The last of the series of parties given by the Junior King Club took place last Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kammer, Master Louis Brady and Miss Joey Kammer reigning and king and queen of the evening. A miniature carnival ball was carried out to the finest detail. King Brady, in his royal robes of white satin and silver trimmings, and Queen Joey wearing a becoming gown of blue silk with long train, were ably assisted by little Misses Mignonne and Audrey Heintz as maids and Masters Beverly and Robert Lobdell as dukes. Miss Mignonne Heintz wore a beautiful gown of lavender georgette with purple mantle, and Miss Audrey Heintz wore a creation of georgette with black satin mantle. The queen and her maids carried shower bouquets. Several tableaux were presented during the evening by the king and queen and their court and the guests, all of whom were becoming masquerade costumes. Master Michel Caruso, of New Orleans, was master of ceremonies. The king presented his queen with a bouquet of violets, yellow jonquils and ferns. The chaperones of the evening were Mrs. Chas. Kammer and Mrs. Louis Brady.

The Juvenile King Club met last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blossman, Master O. G. Heintz being king of the evening, having chosen as his queen Miss Clotilde Blossman. The club chose a masquerade ball as the feature of the evening. After a number of delightful games, punch and cake were served the guests. Now that lent is here and the carnival season at an end all of the king parties have disbanded.

Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Heintz entertained at a masquerade and fancy dress ball Tuesday night in honor of their daughters, Misses Mignonne, Audrey and Mona Heintz. The dance hall was beautifully decorated in the carnival colors and wisteria, and was resplendent with a myriad of tiny lights. Delightful games were enjoyed by all of the guests between the dances, delicious punch, cakes and candies being served in abundance throughout the evening.

A crowd of the younger set met Tuesday night at the Community House at a masquerade ball as a fitting close for the carnival season, a most enjoyable evening being spent by all those present.

The Matrons held their weekly card game Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. S. A. Fuhrmann, the first prize having been awarded Mrs. H. D. Bulloch, consolation Mrs. C. R. Schultz, guest prize Mrs. J. L. Gaskins. The club will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. H. K. Goodwyn.

The America Street Bridge Club met last Friday at the home of Miss Kate Eastman, the highest scores having been made by Mrs. E. G. Richard and Mrs. Perry Shaul. The club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. A. B. Morgan.

ed, the table being lovely with its decorations of maidenhair fern and carnal colors. A miniature windmill in carnival colors was given each guest. At the opening of the dance Miss Ruth Morgan dressed in Turkish costume, and Mr. Frederick Sheffield as a court jester, were queen and king. Later on the royal honor was conferred upon Miss Margaret Becker and Mr. William Rooder. Amidst the throwing of confetti there was music and mirth, beauty and youth, and joy unconfined, and thus dropped the curtain on the group of Merry Makers.
