IT PAYS TO READ THE ADS.

"I wish this old paper wouldn't print so many advertisements," said Mary as she sat on the porch with the Record in her hands. "Here's whole pages with hardly a word of reading on them."

"Why, I get a lot of news from the advertisements," said her mother, who had been waiting patiently until Mary got through with the paper. "We learn a lot about the folks we know from the ads in the classified column, and I find out a good many interesting things in 'lost and found' and 'help wanted.' Then I've learned a good many devices that have helped me in the house work; and father has found new things to better the results of his farming. Many of the new implements are first announced through the ads. I think I couldn't keep abreast of what is going on if I didn't know what was being advertised."

"Besides," spoke up father, who had come to know the publisher of the paper, "the editor tells me that the advertisements are what pays for the paper, and that he couldn't run it from the subscription money alone. Of course, he wants all the subscribers he can get. But when Aunt Emily Lucas stops her subscription because the new size of the paper doesn't fit her pantry shelves, she would not be surprised that the editor doesn't go out of business. "You see, it takes all classes to make a paper—publishers, readers, and advertisers. It comes pretty near being a co-operative enterprise with the publisher as the manager of the job for all of us."

DANIEL C. WALLIS.

DIED—Daniel C. Wallis, at his home in Folsom, La., on March 28, 1920, after an illness of several months. Mr. Wallis was born Aug. 15, 1868. He was well and favorably known throughout St. Tammany, Washington and Tangipahoa parishes where in his younger days he had taught in the public schools, a profession he followed for years, and was considered among the foremost teachers of this section. He was educated in the leading schools of East Louisiana. About twenty years ago he married Miss Lizzie Abney, of Abita Springs, who preceded him to the grave about five years ago.

Mr. Wallis had been afflicted from boyhood, but despite his affliction he was a very active man. He held a number of positions of trust and honor. Few men, indeed, are so highly favored with the many fine and noble qualities that he possessed.

BURNS FURNITURE CO.

Be it said to his honor that few indeed have displayed the love and devotion that he manifested toward his dear old mother, who survives him.

He leaves a son, Dewey Wallis, one brother, Wm. T. Wallis, a large number of relatives and many friends throughout this section who mourn the loss of such a noble man. The passing of such a character should remind us all of the old maxim, "Man needs but little here below, nor needs that little long. Doubtless it can be said of him, according to Holy Writ, Acts 2:26."

Funeral services were held at the family cemetery in Washington parish, Rev. Jno. R. Passman officiating. The pallbearers were T. C. McLain, N. E. Core, J. Y. Mapes, Thos. Rainey, H. L. Bateman and J. E. Blackwell.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Beautiful—Get a Small Bottle of Danderrae.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderrae.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots furnish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderrae from any drug store and just try it.—Adv.

THE ONE CHEAP COMMODITY LEFT

The rate of interest in St. Tammany Parish is the only thing in America that we can recall that has not advanced in recent years. In the North, the East, and even all over the South, interest rates have been raised, along with other things, but the same old rate is being charged by our bank to our customers. We are much pleased that we can survive and make a profit without increasing the rate of interest on money loaned to our friends, and we trust that our friends appreciate this fact also.
