MRS. JULES PECHON.

On Wednesday, October 5, 1921, at 9:45 o'clock, Mrs. Jules Pechon, sister of Victor Planche, of Covington, passed away at her home in New Orleans.

Mrs. Pechon, who was before her marriage Victoria Planche, was born in New Orleans, and would have been 68 years old on the 31st of this month. At the age of five years she was brought to Covington by her parents for her health. When quite a young lady she married Jules Pechon, at that time the leading merchant of Covington. After the death of her husband several years ago, Mrs. Pechon has lived with her son, Jules, in New Orleans. Besides her son she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Idele Zithvogel, Mrs. E. Everett of New Orleans, ten grand children and three great grand children, also one sister, Mrs. Pauline de Lapouada, of New Orleans, and two brothers, Auguste Planche, of Bogalusa, and Victor Planche, of Covington.

Mrs. Pechon was a dear, sweet woman, loved by all who knew her. Her busy hands were always ready to help the needy and the ill. Funeral services were conducted from St. Rbe de Lima Church and interment was made in St. Louis Cemetery in Esplanade Street. "Some day" we say and turn eyes toward the fair hills of Paradise; Some day, some time, sweet new rest shall bloom flowers like in each breast. Some day, some time, our eyes shall see. Some day kept in memory; Some day their hand will clasp our hand, Just over in the Heavenly land. X X X

Everybody invited. The League also voted to purchase a large phonograph and records for the school, and the proceeds from the Halloween dance will go toward payment.

EXHIBITS AT THE STATE FAIR.

(Prepared by Harley L. Williams, leader in Poultry Husbandry.)
To Poultry Breeders:

As a breeder of standard bred fowl I am appealing directly to you in behalf of the Extension Poultry Department, the Louisiana Poultry Breeders Association of Louisiana and the Louisiana State Fair to enter an exhibit of poultry at the State Fair, Shreveport, October 27 to November 6, inclusive. Friend, let us get down to brass tacks and consider this exhibiting at Shreveport from a business standpoint. Every year there are hundreds of thousands of dollars sent to out-of-state breeders. How are these breeders able to secure this business in Louisiana? Principally by advertising and exhibiting at State Fairs and Poultry Shows. To keep this money at home and to boost our own poultry industry here in Louisiana we must let the buying public know that we have stock and eggs for sale. The Louisiana State Fair furnishes one of the best means of advertising available to Louisiana breeders. During the last twelve months our local Parish and Home Demonstration Agents have placed over $31,000 worth of pure bred poultry in their respective parishes. Is it necessary that I repeat the fact that Louisiana people are interested in standard bred fowl and are spending thousands of dollars annually for good stock? Quite a few breeders get the idea that if they cannot win a blue ribbon it doesn't pay to exhibit. This idea is wrong. The majority of people who attend fairs and look over the stock on display do not want to purchase prize winners. What they want is good pure-bred stock and it matters not whether they buy at that time or place an order later on in the season for either stock or hatching eggs, the chances are about one hundred to one that they are going to order from a breeder whose stock they saw at the fair which they attended. Think this matter over. Give it your serious consideration and if you are raising chickens for dollars and cents ask yourself this question, "Can I afford to keep my staff at home and let the other fellow get the business?"

I have been recently informed by Mr. Berry of the American Railway Express Company that Tariff No. 112 section 4 paragraph 2, of the Express Classification will be applied on all Louisiana poultry shipped to the Shreveport show and returned to original point of shipment. This rate is one and one-half times the first class rate going to the Shreveport show and shipment will be returned from the Shreveport show to the original shipper free of charge. This means quite a reduction in express rates for Louisiana shippers as compared with last year.

If you want to sell your stock this fall, hatching eggs this spring, and help boost the poultry industry in this state, pick out your best birds regardless as to whether they are prize winners or not and show them at the Shreveport show. I am doing everything humanly possible to improve the poultry industry in Louisiana. Will you cooperate with me in the form of an exhibit of standard bred fowl at Shreveport?

Miss Mary Gabriel has returned from New Orleans after two weeks spent there with relatives.

RED CROSS GIVES ANNUAL BUDGET

$19,361,657 Allotted for Current Program of Relief and Service.

MILLIONS FOR VETERAN AID

Medical Aid for European Children Will Cost $6,000,000 This Year.

Washington.—Expenditures totalling $19,361,657 for carrying through its program of relief and services in the United States and overseas are outlined in the budget of the American Red Cross for the current fiscal year. This total is more than $5,000,000 lower than the expenditure during the last fiscal year, when the disbursements reached $24,402,741. It is announced at National Headquarters in a statement calling attention to the necessity of continued support of the organization by response to the Annual Roll Call, November 11 to 24, if the vital work of the society is to be effectively carried on. Outstanding among the items of the domestic budget is the appropriation of $3,600,256 for work in behalf of the disabled ex-service man and his family. This appropriation represents the amount allotted to this work from National Headquarters only and does not take into consideration the millions being spent in chapters for relief of the World War veteran. It is in the chapter that the greater amount is spent in meeting this obligation of the Red Cross, the announcement continues, as manifested by figures of the fiscal year 1920-1921 when the total was approximately $9,000,000, of which $2,992,094 represented the disbursement of National Headquarters while the remainder was the chapters' contribution to this field of Red Cross service.

