentioned above, along with hundreds of others, consists of the Parish Agent's work, and the working of all of these many phases between the farmers and the Parish Agent spell the word "co-operation," which is the backbone of success in this line of work, and the paramount issue to show that the farmer needs the Parish Agent and the Agent needs the farmer.

A Parish Agent, or Farm Demonstration Agent (the mistake is often made), is not one who knows every word to the exact definition of the vast field covered by the term "agriculture," but is placed as a leader in a county or parish to be the agent representing the farmers as a body, looking after their interests at all times, and knows a little about everything pertaining to the farm. It is his duty to locate the fault or get in immediate communication with a specialist who will aid the Parish Agent in threshing out such problems, saving the farmers time and inconveniences of studying such problems themselves, and again, many agents, through our method of visiting and looking over one farm, have saved thousands of dollars to other farmers by keeping them from following the principles we found to be unsuited to the first individual.

Our parish had wonderful forests years ago, but these timbered lands are gradually disappearing. Shall we allow our eye to look on such cut-over lands and vast barren regions, or will we co-operate and convert these lands into productive fields and luxuriant pastures? I shall answer the question for you. You are progressive, hence you will co-operate and through this co-operation the people of the North and East will learn of our opportunities and they soon will realize our advantages and will colonize our lands. We can grow rice, cane, corn, potatoes and livestock in some or all sections of our parish, and with the aid of limestone, stable and commercial fertilizers and legumes our soils can be built up to be as productive as any of the pine lands of the state, these facts along with the assurance that any farm product produced can always find a market upon their quality is the foundation for a greater center.

I shall occupy the Parish Agent office in the courthouse building in Covington, where I intend to keep a complete bureau of agricultural information, and will most likely be found in that office every Saturday. I also expect to have a set date in each week to meet the farmers of the southern part of the parish and shall announce my office day and place in Slidell within the next few days. My object is to meet every farmer in the parish and help all I can. My success depends upon the co-operation you give me.

PELIX BACHEMIN, JR.,
Parish Agent.

Dr. Gelbke, who has done some wonderful work in the interest of reform in Jefferson Parish, is spending some time in Claiborne, taking a rest-up. He will find himself in sympathetic company in St. Tammany parish.

CURB MARKET IS OPENED FOR BUSINESS TO-DAY

One of the Few Markets of This Kind in the State a Success.

IT IS PUT OVER
BY THE W. P. U.

Believed the Results of the Coming Year Will Be Still Better.

"Nothing succeeds like success." A truism, certainly, but a very comforting thought when one can quote it with the satisfaction of knowing that it applies to a successful endeavor in fields that have proven barren stretches of fruitfulness for others. The curb market has had a fascinating attraction for many towns, but has been successful in few. Covington is one of the few. Its success is due to the efforts of the Women's Progressive Union of Covington. Fighting against big odds, working to make both merchant and farmer realize the importance and benefit of co-operation, pacifying, explaining and demonstrating, these women have finally proven that the curb market is a good thing, at least to the satisfaction of the farmer.

It is expected to further demonstrate this fact the coming season, by scoring a still greater success. Regarding this, Mrs. Anna M. Smith writes The Farmer as follows:

The third season of the Covington curb market begins to-day on the grounds occupied during the past two seasons, near the fire engine house. It is to be hoped that the co-operation between the farmers and the housewives will continue as heretofore, and that this season will also come to a victorious close, as have the two preceding ones. Owing to the early opening and the inclement weather up to the present time the supply of produce will necessarily be scant for a while, but with the full fruition of all the gardens now in the making the housewives' baskets will be well satisfied. However, at the present prices are offered in quantities for forty cents a dozen, and some dairy products will also be on hand.

NEWS FROM THE GOOD ROADS COMMISSION

The contractors on the Covington-Talshack road moved on to the job last week and are now getting their work lined up. The work of grading and shaping the road between Covington and Abita Springs has been started and it is expected that a good force will be on this road in a short time.

