NOT A ONE-MAN JOB.

An ideal executive efficiency might be obtained with unlimited authority vested in one man. It is a beautiful theory, clothed in vestments schilling with the emblems of justice, knowledge, experience and integrity...

Louisiana has just adopted a new Constitution. Those who were members of the convention know the complexities and perplexities of writing laws that uphold the sense of democratic government.

A commission of three is not cumbersome. Overlapping terms will reduce political influences and the commission would be much more representative of the varied interests of the state than would the autocratic judgment of one man.

THE KU KLUX KLAN.

The New York World has entered a campaign against the newly organized Ku Klux Klan and the matter has been taken up by other papers, including those of New Orleans.

To be 100 per cent American and to stand by the Constitution will bear the light of day any where and any time. It is the most appealing thing that can be suggested to the average American.

When half the Union was subdued by force of arms, circumstances might have justified the adoption of means that would not have been countenanced otherwise, but such a condition does not exist now.

Realizing the injustice and injury that may result from such an organization, representatives at Baton Rouge are preparing a bill making it a crime with a severe penalty and jail sentence to wear a mask in public.
