Ramsey Milholland

By Booth Tarkington

This charming tale is no less boy and girl than "Penrod," "Seventeen," and "The Ordeal." But it has a more serious significance in its revelation of great events, such as the World War, changing overnight, as it were, boys into men and girls into women — another illustration of the age-old dictum that men must fight and women must weep

The earlier scenes are of boys and girls in public school, where the plodding Ramsey Milholland learns to hate the traditional bright girl pupil — the teacher's pet.

The plot carries the same characters to the state university. We have a rollicking picture of boys and girls struggling with the rudiments of education and finally of youth getting the finishing touches at college. Up to this point it is mostly humor and care-free action.

Then comes the war, changing everything. The author carefully avoids the tragic and heart-rending. He implies a happy ending with an opportunity for the reader to fill in through imagination, the tragedy if he so desires. It is a delightful Tarkington story, typical of the author's best talent.

Sunday. After a powerful sermon by the Rev. Edward Corkern, Richard Laird and W. H. Booth were ordained deacons. The Rev. Corkern was assisted by Rev. D. A. Booth, of Onville, and Rev. Newt. Clark, of San Pedro, and Deacon David Passman, of Bonner Creek. A large and attentive congregation was present and enjoyed his services.

Emile Bruhl Celebrates 78th Birthday.
There was a large gathering of relatives at the home of Mr. Emile Bruhl, on Dogue Falaya, Sunday, to celebrate his 78th birthday. Mr. Bruhl married Louise Talley more than fifty years ago, and they have lived on this farm through all these eventful years. The marriage was blessed with fourteen children, ten of whom are now living and are counted among our most progressive citizens. There are fifty-six grand children and eighteen great grand children. Fifty-two of the relatives were present at the celebration. An elaborate dinner was served on a long table which groaned under an abundance of good food, the like of which can only be found on the farms of our prosperous farmers of Louisiana.

Local and Personal.
Henry McCormick, traveling engineer on the N. O. G. N., was in Folsom Monday.

Mrs. W. T. Wallis was a visitor to Covington Friday.

T. M. Seals, supervisor of the N. O. G. N., made a business trip to our town last Monday.