Yast Work for Disabled

Chief among the sub-divisions of the appropriation for work with veterans is that which concerns itself with assistance to disabled men and women in government hospitals. This item of $1,790,000, an increase of more than $500,000 over the appropriation for the same work in last year's budget, will provide those personal services for the disabled and their families which are indispensable to supplement those provided by the government. The director of the Veterans' Bureau has recently expressed his desire that the Red Cross should continue and extend these "humanizing services." Other items of the appropriation for veterans' relief are proportionately increased. An additional appropriation of $400,000 has been made for Red Cross work in connection with regular Army and Navy hospitals and with the regular Army and Navy.

For disaster relief, the Red Cross has set aside for the current twelve months an appropriation of $543,076, virtually doubling the appropriation for the same purpose for the fiscal year 1920-1921.

More than $2,000,000 is provided for service and assistance to the 8,800 Red Cross chapters by the national organization.

Helping Destitute Children

Other items of the domestic budget include $408,546 for miscellaneous activities, including contributions restricted for special purposes and $708,800 for management. Each of these items represents large reductions over similar appropriations of the previous year.

From a fund of $10,000,000, $5,000,000 of which was contributed through the European Relief Committee campaign and $5,000,000 allotted by the Red Cross for child welfare work in Europe, there remains $5,705,108 still available, of which it is estimated that $3,000,000 will be required for this work during the current year. For Red Cross participation in the joint effort to relieve famine conditions in Russia, for final work in the China famine, for Junior Red Cross and other overseas activities including the closing of the old general relief program in Europe $4,978,000 is made available.

In announcing the national budget, the Red Cross makes it clear that the figures do not include chapter expenditures or place any cash estimate on the invaluable service of volunteers in chapters.

IN MEMORY OF PRIVATE JOSEPH CLEMENTS MEYERS.

Blond, La., Oct. 4, 1921. In loving remembrance of our dear son, Private Joseph Clements Meyers, Co. C, 16th Infantry, 1st Division, A. E. F., son of Matilda Isabella Lange and Anton Meyers, who was killed in action October 3, 1918, near Exermont, France, while advancing with his company in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. He was standing along side of his corporal, Chas. Stanley, when he was killed by machine gun fire, and his corporal gave an excellent record of him, stating he was a soldier of excellent character, did excellent work in battle, was brave and fearless, always performed his duties cheerfully and was beloved by all his comrades. He participated in the following battles: Soissons, Chateau Thierry, Aisne, Marne, July 18 to 25; Saizerais Sector offensive, Aug. 7 to 24; St. Mihiel, Sept. 12 to 18, and Meuse Argonne offensive, Oct. 1 to 8, 1918. All the above statements were corroborated by two captains of the 16th Infantry, W. E. Seamon and James Wheelin. He was a native of New Orleans, and was born February 23, 1892, a birthday present to his brother, A. J. Meyers, of Kentwood, La., on his seventh anniversary. Prose Poem Dedicated to His Memory. God has called our dear son and baby brother, Joseph Clements, to his bright, blessed and eternal throne after heroically participating in many a hard fought drive, both in trenches and battlefields, and in No-man's-Land succumbed, a fallen brave, to machine-gun fire, near Exermont, France, October 3, 1918, on the battlefield, while his almost annihilated First Division were advancing on his fatal day's drive through the offensive, Meuse-Argonne. How sad, dear son and baby brother, it is to part with thee, to mourn thee in a noble hero's obscure, silent and lonely grave. Our loss thy gain; eternity the choicest gift God gave. His body arrived in Covington on the evening train, September 24th, 1921. His brothers, John F. A. J. and W. W. Meyers, were present at the depot to receive his dear remains. They were brought to the parlors of Schoen & Molloy, remaining until Sunday morning, when the American Legion proceeded to St. Peter's Catholic Church where an impressive funeral service was held. The American Legion then took charge of his remains and they were borne to the cemetery in a beautiful bronze casket draped with an American flag, and all relatives and friends were present to see him laid to rest in his last resting place. To all who were present at his funeral obsequies, to Father Burger for his sermons of consolation, both at the grave and church, to Schoen & Molloy for kind attention, the American Legion for kind services, the American Legionaries who sent their card of appreciation and sympathy from Atlanta, Ga.; the U. S. officials for the trouble they have taken in seeing that his body was sent safely to its destination, many thanks for the beautiful bronze-aluminum casket that enclosed his dear remains; many thanks to the firing squad and bugler for performing the last honors to their soldier comrade, also our Covington friend who placed a bouquet of flowers, and his friends who as-