The contractors on the Turnpike Road have met with the heavy rains each week for some time and have had trouble in getting and retaining sufficient labor to get the best results in their work. The progress has been slow on this road.

The Commission is advertising in this issue of The Farmer for bids on the Madisonville-Ponchartraine road for shell surfacing, which will be let in a short time, and they plan to take up grading on several other roads in the near future.

100 BOYS TO TOUR NORTH AND WEST TO INSPECT COLLEGES.

Baton Rouge, Feb. 25.—One hundred boys are to be selected as representatives of our State on the tour of northern and western colleges under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture. This is the very best argument that could be made in favor of a Greater Agricultural College for Louisiana. If the business and professional men of the state consider it a good investment to pay the expenses of 100 boys to simply visit great agricultural colleges so that they may get a broader vision of their possibilities for future development, how much more important it is that we have a Greater Agricultural College where a thousand may take the prescribed training instead of a hundred making a brief visit. Mr. Harris, our State Superintendent of Education, very wisely states that this trip will be worth millions of dollars to Louisiana. This is undeniably true. How much then will a Greater Agricultural College, where many hundreds will receive scientific agricultural training be worth to the state? Purely as a financial proposition it is very attractive and not in any sense a speculation.

Twenty years ago Nebraska voted a one mill tax for her agricultural college. The returns have been so marvelous that they are now paying 2 1/2 mills tax for this purpose and intend to increase this amount next year. Thirty years ago Connecticut appropriated $93,000 for her agricultural college; from 1811 to 1920 they appropriated $1,850,519 for this purpose of twenty times as much.

It may be that your boy will be one of the fortunate youngsters to enjoy this splendid trip; it may be that he is anxious to go but will not have the opportunity. All can not see the great colleges of other states so let us build a Greater Agricultural College at home—build it so great that it will stand out as one of the biggest agricultural features of the state. Let everyone get behind it and offer our boys as much as they are offered by other states. No better investment could be made than the passage of a 1-2 mill tax for ten years as an investment for our future citizens.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following this week: Feb. 24, to Victor Davis, Waldheim, and Miss Ellen Bush, Bush, La.; Feb. 27, Louis Reviere, Waldheim, and Miss Elsie Sharp, Bush, La.

TO KILL DANGER THREATENING THE SWEET POTATO

Secretary of Association of Commerce, Mr. Treen,
Tells How To Do It.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM
U. S. GOVERNMENT

Enormous Loss From Decay
In Storage During the Winter Months.

In view of the importance of the sweet potato crop for St. Tammany, the ease and likelihood of introducing and increasing disease and insects which would seriously affect the crop, and the certain means of prevention which are of little trouble, the Agricultural Bureau of the Association of Commerce desires that The Farmer publish the following circular from the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry. Either chemical recommended can be found in the drug stores in Covington.

Spring Measures for Sweet Potato Disease Control.

The losses of sweet potatoes from disease and decay in storage during this winter have been enormous, particularly in the South. In many sections the supply of sound stock is insufficient to plant the next crop, and the use of diseased sweet potatoes for bedding will involve danger of further losses next year. Sweet potato growers should therefore begin early to combat the diseases responsible for the destruction of so much of their crop, not only for their own financial good but for the welfare of the nation. Careful attention given to sanitation in the bedding of potatoes will accomplish this end. The sanitation measures which may be most effectively used are (1) the careful selection and disinfection of the sweet potatoes, (2) care in preparation of the hot bed, and (3) crop rotation.

Seed Selection and Disinfection.
Before the potatoes are bedded they should be carefully picked over and any with black rot spots and all badly wounded potatoes thrown out. The sound, healthy potatoes should then be disinfected by immersing for ten minutes in a solution made by dissolving one ounce of mercuric chloride crystals in eight gallons of water. (Continued on page 6)

The Lacroix Store

Mr. Paul J. Lacroix opened his new business in ladies' furnishings last week. In entering this business exclusively Mr. Lacroix feels that he can render a service that will be very much appreciated in Covington. He has had long years of experience in the needs of Covington in this direction and he has engaged the services of Miss Lilla Johnston whose taste in feminine apparel makes her judgment valuable to patrons.

While his stock is yet incomplete, due to unavoidable delay in shipment of goods, he expects soon to be able to meet the demands of Covington in this trade and to satisfy a need that has been long felt.

Mr. Lacroix has many friends who are glad to see him in business again on his own account and who wish him success. He is situated on Columbia street.

WORK ON DEPOT MAY BE BEGUN VERY SOON IS REPORT

If Railroads Go Into Hands of Private Owners
March First.

POITEVENTS GIVE
LAND FOR SITE

N. O. G. N. Will Not Ask
For Ninety Days Given
By the Commission.

Fred J. Heintz, as a committee of the Association of Commerce, has done some excellent work in the matter of getting the N. O. G. N. to build a new depot for Covington. Before the war he took the matter to the Railroad Commission and secured a ruling ordering the building of the depot, but the taking over of the railroads by the Government cut off further effort in this direction. But in the meantime Mr. Heintz had taken up the matter of securing a site for the depot and the N. O. G. N. had accepted it as satisfactory. This land was the property of the Poitevents, but they agreed to donate a part of the purchase price, viewing the matter in the generous spirit they have always exhibited in any undertaking that had community value.

With the understanding that the roads would go back to private ownership March 1st, Mr. Heintz consulted with officials of the N. O. G. N. and received the very gratifying information that the Company would not avail itself of the ninety days time granted by the Commission but would start building just as soon as the road came into their hands. Mr. Heintz then got busy and saw the Poitevents again. He had raised about $450.00 to be paid on the site, but when he jokingly told Mr. Poitevent that he would not pay anything but expected them to donate all the land for the depot and found that the Poitevents were perfectly willing to do so, he formed the idea of getting further donations to add to the funds in hand to make it reach about $800.00, and to place this sum to the credit of the Bogue Falaya Park fund for rebuilding the pavilion.

This is an excellent idea. The cause is such a worthy one that no one should hesitate to contribute, especially since the Poitevents have been so generous in their very liberal contributions.

Mr. Heintz is to be congratulated for the excellent work he has done in this matter.

ENLISTMENTS IN THE AIR SERVICE.

The Air Service was filled to its maximum the end of the year. Since then two hundred vacancies have been created due to the appointment of that number of enlisted men as flying cadets. It is expected that several hundred additional vacancies will occur during the year. In view of the fact that there is such a small number of vacancies the Air Service is establishing a waiting list of applicants who desire to join the Air Service. Any man who desires to join should submit a letter to the Department Air Service Officer, Southeastern Department, Charleston, S. C. The letter should show the applicant's full name, age, birthplace, occupation and education. All applications will be forwarded to the Director of Air Service for final action.

The cadets referred to above are now pursuing the regular pilots or flying course. Upon satisfactory completion of this course, when they have become actual flyers, they will be given a commission as Second Lieutenant in the Officers Reserve Corps and may be, at their own option, discharged from the service or returned to their previous enlisted grade.

The Air Service makes no promise regarding a man's future. His future depends almost entirely upon himself.

A liberal reward is offered for the return of the Ford automobile taken from the garage of Rev. Father John Burger on Wednesday night.

CALL FOR CONFERENCE.

The appearance of the Mexican Pink Boll Worm in Cameron parish, Louisiana, and its great menace to the planters prompts the inauguration of immediate steps to circumscribe the operations of the pest, and eliminate it from the Louisiana cotton fields.

Mr. Percy Crawford made a flying trip to Covington last Saturday.

Mr. Dolph Talley visited his home folk at Bush last Sunday.

Mr. Willard Rayburn was the guest of friends here Sunday.

Quite a crowd of young people spent Sunday afternoon very pleasantly at the home of Miss Sabria Talley.
